WHY WE ARE AT WAR WITH GERMANY

By
EPHRAIM DOUGLASS ADAMS
Executive Head, History Department
Leland Stanford Junior University

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry out the plan without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor. . . . This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. . . . It is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling."
—President Wilson, August 27, 1917.
GERMAN RUTHLESSNESS AN INCULCATED BARBARISM

A government asserting its right to conquer the world, denying any duty except that of increasing its own power, and a people drilled in this theory, produce a nation whose acts horrify humanity. Yet those acts are but the logical result of a ruthlessness in war deliberately planned. It was at first said by Americans: "Yes, there are occasional German atrocities; no doubt, but so there are in every war." We now know that cruelty and barbarism are a definite part of the German method of making war.

First the teachers and professors. "Where German soldiers had to seize the incendiary torch, or even to proceed to the slaughter of citizens, it was only in pursuance of the rights of war." "One single highly cultured German warrior represents a higher intellectual and moral life-value than hundreds of the raw children of nature whom England and France, Russia and Italy, oppose to them." "Even if there were no question of vengeance . . . the crime of opposing the development of Germany is so great that the most trenchant measures are scarcely a sufficient punishment for it." "The more pitiless is the victor, the greater is the security of the ensuing peace. In the days of old conquered peoples were completely annihilated. Today that is physically impracticable, but one can imagine conditions which should approach very closely to total destruction."

Next the army officers: "By steeping himself in military history an officer will be able to guard himself against excessive humanitarian notions; it will teach him that certain severities are indispensable to war. nay, more, that the only true humanity very often lies in a ruthless application of them." "The warrior has need of passion. It must not . . . be regarded as a necessary evil; nor condemned as a regrettable consequence of physical contact; nor must we seek to restrain it and curb it as a savage and brutal force."

Last the clergy: one incident, and one quotation from an address on the Sermon on the Mount is enough for Americans. "Whoever can not prevail upon himself to approve from the bottom of his heart the sinking of the Lusitania, . . . and give himself up to honest delight at this victorious exploit of German defensive power—him we judge to be no true German." German teaching has borne fruit and the world is aghast. Yet we have become so accustomed to "German atrocities" that some of our horror at them has waned. It is wiser to remember. Volumes are needed to list, merely, the proved cases of barbarity—for Germany by refusing investigation through a neutral jury proposed by Cardinal Mercier, has confessed guilt. No, rather, she acknowledges the acts charged against her and glorifies them.

But let us not forget that German soldiers, in 1914 with no restraint, raped the women of Belgium and France in the first advance; that they placed screens of children before them; that they executed, as a warning against a feared Belgian rising, fifty innocent Catholic priests and thousands of innocent citizens; that they gave themselves up "in a hundred different places, to plundering, incendiarism, imprisonment, massacres and sacrileges" (Cardinal Mercier); that in France they have deliberately made a desert of territory in retreat, with an object, not of this war, but of destroying productivity for at least a generation to come; that Germany openly applauded Turkey upon the massacre of nearly one-half the population of Armenia; that Germany, by the cruel starvation and deportation of conquered populations is attempting to "Germanize" the lands of Poland and Russia; that she torpedoes hospital ships with "defenseless beings, wounded or mutilated in war, and women who are devoting themselves to the work of relief and charity" (protest of the International Red Cross Committee at Geneva); that no other government, in the world's history, ever ordered or approved a Lusitania.

This war is lost, and a greater will follow it, unless it is fought to the point where Germany knows for all time that such acts are, in the end, fatal to the government that commits them.

This is the fourth of a series of ten articles by Professor Adams.

Henry Cohn and Roy Cochran made a business trip to The Dalles one day last week. Mr. Cohn is local agent for the Cole Eight and Oldsmobile cars in Heppner.

What About That WAR GARDEN You Are Going To Plant This Spring?

A trifle early yet to plant it but just the time to buy the seed. We handle four of the best.

Our advice is to buy early as some varieties are extremely scarce this year.

PHELPS GROCERY COMPANY

W. E. Cummings and family were in Heppner Saturday. Mr. Cummings owns an extensive wheat ranch west of Heppner and at the present time is working full shift to increase the nation's wheat supply.

H. C. Githens, who recently built an elegant home on his property in the north end of town, is completing the final touches this week by building a new front porch. The home is complete in every detail and a credit to the city.

Amy D. Sprouls has filed suit for divorce from John M. Sprouls. In her complaint she alleges desertion. She asks that the former name Crawford be restored to her and asks for certain property. Woodson and Sweek are her attorneys.

Clarence Bowers, local shoe repair man, has bought an Oakland Sensible Six car from Martin Reid, which Mr. Reid recently took in on a deal when he sold a new Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hays and daughter were in Heppner Saturday from the Hays home in the Black Horse section.

A. L. Ayers met with a painful accident last Saturday morning while loading the Heppner Light & Water Company's wood truck near the depot. Mr. Ayers had a pike pole in his hands and was assisting his men in loading the truck, when a stick of wood hit the pole in some manner, driving the pointed end into Mr. Ayers' left foot. The injured man succeeded in driving the truck up town, although he nearly fainted before getting to the doctor's office. A few stitches and a bandage by Dr. McMurdo fixed the injured man up and he is now able to get about with the aid of crutches.

Mrs. Ellis Hendricson returned last Thursday from Portland, where she was married the week before. She was accompanied by her brother Glen C. Jones, who will make an extended visit here from Mare Island, Cal.

Roy Yardley has taken charge of the Lexington barber shop for the present, and may decide to take it over permanently.

John Kilkenny has purchased a new Case touring car from Vaughn & Sons, local dealers.

P. A. Anderson, of the Morrow County Abstract Co., has purchased a Ford car from W. R. Irwin.

Wm. Padberg, Gus Liebel, Herb Olden and Lon McCabe left Monday with W. J. Wilcox in the latter's car for Spokane, where they will buy some jacks.

Prewitt Cox and Fred Lucas motored to Pendleton Saturday.

I haul baggage and passengers to and from the depot to any part of the city. Phone 555 or 183. Lee Cantwell.

Lay In Your Winter's Supply.
