MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

AS OTHERS SEE HIM.

When the American soldier abroad reads what the literary folk of France and England write about him it must take his mind to a great extent off the wrinkled front of grim-visaged war. There can not help being a certain choice humor for the doughboy in being regarded as something worth studying and analyzing—an interesting and complicated phenomenon that has to be "interpreted."

In a recent issue of a London daily there are two "studies" of the American soldier as a type. In both of them the discovery was made that the American is, in comparison with other kinds of soldiers, something of a dude. Mention is made repeatedly of his "speckless grooming" and of the "clean-cut lines" of his uniform.

But the two English "interpretations" of the American fighter differ radically on one point. That is with regard to what the Americans themselves would call their "mixing" ability. One London writer, a man, rhapsodizes at some length on the sympathetic nature and the frank friendliness of the Americans with whom he had been chumming, while the other, a woman, finds them serenely aloof, dignified and unbending, self-conscious and alert, and lacking the "matte" characteristics of the British Tommy. This is a decided shock to us at home, who have been taught to consider the frigid and unapproachable Englishman as typical.

It may be said in this connection that the English are at least thawing out sufficiently to adopt a new American slang bit. They have taken up "attaboy" with much warmth, and find it a most satisfactory condensed phrase of approval.—Spokesman-Review.

SOME MAN.

He may wear a last year's straw hat; his finger-nails may need manicuring; his vest may hang a little loose and his pants may bag at the knees; his face may show signs of a second-day's growth, and the tin dinner bucket that he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't you call him "the old man." He's your father. For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth, bar none, even though you plaster your hair back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—Your Mother. He is SOME MAN, and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did you will have to go some.

The farmers of the country have in their hands a two-edged sword against Germany—production on their farms and giving financial support to our Government. They are sharpening and wielding this powerful instrument, as is seen by their support of the Third Liberty Loan and the increased acreage on their farms.

W.S.S. DRIVE CONTINUES

While there has been a lot of enthusiastic work during the past week to put Morrow county over the top in the W. S. S. drive, and many of the districts have raised their quotas, and quite a number doubled the amounts asked of them, yet the returns have come in so slowly from some quarters that Chairman Woodson is at present unable to give the figures showing exact results.

The estimate to date is slightly over $50,000.00, and two principal districts, Lexington and Ione, not reported, as well as a number of smaller districts. These will doubtless make good reports, and when all returns have been made, Morrow's quota of $90,000.00 should be well in hand.

At present the districts over the top in the drive for sale of war savings stamps, are No. 8, A. Henriksen, chairman; No. 38, Chas. Cox, chairman; No. 23, S. J. Devine, chairman; No. 19, Frank Glasscock, chairman; No. 34, Ralph I. Thompson, chairman and No. 26, Phebe A. Bartholomew, chairman. Heppner district reports $12,665 of its quota of $16,695, with returns not yet complete.

Chairman Woodson is still optimistic and expresses the opinion that the final report will see Morrow county over the top in this drive. It transpires that there was considerable confusion in regard to the war stamp drive and it has taken a lot of work to get people straightened out and brought to a realization of the importance as well as the value of this work, both to the government and the individual investor. Too many have thought it something that was intended for the women and children who had small sums to invest. Not a few, however have seen that it was even a better investment than Liberty Bonds, and they have gone the limit.

He states that range is still good but the water in the mountain streams is beginning to run pretty low, and it has been many years since Rock creek was as low at the mill as it is at the present.

Frank Gabler and family are over from Monument for a short visit in Heppner. Frank has had charge of the blacksmith shop there for the past eight months and is enjoying a fine business.

State Police Entertained Here.

A company of 45 members of the Oregon State Police, under Capt. E. H. Williams, arrived in Heppner from Condon on Thursday evening last and were the guests of the Heppner Home Guards at a ball given in the Fair pavilion. The company gave a drill exhibition on Main street early in the evening that attracted a lot of attention. These men are gathered from over the state and are under the pay of the Federal government and the State government jointly. It will be their duty to police the state, and after about two weeks of intensive training at the Pendleton headquarters, they are to be sent out in squads in different parts of Eastern Oregon to guard grain fields, warehouses and other lines of industry and Heppner will have one of these squads stationed here. They are a determined set of men, well armed and drilled for the work they have to do. The company went on to Pendleton headquarters Friday by auto.

Pleasant and Profitable Social.

