

MR. HOOVER'S MESSAGE.

"Again in full confidence, I call upon the American people to set aside Sunday, December first, and the week following, for the consideration of America's opportunity for renewed service and sacrifice."

Last summer, when the military situation was acute, we assured the inter-allied conference in London that whatever the war food program of the Allies required, we were prepared to meet; that the conference need not consider whether or not we had the supplies, we were prepared to find them; we pledged ourselves to have reserves in food to supply all necessities. The ending of the war does not release us from the pledge. The same populations must be fed until another season has passed they cannot feed themselves.

The change in the foreign situation necessarily alters the details of our food program because the freeing of the seas from submarine menace renders accessible the wheat supplies of India, Australia, and the Argentine. The total food demand upon the United States is not diminished, however. On the contrary, it is increased. In addition to the supplying of those to whom we are already pledged we now have the splendid opportunity and obligation of meeting the needs of those millions of people in the hitherto occupied territories who are facing actual starvation. The people of Belgium, Northern France, Serbia, Roumania, Montenegro, Poland, Russia and Armenia rely upon America for immediate aid. We must also participate in the preservation of the newly liberated nations in Australia; nor can we ignore the effect on the future world developments of a famine condition among these other people whom we have recently released from our enemies. All these conditions mean that upwards of two hundred million people in addition to those we are already pledged to serve are now looking to us in their misery and famine. Our appeal today is therefore larger than the former appeal to the "war conscience" of our people. The new appeal is to the "war conscience" which must be the guiding inspiration of our future program. The President of the United States has asked me to take charge for this government of this work; to perfect and enlarge the arrangements for food stuffs to the populations of Belgium and France now being released and to organize and determine the need of provisions to the liberated peoples of Southern Europe to prevent such debacle as has taken place in Russia.

The determining factor for the success of such an enlarged appeal is the vivid consciousness in every individual in each community of obligation and opportunity. It is that common recognition of obligation that we now wish to create. Such an intelligent "world conscience" in the American people must be the plain dependence of the stricken countries of the world under normal conditions are once more restored.

America by her participation in the war has accomplished her objectives of self-defense, of vindicating the efficiency of a government in which the people and the people only are sovereign. She has established the foundations of government by the people throughout the enemy countries and is thus the real bulwark of world peace. We have yet to build on these foundations. No government nor nation can stand if its people are starving. We must do our part if the world be not consumed in a flame of anarchy.

The American people in this most critical period of their history have the opportunity to demonstrate not only their ability to assist in establishing peace on earth, but also their consecration by self-denial to the cause of suffering humanity."

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the torture of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Heppner evidence of their merit.

Mrs. H. Hughes, Court St., says: "My back ached and throbbed so badly at times I could hardly stand the pain. The way my kidneys were acting caused me a lot of distress. I had taken only a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills when I noticed a big change; my back felt stronger and my kidneys acted more regularly. One box permanently cured the trouble and since then I have enjoyed the best of health."

Does the Farmer Make the Country, or Does the Country Make the Farmer?

At one time, I was almost convinced that the country makes the farmer—but now, I feel differently.

I have been thinking of the farmers that live in this community, the farmers that come to this yard to buy their building materials, and I have decided that the farmer makes the country.

You have made two blades grow where one formerly grew.

That is why I say the farmers of this community have made it what it is.

Some of you were pioneers—the days were longer then for there were fewer comforts—there were fewer people on the roads.

First, you built a small home, barn or stock shed. Perhaps, you would not call it home today, but it was a protection to your loved ones. And, that is what we call home.

Mother Nature has done her share, for we have had rain, sun and wind. But, without your labor, the weeds would overrun the best of farm land.

You have taken a lot from the soil this year—a good crop and at top prices.

Let this community of farmers prove beyond a doubt that it is the farmer that makes the country. You can do this by building your wife a new home. She has earned it—a home with conveniences in the kitchen—a home that will save steps—a home that is warm in winter and cool in summer—a home that will be economical to build and economical in the arrangement of space.

You have been successful because you worked. We want to prove to you that we can be successful for the same reason.

We all like to be successful. We like to show our neighborhood farmers and business men that we are doing more than our part to live up to what the successful farmer and business man should do.

We will do our part.

Will you do yours?

Will your stock sheds take care of the cattle? Are they warm? And, have you plenty of light in them? Remember, light kills germs, foul odors and makes better, beefier, and healthier stock.

How is your fence? We have posts that are as good as a pair of old-fashioned knit socks. Successful farming and a good fence go hand in hand.

Do you need a walk leading from the house to the barn and sheds? Don't track mud into the house. Help keep it clean.

When you come to town with grain and farm products, don't drive home with an empty wagon. Load her up with lumber and coal. Do this now for your shortage may deprive you of the supplies later on.

Do you need some battens for the barn? Make it as warm as possible. Line the inside with tarpaper. Re-hang the old doors that do not fit.

And, by all means, protect your machinery from the weather. You would not allow your automobile to stand out all winter. Then, why leave your implements out?

And, how about the hen house? Make it dry and warm. The chickens will reward you by announcing in their own way "big, big, big, big, big egg."

My company is at your service. Come in and talk these things over. We will gladly help you in every way, and remember one price to all. There is at least one grade for the work that will give you the best job for the least amount of money.

We want to play our part in building up good farm buildings, by helping you. By rendering you SERVICE.

All stock is up to grade, bright, fresh and easy to work.

You like this country—we like it—but no town or country will ever be so good we can't improve it.

Let Our Engineer Tell You How to Build It.
