LEGAL NOTICES

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR MORROW COUNTY.

Geo. J. Currin, Plaintiff
vs.
Gus Thelander, Defendant.
SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION IN FORECLOSURE OF TAX LIEN.

To Gus Thelander, the above named defendant
In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby notified that Geo. J. Currin is the holder of Certificate of Delinquency numbered 311 issued on the 19th day of March, 1915, by the Tax Collector of the County of Morrow State of Oregon, for the amount of Twenty-seven and 15/100 Dollars, the same being the amount then due and delinquent for taxes for the year 1913 together with penalty, interest and costs thereon upon the real property assessed to you, of which you are the owner as appears of record, situated in said County and State, and particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Lots 1 and 2 and the Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter of Section 1, Township 1 South, Range 24 E. W. M.

You are further notified that said Geo. J. Currin has paid taxes on said premises for prior or subsequent years, with the rate of interest on said amounts as follows:

Year	Month	Day	Pay Rec.	Amount	Interest Paid
1914	March	13	1915	$20.77	15
1915	March	27	1916	$28.59	15
1916	March	23	1917	$28.49	15
1917	March	12	1918	$27.55	15

Said Gus Thelander, as the owner of the legal title to the above described property as the same appears of record, and each of the other persons above named are hereby further notified that Geo. J. Currin, plaintiff, will apply to the Circuit Court of the County and State aforesaid for a decree foreclosing the lien against the property above described, and mentioned in said certificate. And you are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the first publication of this summons, exclusive of the day of said first publication, and defend this action or pay the amount due as above shown, together with cost and accrued interest, and in case of your failure to do so, a decree will be rendered foreclosing the lien of said taxes and costs against the land and premises above named.

This summons is published by order of the Honorable Gilbert W. Phelps, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Morrow, and said order was made and dated the 23rd day of August, 1918, and the date of first publication of this summons is the 29th day of August, 1918.

All process and papers in this proceeding may be served upon the undersigned residing within the State of Oregon at the address hereafter mentioned.

S. E. NOTSON,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
Address, Heppner, Oregon.

Mike McCabe had a narrow escape the other day. When not far from his home on Glrds creek, he ran into the wire fence with his car, breaking the wind shield and tearing away the top. Mike is having all kinds of experience learning to drive, and will have to be more careful or we fear we will be called upon to write the obituary of a dead Irishman.—Spray Courier.

Mrs. Frank Cronin, who has filled the position of assistant cashier in the Bank of Ione for some time past, has joined her husband at American Lake, much to the regret of the patrons of the bank, with whom she was very popular. Her husband, Sergeant Cronin, is a drill master at the camp where he has been stationed for more than a year. He expects to be ordered to Europe soon.—Ione Independent.

T. J. Humphreys and son Roland and John Huston left on Thursday last for McDuffee Springs to remain for ten days or two weeks. Mr. Huston goes over to have some baths at the famous health resort, to rid himself of some rheumatism. We presume he took Tom along to rub him down and incidentally to keep the car in running order, as someone would be required to mend punctures and blow up the tires.

Lawrence Reaney arrived the past week from Eagle, Idaho, where he has been living for the past year. He now thinks of making Morrow county his permanent residence and will likely rent a wheat farm near Lexington.

CRUELTY AND LUST WEAPONS OF HUNS

Conquered Peoples Shamefully Treated for Advantage of the German State.

Prussian Officers Callously Tell How Starvation and Abuse Are Made to Serve Their Purpose—Captives Women Made Slaves.

This I have seen. I could not believe it unless I had seen it through and through. For several weeks I lived with it; I went all about it and back of it; inside and out of it was shown to me—until finally I came to realize that the incredible was true. It is monstrous, it is unthinkable, but it exists. It is the Prussian system.—F. C. Walcott.

No more graphic description of the ravages of the German soldiery upon the civilian population of invaded countries has been given than is contained in the brief and simple statements of F. C. Walcott, now connected with the United States food administration, who was assistant to Mr. Hoover while America was feeding Belgium, Poland and northern France. In one of these statements Mr. Walcott says:

Even now I find it hard to describe in comprehensible terms the mind of official Germany, which dominates and shapes all German thought and action. Yet it is as hard, as clear-cut, as real as any material thing. I saw it in Poland. I saw the same thing in Belgium. I heard of it in Serbia and Roumania. For weeks it was always before me, always the same. Officers talked freely, frankly, directly. All the staff officers have the same view.

Let me try to tell it, as General von Kries told me, in Poland, in the midst of a dying nation. Germany is destined to rule the world, or at least a great part of it. The German people are so much human material for building the German state, other people do not count. All is for the glory and might of the German state. The lives of human beings are to be sacrificed only if it makes for the state's advancement, their lives are to be sacrificed if it is to the state's advantage. The state is all, the people are nothing.

Conquered people signify little in the German account. Life, liberty, happiness, human sentiment, family ties, grace and generous impulse, these have no place beside the one concern, the greatness of the German state.

Starvation must excite no pity; sympathy must not be allowed, if it hampers the main design of promoting Germany's ends.

