JACKSON SCHEME IS REPUDIATED
In Home of Journal, Chamber of Commerce Rejects His Initiative Measures.

Sam Jackson, self-appointed guardian of the public weal, has decreed through the columns of the Portland Journal, that the delinquent tax publication law and the statute defining legal rates, shall be cast in the discard at the coming election. This is in effect the mandate published each day in the Journal, and in place of the present statutes, Mr. Jackson will "substitute" a couple of pet measures of his own.

The citizens of Oregon, as a consequence, are debating on whether to follow Mr. Jackson's injunction, or whether it would be safe to ignore their voting privilege in accordance with mandates of their own consciences. If they are at all hesitant to comply with the Jackson edit, it is probably because they realize Mr. Jackson is an old hand at telling folks how to cast their ballots and that his desires in the matter do not always coincide with the views of the citizens. This was notably the case a few years ago when Mr. Jackson attempted to foist off single tax on Oregon.

The two measures in question are now being considered by the voters of the state, and it seems to be the well defined consensus of opinion in every section, that the present laws are equitable. It is further conceded that the delinquent tax law is more than a mere administrative law in that it specifically renders a public service which cannot be overlooked by any fair minded citizen—and the taxpayer in particular.

The present tax publication law provides that mail notice be sent out to the taxpayer. This fact you do not see mentioned in the columns of the Journal. Then, after failure of mail notice, the tax lists are to be published. Thus is the delinquent taxpayer protected as far as possible.

Unfortunately for Mr. Jackson the voters of the state are able to reason things out for themselves. They love suggestions but not mandates as to how they are to cast their ballots. For weeks Jackson's Journal has been giving orders to the Oregon electorate on the Jackson pet measures. Strange to relate, however, the Portland Chamber of Commerce, at its weekly luncheon this week, unanimously turned down both of the schemes. They evidently figured that there was no justifiable reason at this time for punishing either the taxpayers or the press, so they went on record as unqualifiedly rejecting the Jackson bills.

It must have been a sorry day for Mr. Jackson and his Portland Journal, when the "home town" folks turned against him. Incidentally no mention of the action was made in the Journal.

Captain Russell came up from Portland Tuesday and met with the members of the local draft board and the local board of instruction. The latter board consists of Dr. N. E. Winnard, chairman and medical advisor, C. E. Woodson, legal advisor and E. R. Huston, military advisor. Captain Russell was here to discuss matters pertaining to the instruction of the new draftees and to line out the boards for their work along these lines. He returned to Portland on Wednesday.

Mat Hughes went out to Lone Rock Tuesday to prepare to move his family to Heppner. Mention was made last week in these columns that he had purchased the ranch of his father, John Hughes, west of town in conjunction with his brother, Joe, and Mike Healey, but in this we were misinformed. Matt has purchased the old home farm on his own account and will run the place in connection with his stock ranch at Lone Rock. He has rented to his brothers John and Joe all the wheat land on the Real Gravely is the common-sense chew for men. It is economical. A man gets his tobacco satisfaction out of a smaller chew and fewer of them. The good Gravely taste lasts a long while. Two or three small squares of Real Gravely stays with you longer than a big hunk of ordinary plug. Each piece is packed in a pouch. These are the plain facts about Gravely Plug Tobacco.

It goes further—that's why you can get the good taste of this class of tobacco without extra cost.
