LOCAL RED CROSS WILL SEND CHRISTMAS CHEER TO SOLDIERS OVERSEAS

The Morrow County Chapter of the Red Cross will take its part in giving Christmas cheer to the men in khaki and the sailor blue who have gone overseas to battle for democracy.

This week the local chapter will send out 537 comfort kits as the result of work done in Heppner and various other parts of the county. Irrigation contributed 12 packets, Lone gave $200 and Lexington $50 toward the fund which was used in buying materials to fill the packets.

The report of the secretary shows that the Heppner committee raised $309, Mrs. Edwards $5.50, Mrs. Lowe of Cecil $21.25, Strawberry school $40.25, Mrs. Percy Hughes of the Lena committee $11.75.

The Red Cross bazaar held in the new First National Bank building resulted in adding $511.16 to the treasury of the local chapter. A gold watch, the gift of S. W. Spencer, and an automobile from Vaughn & Sons were auctioned off to the highest bidder, bringing good results to the Red Cross.

Walter Becket, Eight Mile farmer, was in the city Sunday to witness the football game between Heppner and Lone.

W. D. Newlon, north Lexington farmer and artesian well driller, paid Heppner a business visit the first of the week.

MEMBERSHIP MUST BE INCREASED 1,500

Editor, The Gazette-Times,
Heppner, Oregon.

I desire to say to the people of Morrow County that I have accepted the position of campaign manager in the coming Christmas Membership Drive of the American Red Cross with many misgivings as to my ability to perform this most important duty.

The membership in this county must be increased fifteen hundred in order for us to meet the other counties of the State and do our share in making up Oregon's quota.

That we may do our share in the great fight for God and humanity now involving the World, I earnestly ask the assistance, advice and cooperation of every citizen of the County, and do hereby appoint each man, woman and child in Morrow County a committee of one to solicit recruits for this great army founded to aid in the prevention and alleviation of human suffering.

Faithfully yours,
SAM E. VAN VACTOR.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS INITIATE AT PENDLETON

One of the most pleasant gatherings held in Pendleton this year was given Sunday, December 9th, by the Pendleton council, Knights of Columbus. A large number of local people were in attendance, including Francis A. McMenamin, chairman of the evening and John F. Kenny, who delivered an address at the banquet. Mr. Kenny's address won him many friends. A program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered at the banquet together with several speeches. Among the speakers were Bishop O'Reilly, Father Brown of Pendleton, W. L. Thompson, president of the Red Cross chapter at Pendleton; Clarence Bishop, chairman Umatilla Y. M. C. A., Leon Cohn, F. J. Lonergan, A. A. Smith, Pat Gallagher and Eugene Molitor.

A class of 35 candidates was initiated. A report read at the meeting showed the sum of over $1000 already collected for the Knights of Columbus war fund through the Pendleton council, part of which, the sum of $372, was raised by the Heppner Hibernian division. While no effort was made to collect from others than members of the K. of C. or their Catholic friends, the committee is pleased to report the following voluntary contributions from non-members of their order. W. P. Mahoney, $50; Percy Hughes, $10; S. W. Spencer, $10.

Patriotic Play For Christmas.

The Star theater will present a patriotic play for Christmas Eve. "The Slacker" is the big play Manager Sparks has booked for December 23 and 24. The story deals with a man who tried to escape war by hiding behind a woman's skirt. Marguerite Christy and Robert Wallace were engaged for two years, but he does not ask her to set a date for the wedding. War is declared. Because single males are to be called first, he now hides behind a woman's skirt and insists on an immediate marriage. Marguerite is intensely patriotic and does active work in recruiting. Her young men friends and relatives all enlist—except her husband. Finally she learns why he married her. She determines to make a man of him for the sake of the little life that is to come, and she succeeds. A passion of patriotism is born in Robert Wallace' heart and he gives himself unreservedly to the service of his country. Great heights of nobility, sacrifice and patriotic fervor are reached in this sublime photodrama.

D. C. Gurdane made a visit with relatives in Pendleton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Howard of Lone were visitors in Heppner Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cochran of Monument are spending the week in Heppner.

County Clerk J. A. Waters was called to Portland this week on official business.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Huston and Mrs. Clive Huston of Eight Mile were in Heppner Tuesday.

Mrs. John Patterson returned Monday from Portland, where she had been visiting for several days.

Dillard French, prominent Butter creek cattle man, was transacting business in Heppner Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Whetstone have returned to Heppner after spending the past three months on their Grant county ranch in Fox valley.

Berl Gurdane left Tuesday afternoon for Portland, where he goes to join the fighting force of Uncle Sam. He had not decided, before he left, just what branch of the service he would enter. S. P. Devin has taken a position in the store of Gurdane & Son.

Ralph Johnson, who recently closed up the City Meat Market here, is spending a few days in Heppner on business. He says Mrs. Johnson's health is not improved at this time. She will undergo an operation in Walla Walla soon.
