Dillard French, the Gurdane farmer and stockman, was spending a few days in Heppner last week on business. Mr. French and John Brosnan are feeding a large number of cattle on Butter creek at the present time.

Among Gazette-Times readers who renewed their subscription during the past week are Mrs. E. Kelly, F. E. Parker, John Iler, J. H. Padberg, W. E. Cummings and John Gaunt of Heppner and Mike Doherty of Nye, Oregon.

Mrs. Lena Snell Shurte returned home Tuesday from Portland, where she attended the meeting of the State Teachers' Association and also the convention of county school superintendents. She has a letter in this issue for the boys and girls of Morrow county.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bergstrom and son John, accompanied by Oscar Keithley, were visitors in Heppner Monday from Eight Mile.

Ora Adkins of Eight Mile spent the week end with relatives in Heppner. Mr. Adkins is now farming a part of the Chas. Stanton ranch.

W. G. Scott, president of the Lexington State Bank, was a business visitor in Heppner Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Patterson returned Sunday from a trip to Southern California. They went as far as Tia Juana, Mexico. They also visited at San Diego and Los Angeles.

F. S. Bender & Co., of Ione will continue to take orders for the new McCormick Combine Harvester. We were badly scorched, but are still in line for this harvester business.

James Thomas of Lexington spent a few hours in Heppner on business last Friday. Mr. Thomas is a prosperous farmer north of Lexington and is looking forward to a big crop this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. O'Brien are the proud parents of a baby girl, born at their Butter creek home on New Years Day. Mrs. O'Brien is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Corrigal.

Eddie Rietmann, young farmer of north of Ione was in Heppner Monday on business. Mr. Rietmann is one of the younger men of the Ione country who is making a success of wheat farming.

C. W. Shurte and daughter, Miss Cecil, were passengers for Portland this morning. Miss Shurte will go on from there to Richmond, Cal., where she will visit with her sister during the next two months.

Mike Doherty, Nye sheepman, spent a few days in Heppner on business last week. Mr. Doherty speaks enthusiastically of the Pilot Rock country and says that no time since he has been there has he seen grass on the range as good as at the present time.

Silas Harris, Civil War veteran and homesteader in the Parkers Mill section, was in Heppner the first of the week getting some ranch supplies. Mr. Harris has long since proved up on his homestead and he declares he has one of the finest little places in all Morrow county.

Miss Stasia Walsh, who has been the guest of Miss Margaret O'Rourke during the holidays, left for Portland Wednesday. She was accompanied as far as Arlington by Miss O'Rourke. Miss Walsh will leave soon for France as a member of the hospital unit of the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Hesse Kinney McAtee will demonstrate Spirelli made-to-measure corsets at the millinery store of Mrs. F. Luper each Saturday. To secure the degree of health, comfort, style and durability, your corset should be selected and fitted by a Spirelli professional trained corsetiere.

R. J. Carsner of Spray spent several days in Heppner during the past week looking after business matters. He was accompanied by George Hayden of the same place. Mr. Carsner is one of the largest cattlemen in Eastern Oregon, owning in the neighborhood of a thousand head at the present time.

T. J. Mahoney, cashier of the Live-stock State Bank of Portland, was in Heppner Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of stockholders of the First National Bank, of which he is vice-president and director. Mr. Mahoney attended the stockholder's meeting of the Lexington State Bank in that city Wednesday.

Ed Berry, local sign painter and decorator, has received word from John Calmus to the effect that Calmus has been promoted to Sargeant. Mr. Calmus had seen duty in the Philippines and his previous experience is making advancement rapid for him now. He was formerly employed in the blacksmith shop of Henry Ashbaugh.

John L. Jenkins, who formerly raised wheat in the Eight Mile section, was over from Boardman this week. Mr. Jenkins has a tract of land under the irrigation project and he says big things are close at hand for the Boardman country. An abundance of water is now in the ditch and according to Mr. Jenkins it will be only a matter of a year or two until that part of Morrow county will be the garden spot of Oregon.

W. H. Clark was down from Arbuckle a few days this week. Mr. Clark is now busily engaged in doing some development work on his coal mine in the Arbuckle district and has hopes of uncovering some good deposits. Some fourteen years ago he did a lot of work in this section and became convinced at that time that there is an abundance of good coal under Arbuckle mountain and he is now back there at work again. Mr. Clark hopes to be able to interest others in this coal mining prospect in order that some successful development work can be done. Should paying mines be opened there a good road will be opened direct to Heppner and the product delivered here for home consumption. Mr. Clark is of the opinion that the Arbuckle district will prove to be far ahead of the coal deposits in the Willow creek basin and coal there can be mined more abundantly and successfully.