"Starvation is here," said General von Kries. "Candidly, we would like to see it relieved; we fear our soldiers may be unfavorably affected by the things that they see. But since it is here, starvation must serve our purpose. So we set it to work for Germany. By starvation we can accomplish in two or three years in East Poland more than we have in West Poland, which is East Prussia, in the last hundred years. With that in view, we propose to turn this force to our advantage."

"This country is meant for Germany," continued the keeper of starving Poland. "It is a rich alluvial country which Germany has needed for some generations. We propose to remove the able-bodied working Poles from this country. It leaves it open for the inflow of German working people as fast as we can spare them. They will occupy it and work it."

Then with a cunning smile, "Can't you see how it works out? By and by we shall give back freedom to Poland. When that happens Poland will appear automatically as a German province."

In Belgium, General von Rissing told me exactly the same thing. "If the relief of Belgium breaks down we can force the industrial population into Germany through starvation and colonize other Belgians in Mesopotamia where we have planned large irrigation works; Germans will then overrun Belgium. Then when the war is over and freedom is given back to Belgium, it will be a German Belgium that is restored. Belgium will be a German province and we have Antwerp—which is what we are after."

That is not all. Removing the men, that the land may be vacant for German occupation, that German stock may replace Belgians, Poles, Sorbians, Armenians, and now Roumanians, Germany does more. Women left captive are enslaved. Germany makes all manner of lust its instrumentality.

The other day a friend of mine told me of a man just returned from northern France. "I can't tell you the details," he said, "man to man, I don't want to repeat what I heard." Some of the things he did tell—shocking mutilation and moral murder. He told of women, by the score, in occupied territory of northern France, prisoned in underground dungeons, tethered for the use of their bodies by officers and men.

If this is not a piece of the Prussian system, it is the logical product of disregard of the rights of others.

Germany has limited the amount that prisoners may spend to $15 a week for officers and $12.50 for private.

"SAVE THE HERDS" CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Food Administration and Health Boards Appeal for Support of Dairy Industry in Oregon—Herds of the World Greatly Depleted by War Conditions—Milk an Essential Food For Growth of Children and Health of Adults.

Because there is at this time a far-reaching need of a greater appreciation of the value of dairies as an economic feature in the progress and growth of this state, a committee headed by some of the leading scientific and business men of Oregon has arranged for a state-wide educational campaign that is now being launched with headquarters at 835 Northwest Bank Building, Portland, Oregon. O. D. Center, of Oregon Agricultural College is president of the council and E. C. Callaway, of the Portland Bureau of Health, is secretary.

Foreign dairy conditions are indicated by some of the experiences reported by the Countess Madeleine de Bryas, who recently visited Oregon and who was sent out by the Committee on Public Information, Washington, D. C. Countess de Bryas told of her work as a Red Cross nurse in France and conditions she saw there. She says the Germans killed off all cattle before abandoning captured French territory, knowing that in so doing, they practically killed the children. All who have returned from the countries of Europe tell of the great lack of dairy products in those countries, and how people across the seas are looking to the United States for foods, particularly dairy foods, as well as for men and munitions. Scarcity of feed stock, and the great demand for meat have resulted in the butchering of dairy cattle throughout Europe, and it will be many years after the war is over before the herds can be replenished and brought back to their normal standard. For this reason it is up to America, experts agree, to not only maintain the present herds, but to increase them in order that butter, cheese evaporated milk and other exportable dairy supplies can be sent abroad to our Allies. Evaporated, (or condensed) milk is today depended upon by the children of Europe to provide the proper dairy food element in their diet.

In a nutshell the situation in this country may be summed up as follows: The public must be encouraged to use more milk and dairy products of all kinds as a health and economic measure; the dairies must be encouraged to keep their herds together, looking to the future and relying on the fact that by so doing they will eventually come out better financially, than if they now dispose of their cattle.

WAR WORK FOR WOMEN

On September 6, Reed College Graduates 186 Women as Aides in Military Hospitals.

Reed College, Portland, Oregon, will continue its unique war work for women. On September 6th, 186 women will receive certificates for the completion of the special three-months training course for Reconstruction Aides in Physio-therapy. These women expect to be called soon for service in military hospitals at home and in France.

The Surgeon General has recently given notice of the probable need of fifteen hundred women as Reconstruction Aides. Like Army nurses, they have all their expenses paid and, in addition, fifty dollars a month in this country and sixty dollars a month in France. Their work is to assist returned soldiers to recover the use of their functions, by means of massage, remedial exercises, hydrotherapy and electro-therapy.

The next Red Cross course for Aides in Physio-therapy will begin October 1st and continue four months. On the same date will begin the first course of training for Reconstruction Aides in Occupational Therapy. There will also be offered the first year of work for nurses. The college also offers courses which prepare women for Government positions as accountants, statisticians, secretaries, bacteriologists, chemists, and recreational directors.

Full information concerning the Reed Unit of the Army will be published in Reed College Record Number thirty-one. It will be followed shortly by Record Number thirty-two, dealing with preparation for war work of women.

Dr. Turner, eye specialist of Portland, will be in Heppner again Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 18-19, at Barnard's rooming house. In Ione Tuesday, Sept. 17, in Monument Saturday, Sept. 21. Dr. Turner is a specialist of experience and standing and you will make no mistake in consulting him about your eyes and glasses. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened. Satisfaction guaranteed.
