DR. J. G. TURNER

EYE SPECIALIST
Portland, Oregon.
Regular monthly visits to Heppner and Ione. Watch paper for dates.

Robert H. Young, travelling salesman for the National Biscuit Co., of Portland, is spending the holidays in this city at the home of his father, J. S. Young. Bob recently returned from the Mare Island training station, having received his discharge from the Marines on account of ill health. His health has greatly improved, although he says he is not entirely well yet.

Miss Beatrice Sperry of Ione was a Saturday evening visitor with friends in Heppner.

Amusements

Quaint Costumes of "The Girl Philippa" Charming on Dainty Star.

Dainty Anita Stewart is delightful in the French peasant costumes in the Robert W. Chambers story, "The Girl Philippa," which Vitagraph produced as a special eight-reel production under the direction of S. Rankin Drew. Miss Stewart is as charming in these simple little costumes as one might dream of being in the latest Parisian dance frock.

When she leaves her unpleasant home, she dons a short red woolen skirt with three wide black velvet bands about the bottom, while her waist is a sheer white lawn covered by a black velvet bodice laced in the War on War.

(From The Oregon Merchant's Magazine.)

Another county is heard from. War is declared. The Non-Partisan League is invading Oregon and Washington with a scheme for taking over all the banks, commission houses, mills, warehouses, stores, newspapers, insurance companies, and what else there may be of business other than may be carried on by the state.

It will be seen that the Non-Partisan League has a nice nom de plume. It is rigged to win a stand-in with all political parties, take in front by white cording.

Another frock is made with the high waistline, while the skirt is fashioned entirely from a series of eight small ruffles each edged with the narrow band of black velvet, while the waist is formed almost entirely by a wide shawl collar, also edged with the velvet. The combination of the black velvet and the yellow of the dress itself is very dainty and effective. Over this frock Miss Stewart throws a pale blue brocade cape in a number of scenes which is made with a two-tier effect above the waist.

Always a welcome figure to movie fans, this little star will appear on the screen in this remarkable vehicle at the Star Theater on Saturday December 29.

Charlie Chaplin Coming.

Charlie Chaplin, the peer of comedians in the movie realm, is coming to the Star theater Thursday and Friday of this week to delight and entertain in "The Vagabond." This clever comedy is said to be one of his best and nearly equals "A Night in the Show" which so delighted Heppner audiences a few months ago. Don't fail to give Charlie a royal welcome upon his return to our city.

Manager Sparks will give a treat to all the children of Heppner under twelve years of age by admitting them free of charge to the Charlie Chaplin performance on Friday afternoon.

It will require a small army of men to take the income tax returns of persons subject to the new law.

Collector of Internal Revenue, Milton A. Miller, today announced that fifteen officers will start from his headquarters on January 1st and on January 2nd every one of them will be on the job at the points in the respective counties as designated, to meet the people and help them make out their income tax returns. The officer assigned to this county is due to arrive here on Feb. 1st and to remain until Feb. 10th, both dates inclusive. He will have his office in the Court House at the county seat where he may be found every day of the dates stated.

"It will be well for every unmarried person whose net income for 1917 is $1000 or over, and every married person living with wife or husband whose net income for 1917 is $2000 or over, to call on the income tax man and learn whether or not they have any tax to pay." Collector Miller said today. "The person subject to tax who doesn't make return in the time prescribed is going to regret it. The Government will get after all income tax slackers."

"There's hardly a business man, merchant or professional man who won't have to make return of income. Farmers, as a class, will have to pay the tax. The safe thing to do is for every person who had a total income of $1000 or $2000, as the case may be, and who is not sure about what deductions the law allows him, to play it safe by calling on the income tax man."

"The man sent by the Collector will have forms for everybody and persons who expect to call on him need not trouble themselves to write for forms."

Miss Winnifred Winnard, formerly a teacher in the local schools, is visiting with relatives here. Miss Winnard has been teaching in the schools of Portland since leaving Heppner. She is a niece of Dr. N. E. Winnard.

W. C. Bowling of Bonners Ferry, Idaho, is spending a few days in Heppner. Mr. Bowling is an experienced baker and has under consideration the purchase of the Heppner Bakery from Raglan & Coffey.

FARMERS WEEK AND SHORT COURSE

Personal Instruction in Methods Succeeds Organized Efforts in Adding to Food Supply.

Corvallis, Ore., Dec. 26.—Many of Oregon's most successful farmers have found that a course in methods in their special lines immediately following Farmers Week is the best possible means of enabling them to put into effect the plans inspired by attendance at Farmers Week. Hence they remain for a four-week course in personal instruction. This short course begins at O. A. C. this year on Monday, January 7 and runs till Saturday, February 2.

The use of farm tractors and stationary engines is recognized as one of the most effective means of solving the labor shortage problem. So important is this use increasing the grain acreage of Oregon 50 per cent as required by the Food Administration, that the Umatilla farmers have been running their tractors night and day. To aid those who are taking up the work to get the best out of their machines, the tractor school has been provided.

Eighteen different makes of engines small and great are now on the road to the College to be used in Farmers Week and Winter Short Course work. Farmers taking the course will operate them under the expert direction, learning how to handle, care for and repair the various makes. They will also have an opportunity to learn the merits of the different tractors and purchase accordingly.

A line of shop work in metal and wood will go with this course, enabling farmers to make such simple repairs as babbiting, sharpening, welding and mortising. A man of average skill taking the course will be able to handle his machine with best results at least expense.

The other courses in special farming will be equally complete and timely.

J. R. Ashinhurst of Sand Hollow was in the city Monday on business and while here got in good standing with the Gazette-Times for another year. Mr. Ashinhurst reports conditions good in his neighborhood.
