

Town and Country.

Saturday evening, July 20, the dance at Parkers Mill.

Peter Bauernfend, sage of Cecil, was in Heppner over Monday night.

Guy Hadley, farmer of Hardman, was doing business in Heppner on Monday.

Sherman Wakefield, of Heppner Flat, started up his threshing outfit the first of the week.

J. T. Knappenberg announces a big dance at Parker's Mill on Saturday night. Are you going?

Walt Puyear, now extensive farmer of the Ione section was doing business in Heppner on Monday.

Martin Reid, local agent, disposed of a new Chandler touring car to C. A. Peterson of Eight Mile this week.

Berl Gurdane came home Friday on a furlough of a few days from the Naval Training Station at Mare Island, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Farnsworth were visitors in Heppner a few days the first of the week from their home at Rhea Siding.

New wheat is beginning to come into Heppner. Bert Peck made the first delivery at the Farmers Elevator Co. elevator.

A number of the boys in the next draft go from the Parkers Mill section. In their honor a dance will be given there on Saturday evening.

Dell M. Ward took out his big threshing outfit Monday and will start to harvest his grain crop right away. He will drive the machine with a Case gasoline tractor.

Commissioner Lee Padberg was in Heppner Monday to get a supply of grain bins from the Githens Lumber Yard. He is preparing for the bulk handling of his grain this season.

Copenhaver & Tucker started up their threshing outfit the first of the week, beginning on the grain of Mr. Tucker. They expect to have a good season's run on the two farms and the threshing will be done by a Case gasoline outfit.

Chas. Stanton has just completed a good barn on his upper Eight Mile farm, occupied by Ora Adkins. He has been here for the past several weeks superintending the work and left by auto yesterday for his home in Walla Walla.

T. F. Howard, Pendleton architect and builder was in Heppner a couple of days the last of the week. Mr. Howard had the planning of the I. O. O. F. building in this city and has been engaged in this line of work in Pendleton for many years.

T. J. Mahoney, cashier of the Live Stock State Bank of Portland and vice president of the First National Bank of Heppner, was in the city a couple of days this week on business connected with the bank here. He departed for his Portland home on Monday.

Chas. H. Hams was down from Hardman Monday. He states that the late rains in that section were very beneficial to the crops and the Hardman country will turn out a lot of grain this season. The problem now seems to be getting men to do the harvesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Neel are over from Lone Rock for a visit with relatives here. These good people having disposed of their Gilliam county ranch, are now thinking of getting them a little home in Heppner and we hope they may succeed in finding just what they want.

Dr. Turner, eye specialist, of Portland, will be in Heppner again Saturday, July 20th. In Ione Friday, July 19th.

FOR SALE—Good 5-room house, built three years. Furnished throughout with best of furniture and player piano. A bargain if taken soon. Inquire Gazette-Times office. 15-1m Elton Jones is down from Walla Walla for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones. The young man has been living at the Garden City for the past year, where he has taken up the study of medicine, and is also working in the undertaking parlors.

Lawrence Sweek of Monument visited with his son, C. L. Sweek in Heppner on Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Sweek encountered some heavy roads while crossing Sunflower Flat on his way over, the result of heavy rains in that section the last of the week.

Little Anna Mollahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mollahan, is recovering from the effects of a broken arm. The accident happened to her some two weeks ago when she fell, breaking one bone of the forearm and bending the other back. The little lady still carries the broken arm in a sling, done up in plaster paris.

Dr. Merriam, who came to Heppner to take over the practice of Dr. Allison, decided that there was no opening here for another physician, and he departed for Portland on Monday. Dr. Merriam was a man of pleasing address and came to Heppner well recommended as a medical practitioner. It speaks well for the health of our community that another doctor is not needed here.

J. E. Tourtellotte, of the firm of Tourtellotte & Hummel, architects of Boise and Portland, was in Heppner a couple of days the first of the week. Mr. Tourtellotte was interested in placing before some of our citizens his drawings and plans for a new hotel here. He has some good ideas along this line and will do what he can to interest capital in the project.

After spending the past week in Heppner assisting in getting our fire fighting apparatus in shape, Captain Geo. W. Stokes, deputy of the State Fire Marshal's department left for Portland Tuesday morning. Captain Stokes has rendered valuable assistance here during the week, and he was tendered a vote of thanks by the City Council on Monday night for the good work done.

Frank A. Andrews, pastor of the Christian church, is of the opinion that he can be of some use in helping to harvest the crop of Morrow county, and he has arranged with his congregation to let him off for a few weeks while the harvest is on. He went out to the R. W. Turner farm in Sand Hollow where he will begin work and help get up the hay crop. Mr. Turner will soon be ready to start up his threshing machine.

Wash Thompson came over from Weiser on Friday to look after the insurance adjustment on his residence that was destroyed by the late fire. He met with no difficulty in getting a full settlement on his policy. Mr. Thompson is living on an irrigated tract near Weiser and states that the crop conditions are good where they have the water. He contemplates returning to Heppner within a couple of weeks and work here during the harvest, as he will have his crop out of the way. He returned home Monday.

