Columbia Grafonola and Columbia Records

You Forget You Are In a Store

OUR way of demonstrating a Columbia Grafonola is first to make you feel at home. You can hear all the music you want. You can select any records you wish to hear and as many as you wish to hear, and we will play them for you or let you play them.
There is no "hands-off-the-instrument" atmosphere. Walk up to the Columbia Grafonola and get acquainted with its mechanism.

The better you know the Columbia Grafonola and the more you compare it with other phonographs, the more the Columbia Grafonola will attract you.
Sometimes it happens that a customer not quite ready to decide would like to hear the Columbia Grafonola in his home for a few days. That is entirely possible. You may have the instrument you like sent to your home on trial.

DO NOT HOLD SUGAR.

To prevent the hoarding of sugar by short-sighted or unpatriotic individuals, Acting Federal Food Administrator W. K. Newell has issued instructions to all the retail grocers of Oregon, restricting the sale of sugar as follows:
Sales to family consumers are limited to $1.00 lots, sales to be repeated only at reasonable intervals.
Farmers living at a distance from purchasing points will be permitted to purchase in 25-pound lots.
Hotels, restaurants and boarding houses are limited to a ten day's supply at one purchase.
Sugar shall not be used as a leader for special sales or to encourage the sale of other merchandise.
In exceptional cases, where purchasers live at great distances, special arrangements may be made for sales in sack lots, such sales to be reported with all details to the United States Food Administrator at Portland by the grocer making same. This exception to be made only in cases where repeated trips for additional sugar in the winter season would work a real hardship to the purchaser.
These restrictions will be in force until further notice.
Persons discovered hoarding sugar are subject to penalty for obstructing the administration of the Food Control Law, and the hoarded sugar is subject to confiscation.
"If the people will observe the regulations laid down," said Mr. Newell in a statement, "there will be plenty for all and the price will remain reasonable. These restrictions are necessary, and for the good of all; they are made so that the supply will be ample for all, and the price reasonable. Those who attempt to buy in excess of the restrictions are helping to create a shortage and to increase the price. Mr. Hoover and his staff have given the sugar situation careful thought. Let the public be guided by the Food Administration in regard to sugar and all other food problems. The Administration's first duty is to see that the people get a square deal."

Joseph T. Knappenberg was down from Parkers Mill over Sunday. He returned Monday, having his big auto laden with goods for the store at Parkers, of which he is now the proprietor, having recently taken over the business from Milt Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell has gone to Southern Oregon to reside.
