NEWS OF STATE AND NATION

Addressing the St. Louis Bar Association, Sir Frederick Smith, attorney general of England, who is in the United States on a mission for his government, declared that Great Britain is prepared to continue the struggle with Germany for twenty years, if such is necessary to bring "the wild beast of Germany into his cage."

The federal reserve bank at Chicago has announced payment to the treasurer of the United States of $215,799, representing the first payment of the government of one-half of the net earnings after paying full accrued dividends to its member banks up to January 1, 1918, the remaining half having been passed to surplus. This amount is paid to the government as a franchise tax under the law.

The first wool auction in this country was held in Boston recently when 4736 bales of Australian wool, about 1,000,000 pounds, were sold by the chamber of commerce for the British government. Prices ranged from $2 a pound for the best scoured wool to 70 cents for grease wools. The first lot offered was resold about 50 times each purchaser contributing it to the Red Cross, which was thus benefitted to the extent of $15,000.

The machinery of Canada's military service act was put in action this week and is acting smoothly. Men conscripted in the first draft reported in batches as previously arranged by district registrars and will go into training as rapidly as they can be handled and equipped. The new legislation calls for 100,000 men. The first draft is said to exceed 20,000, although the exact number was withheld for military reasons.

A New York report states that another change in German chancellorship is likely in the near future from the present dispute of the militarists and socialists over the Russian peace move. Von Hertling is scarcely mentioned in connection with peace negotiation. It may mean that he has no hope for negotiations advantageous to Germany, but anyway, he failed at the critical moment to show the qualities of independence. Any existing leadership has apparently passed to Count Czerlin.

Garden Seed for Distribution.

The Gazette-Times has received a limited amount of garden seed from Congressman N. J. Sinnott at Washington for free distribution. This year will probably mark a new high record in the United States for increased production in all lines and the backyard garden will play its important part. The seeds may be had for the asking if you will come to The Gazette-Times office. First come, first served.

To Our Friends:

WE ARE BUSY THIS week taking stock, but not too busy to stop for a minute to thank you for your liberal patronage during the year which just closed.

The year 1918 will be just what each one of us makes it. Shoulder to shoulder we must stand to sustain our Country during the crisis before it. Such co-operation as people have shown during 1917 will be repeated to a greater degree in 1918.