V. S. Peet, traveling colonization agent for the Union Pacific system, with headquarters at Omaha, was in Heppner a few days during the past week, making a tour of different parts of the county and gathering up photos and other data for the use of the office. He was shown over the country by D. E. Gilman and was very favorably impressed with what he saw. Mr. Peet stated to a representative of this paper that he has at present on file in his office more than 1500 inquiries for lands in the Northwest and the most of these are from people who particularly desire to get wheat lands in Oregon. Mr. Peet will prepare lectures which he will give throughout portions of the Middle West and will interest those who desire to look up new locations. His photos will be made into slides and used as illustrations in his lectures.

Dr. N. E. Winnard was appointed city health officer by the City Council at their meeting on Monday evening. Dr. Winnard is also county health officer and as a consequence there will be no conflict between city and county administration. It developed at the council meeting that there are numerous matters that should receive the attention of the city health officer at once and this will be done by the committee on public health going into these matters with the city physician. A general epidemic of cleanliness and sanitation has struck us and we are on the way to achieve better things for Heppner. There will be a general stiffening of the municipal backbone from this on and a lot of people may get their toes tramped a little because they can't do just as they please but they will have to take their medicine whether they like it or not.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC!

The people of Heppner are requested to clean out their cellars and basements that were filled last week, as soon as possible, and to also use disinfectants so that the danger of typhoid may be reduced to the minimum.

W. W. SMEAD, Mayor.

Was Prominent Banker of Eugene.

Word was received by relatives here on Tuesday of the death at Eugene on Monday afternoon of S. S. Spencer, a member of the Eugene city council and paying teller of the United States National Bank of that city, as well as one of the most prominent Masons of the state. Mr. Spencer was taken suddenly ill on Sunday but was some better on Monday and took his place at the bank. Growing worse again he was taken to the hospital where he passed away about 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon of acute indigestion.

Mr. Spencer was the uncle of S. W. Spencer and Mrs. Vawter Crawford of this city.

Our County Officials Now in Trouble.

Because they have failed in extending a special tax voted by the Boardman school district, and consequently the same is not being collected, County Assessor J. J. Wells, Sheriff George McDuffee and County Clerk J. A. Waters have been served with notice to appear before the State Supreme Court at Salem on July 23, in a mandamus suit filed by the directors of the Boardman district, and to show cause, if any, why they should not extend the tax on the rolls and proceed to collect the same.

The Boardman district last November voted a tax of $22,700 for the purpose of building a new school house and when their action was brought before the district boundary board that body felt the tax to be exorbitant on the district and reduced the same 25 per cent. The district was also enjoined by the railroad company, who would have the bulk of the tax to pay, and in their action they were sustained. This late action seems to be the last lap in the race and will no doubt settle the controversy.

George Phelps, prominent young business man of Pendleton, died at Hot Lake hospital on Sunday after an illness of some ten weeks. Mr. Phelps was the husband of Mrs. Gladys Slaughter, formerly Miss Gladys Cohn, of this city, they having been married on Jan. 9 of this year.

Is Married at Portland.

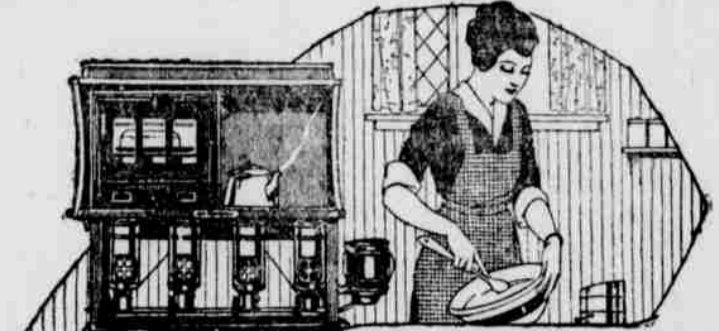

W. T. Matlock, livestock commission man of Portland and Heppner, was quietly married in Portland on Saturday last to Miss Dorsella Gillis, of that city. After a short honeymoon, Mr. Matlock will bring his bride to Heppner where they will make their home. Mr. Matlock is vice president of the Farmers & Stockgrowers National Bank of this city and has many friends here who extend to him and his bride their hearty congratulations.

Lew Holmes, hustling representative of the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. at Lexington, was a business visitor in Heppner yesterday. He says they had some wind storm at Lexington on Tuesday night but no serious damage was done.

Is Fined for Trespass.

Some time since a suit was brought in the United States Court against Emmet Cochran for trespass on the Umatilla National Forest. After trial of the case, Mr. Cochran was found guilty and fined in the sum of $500, besides being assessed damages of $1000.00. This is according to information furnished this office by W. W. Cryder, forest supervisor at Pendleton.