A very successful ice cream social was given by the Star Auxiliary of Rhea Creek for the benefit of the Red Cross on the evening of June 22nd, and the sum of $44.20 was netted from the sale of ice cream and lemonade. There were present about two hundred people, representing Hardman, Eight Mile, Liberty, Gooseberry and Heppner. A pleasant evening of games and music was reported by all.

The members of the Auxiliary wish to thank the people for their help and patronage, and this paper wishes to apologize, also for not printing this report last week. In our haste to get the paper on the press it was overlooked.

In less than five minutes F. N. Noble suffered a loss of $3000 when a cloudburst struck back of the Mt. Vernon Springs last Saturday afternoon. The avalanche of water came down the little gulch running northwest of the hotel building. It first struck the stone cellar back of the hotel. It washed this away and carried about $1000 worth of groceries. The lower floor of the hotel was covered with mud, water and rocks to the depth of two feet. The swimming tank was filled with debris, mud and rocks and the scene of destruction resembled flood days along the Ohio. So far, as it went the wreck was complete and Mr. Noble said that his loss would amount to $3000.—Canyon City Eagle.

C. I. Kephart, engineer for the Public Service Commission, has been in Heppner several days this week making a survey of the Heppner Light & Water Co. plant. The company has asked for a raise in rates and their petition is now before the Commission for consideration. It is the office of Mr. Kephart to place a valuation on the property for the Commission and verify the inventory filed with them by the Company, this to be used in determining the justness of the claims of the Heppner corporation for a raise in rates.

Mrs. Clarence M. White and daughters will leave on Friday for their new home at Pendleton, where Mr. White is now located and associated with Stephen A. Lowell in the practice of law. Mrs. White and children have been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smead for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ceell, of Spray, are visiting in Heppner this week.

ANOTHER UNIQUE ROLE FOR W. S. HART IN "THE TIGER MAN."

Superb Aircraft Picture to Be Shown at the Star Theatre Next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Portraying one of those unique characters of the west, with which his name is so intimately associated, William S. Hart has in his new Aircraft picture, "The Tiger Man," a vehicle that is bound to be received with pleasure by his countless admirers. This is the story of the fierce leader of several outlaws, who long have terrorized the avenues of travel to the gold fields in the early days of the rush to the new El Dorado.

In a wagon train on the desert is a pretty young woman, Ruth Ingram, who is accompanying her husband to the gold fields on a religious mission. The supply of water is exhausted and Mrs. Ingram goes in search of aid. She is met by Hawk Parsons, the bandit, who, after hearing her story, goes to the assistance of the imperilled emigrants. With this meeting, a new light dawns upon Hawk's soul, and he determines to possess himself of this woman.

The train is attacked by Indians but the savages are driven away. With the approach of Federal troops of cavalry, "The Tiger Man" realizes that his capture is inevitable, and he prevents the emigrants from lighting a beacon to attract the attention of the soldiers. He finally consents to this, however, on one condition—that Ruth Ingram accompany him. This she agrees to do, and, swinging her up before him on his horse, he gallops away.

How this woman regenerated him and appeals to the latent good which slumbers in his heart, is best told by the picture itself, which will be seen at the Star theatre, next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 9 and 10.

A wealthy American tourist, obtaining work in an Italian vineyard for a lark, meets the niece and housekeeper of the owner, Carmel Myers in her new Bluebird picture, "The Wine Girl," to be seen at Star Theatre Friday.

A pretty love story is started, replete with obstacles and troubles created by the wealthy American parents and a rival, who is a member of the Italian secret societies.

Carmel Myers is supported by Kenneth Harlan, Rex De Rosell, E. A.

Warren and Katherine Kirkwood. Character parts are undoubtedly the forte of Carmel Myers, Bluebird's youngest star, and in "The Wine Girl," she is in her element.

Stop, Read and Loosen

In times like these, men's feelings are prompt to action.

We call upon you to respond to the noblest feeling you cherish—love of home, love of good, love of country, and humanity; everything that lifts life above the animal—to subscribe your share of Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

It is your right and your duty to combat those who caused this war; to do your part to defeat their efforts, for, in opposing them, you are fighting cruelty, greed, dishonesty, and all that is evil in the world.

The people of our Country MUST furnish the reserve behind our battle line if it is to hold. Guns, and powder, ships and food—these must be provided without limit. Your money is needed to supply them. Your Country doesn't ask you to GIVE it—merely to LEND it.

We have the stamps ready for you, or will take your subscription, to be filled later, and we will deem it a pleasure to furnish you with them.
