The people of the City of Heppner do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any male person in the City of Heppner, who is physically fit to perform some useful service, to remain idle during the period of the war, and all such persons shall, during such period be habitually and regularly engaged in some lawful business, profession, trade, occupation or employment for at least thirty six hours per week, and any person refusing to be so employed shall be deemed guilty of a violation of this ordinance and shall, upon conviction in the Recorder's Court of the City of Heppner, be punished by a fine of not more than $50.00, or by imprisonment in the City Jail for a period of not exceeding twenty five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. In no case shall the possession by the accused of money, property or income sufficient to support himself and those regularly dependent upon him be any defense to any prosecution under this ordinance.

Section 2. In no case shall the claim by the accused of his inability to obtain work or employment be a defense to a prosecution under this ordinance unless it shall be proved that the accused promptly notified the Recorder of the City of Heppner of his inability to obtain employment and requested that work or employment be found for him and that such employment was not furnished him, and shall hold a certificate from said Recorder that such application has been made.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the City Recorder whenever any person shall inform him of his inability to obtain employment as aforesaid to register forthwith the name of such person, together with his address, age and any other information which he may deem necessary.

The City Recorder shall thereupon assign, or cause to be assigned and, if necessary reassign, such persons to the occupation as aforesaid, carried on by the City of Heppner, by the State or any county or municipality thereof, or by private employers, engaged in agricultural, industrial or other occupation of the character above mentioned, and who accepts the service of such persons; provided, however, that no person shall be required to work under this ordinance any greater number of hours per day than lawfully constitutes a day's work in the occupation in which such person is required to engage. In the event of the City Recorder being unable to procure employment for such persons applying as aforesaid, it shall then be the duty of the Recorder to certify to such person in writing.

Section 4. All persons required to work under this ordinance shall receive compensation of not less than the wage or salary paid to others engaged in the same nature of work to which each person is assigned. If any person is assigned to work for any department, board or commission of the state, then the compensation of such person shall be paid to him by such department, board or commission, out of the appropriation made to it by the State. If any such person is assigned to work for any county or for any municipality, or for any private employer, then the compensation of such person shall be paid to him by such county, municipality or private employer, accepting his service.

Section 5. Any person failing or refusing to do, or to continue to do, the work assigned to him, or who, in the meanwhile, has not become regularly or continuously employed in some lawful, useful and recognized business, occupation, trade, profession or employment as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100.00, or by imprisonment in the city jail not exceeding twenty five days.

Section 6. In assigning any one to work the City Recorder shall take into consideration physical conditions and any other appropriate circumstances of the person so assigned.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of every member connected with the police department of the City of Heppner to seek and to continue to seek diligently the names and places of residence of able-bodied male persons within the City of Heppner not regularly or continuously employed as herein provided.

Section 8. The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to persons temporarily unemployed by reason of differences with their employers, nor to bona fide students during the school term, nor to persons fitting themselves to engage in trade or industrial pursuits.

Section 9. Inasmuch as this ordinance is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety of the City of Heppner in this: That there is urgent need for every able-bodied man to perform some useful service during the present crisis, therefore, an emergency is hereby declared and this ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage by the Common Council and approval by the Mayor.
