

Town and Country.

Wes Mariatt has returned to Heppner after having spent the greater portion of the summer and fall at the coast. He is feeling well after a summer's vacation.

A quiet wedding, which hitherto escaped the notice of the Gazette-Times, took place at the study of the Christian Church on Saturday, Oct. 5th, when William Ira Isom and Zena F. Sams were united in marriage by Frank A. Andrews. Mr. Isom is farming on Eight Mile and Miss Sams is a school teacher in that community.

Mrs. M. R. Morgan of Ione brought her little daughter to the Sanatorium at Heppner on Thursday last, where the child underwent an operation for appendicitis. Dr. Chick of Ione performed the operation, assisted by Dr. McMurdo of Heppner. The little patient is getting along well.

George Hendry arrived from Yakima Friday and with Mrs. Hendry is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cason in this city.

Attorney S. E. VanVactor is in Portland this week on legal business before the U. S. Court.

C. W. McNamer, Ione butcher, was doing business in Heppner on Saturday.

Ell Carpenter came up from Arlington yesterday and is spending a day or two in Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Roberts departed for Chico, Calif., on Friday and will spend the winter in that city.

Miss Martha B. Struck, teacher of domestic science and art in the Heppner schools, is enjoying her enforced vacation visiting with her people at Lyle, Wash.

See Driscoll, formerly a resident of this place, is here on a visit from his home at Lewiston, Idaho. He expects to spend a month with his relatives in and about Heppner.

H. M. Olden was in from his Fairview ranch today. He has just finished up his threshing for this season and will now get busy putting in his winterfallow. He has been running one of the small combines.

Sheriff George McDuffee, E. M. Shutt and F. R. Brown left for Portland Tuesday where they were summoned to appear as witnesses before the U. S. grand jury in the Joe Handy moonshine case.

Dr. N. E. Winnard went to Eugene this week to visit his son, Norton, who has been confined in the hospital with an attack of the flu. Norton is reported to be much better and will soon be entirely recovered from the attack.

F. A. McMenamin of this city has been secured to cry a big auction sale for Mier & Clark at La Grande, on the 7th of November. Frank's ability as an auctioneer is reaching beyond the borders of his home county.

Mike McCabe is over from his ranch near Mitchell. He states that the grass was never better in that country than at present and all stock is in very prime condition to go into the winter. Mike brought his sheep out of the mountains in fine condition this fall.

The property just across the street from the Gazette-Times office is now being torn down and will be removed, the entire premises to be cleaned up and every vestige of the May fire taken away. New walks will be put in, and we are informed by the owners that it is likely a new concrete building will go up at once, this to be 44x80 feet. The removal of the old, partially destroyed wooden building is a matter to cause rejoicing.

TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Heppner man is confirmed after six years. J. H. Cox, carpenter, Baltimore St., says: "When I catch the least cold, I suffer from pain in my back. At times it has been so bad I simply couldn't move and have had to stay in bed for a week or ten days. I have used a great many medicines, but Dean's Kidney Pills have done me more good than anything else. I haven't had an attack of this trouble for some time."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER Mr. Cox said: "It has been a long time since I have had any occasion to take a kidney medicine. I consider Dean's Kidney Pills a good, reliable medicine for backache and kidney disorders."

IDEAS HARD TO ERADICATE

Erroneous Geographical Notions That Have a Firm Hold on the Minds of Most People.

It is curious to note with what persistency people will adhere to current ideas without ever thinking that these ideas do not, under all circumstances, denote one and the same thing. As a matter of fact, the maximum heat is "between" North and South—viz, along the equator, and it is as cold at the South Pole as at the North Pole. Also the words North and South are as relative terms as East and West, and do not, to everyone, convey the same idea.

To make this clear, let us suppose that A stands at the North Pole and, turning in the direction of the country from which he came, feels the wind blowing in his face. He would, of course, claim that this wind was southerly, and nobody would dare contradict him, for does not the wind come from Norway, which is south from the Pole? His companion, B, however, who stands a little distance further off, let us say 50 steps beyond the Pole, on the hemisphere on which America is situated, will just as emphatically assert that this wind is northern, as it blows from the North Pole, and the snowflakes it carries after having passed the polar point no longer are directed toward the North, but the South. There is no use disputing; both are right and, although separated by a few steps only, that which to A is north is to B south.
