

Town and Country.

A. Henriksen, Cecil farmer and stockman, was in Heppner Tuesday.

Thoroughbred mammoth bronze turkeys for sale. Farm of T. J. Matlock. 2t

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wiglesworth of Butter creek were in the city Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Biddle were visitors in the city yesterday from the home on Rhea creek.

Dr. Turner, the Portland eye specialist, made his regular visit to Heppner the first of the week.

Attorney Frank H. Robinson of Ione, was in Heppner for a few hours Tuesday, coming up with J. T. Knappenberg.

C. W. Shurte departed for Portland Monday and expects to remain there during the winter, provided he finds suitable employment.

Matt Hughes moved his sheep over from Lone Rock this week and they are now located on the Hughes farm on Willow creek west of Heppner.

Bill Pearson, now giving his assistance to the Federal railroad administration on one of the section crews near Echo, was in Heppner the first of the week.

Ben Buschke and wife visited in Heppner on Saturday. They have been having some flu in the family, one of their sons being quite sick with the ailment.

Mrs. J. E. Bergwick returned Saturday from The Dalles where she had been called to the bedside of a niece and brother who were very low with pneumonia.

Ashbaugh's new meat market is now open to the trade and is supplied with a good line of all kinds of fresh and cured meats. Phone your orders, Main 23.

Silas Wright is very sick at the Heppner Sanatorium, where he was taken early in the week to undergo an operation for appendicitis. His condition is very serious.

O. J. Cox, who was operated on a short time ago for a bad case of appendicitis, is reported to be doing well and now able to get about some at his home on Rhea creek.

A. C. Allison was in from Butter creek yesterday. This fine fall weather is greatly appreciated by the people in his section and work in the fields has moved along with dispatch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Carter were in from their Rhea creek ranch Tuesday afternoon. They brought in a fine bunch of Thanksgiving turkeys, one of which will grace ye editor's table on that day of universal rejoicing.

Mr. and Mrs. George White, of Lexington, were Saturday visitors in Heppner. They expect that their son, Ray White who is now at Bremerton navy yard, will return home soon. Ray is a musician and has been with the band at the navy yard.

W. W. Bechdolt passed through Heppner Tuesday on his way from Hardman to Boardman. Mr. Bechdolt has purchased a small tract of land on the project and with his family will make a home there. He has rented his farm near Hardman.

Harold Cohn has been transferred from San Francisco to the naval training station at Norfolk, Va., supply department. Harold hopes that he may be able to make the home folks a visit at Christmas time. He has not had a furlough since entering the service.

Ed Farnsworth and family passed through town Tuesday on their way to Rhea Siding, where they will live for the winter. Mr. Farnsworth has moved his sheep to Willow creek from the summer range at Fox Valley and they will be ranged and fed here during the winter.

Miss Ocea B. Norris, who was one of the teachers in Heppner High school last season, is visiting here this week, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cason. Miss Norris is principal of the school at Mt. Vernon, Oregon and at present is taking an enforced vacation on account of the influenza. She came over to Heppner last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner from Monument.

A slight collision of two autos near the school house on Sunday evening came near resulting disastrously for the occupants of the cars. Both machines were slightly damaged and were under the necessity of repairs. One car, driven by some young ladies, belonged to Andrew Patterson and the other machine was driven by Wilbur Swaggart. It happened that neither car was going very fast at the time, otherwise a much different story might have been chronicled.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sperry and Mrs. Oscar Cochran are visitors in Heppner today from Ione. In riding over the 18 miles between here and Ione through the fog, they were reminded that winter is not far removed. Mr. Sperry states that the influenza is about done for in that community and that the school there will reopen on Monday.

Oscar Keithley, leading farmer of Eight Mile, was doing business in Heppner yesterday.

Theo. Anderson, extensive wheat raiser of Eight Mile, was among those from his section in Heppner Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Raglan, who were flu victims confined at the Heppner Sanatorium for ten days, were released on Friday and they have returned to the John Curran ranch in Juniper canyon, where Mr. Raglan will work for the winter.

Delbert Wright is confined in the hospital at present, suffering with a broken leg. An accident happened to him one day the past week, a horse he was riding falling on him. One bone of the leg was broken. He is reported to be getting along well and should be out of the hospital in a day or two.

Mrs. Dick Wells states that her husband writes her from Camp Mills that he is still on this side of the pond, and his prospects for going over are not bright. Dick, with other members of his company, took boat at one time and put to sea but after being out a few days they turned back. He ran across Henry Smith at the camp but this is the only boy from home that he has met since being separated from the boys at Camp Lewis.

R. W. Turner is Hurt.

R. W. Turner was quite seriously hurt on Tuesday evening by being kicked in the side by a horse. He was at the L. V. Gentry place at the time and did not think he had been very hard hit, so went on home with his load. Wednesday morning Dr. Winnard was called from Heppner and waited on Mr. Turner, bringing him to town. Just the extent of his injuries are not yet fully known. He evidently was hurt in the kidneys as he suffers hemorrhage from that quarter but has no pain. The doctor states that he will have to remain very quiet for some time and it may be that his injuries will not prove of a serious nature.

Will Move to Walla Walla.

Henry Blahm and family will move to Walla Walla the coming week, where they have purchased a nice home and expect to live in the future. Mr. Blahm recently sold his farm on the creek about four miles west of Heppner to Adam Blahm who has taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Blahm came to Heppner 26 years ago and a few years later they purchased the Steve Lalande place which they have greatly improved until it is considered one of the best alfalfa and wheat ranches in this vicinity. Naturally, they have made a great many friends here who regret to have them leave, but who wish for them continued prosperity in their new home.

Public Sale Goes Well.

The public sale conducted under the auspices of the Farmers Exchange at the Morgan feed yard on Saturday afternoon last, drew a good crowd. F. A. McMenamin was the auctioneer, and the bidding was spirited, though some good stuff went at pretty low prices. There was farming implements, cattle and horses consigned by a number of different farmers. The Farmers Exchange contemplate other sales of this nature, and hope to be able to establish this as a regular feature to be carried on at Heppner at least once a month, giving the farmers and stockmen a chance to put up their surplus stuff and get good prices for it. We understand another sale is planned for the near future, when the management will be in position to handle it to better advantage all the way around than did this initial sale.
