Jimmy Wilson is over from Pendleton to spend a week or two visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson. Jimmy is taking a sort of enforced vacation while he recovers from injuries received in the performance of duty at the store at which he works in Pendleton. He had his back hurt while doing some heavy lifting.

Rain and snow, following the heavy winds of the past week, have made the roads leading to town from every direction almost impassable for autos. The heavy fall of moisture will do a lot of good to growing grain, and should a big covering of snow fall, of which there is indications, a big grain crop for the coming season is practically insured.

STRAYED—From premises of Chas. Oston, about August 15, last, one 3-year-old black Gelding, one or two white hind feet, circle 3 hair brand on left shoulder, weight 1250. One brown gelding, 5 years old, broke, right ear split, brand seven F on stifle. $20 reward for information leading to recovery. j16-4t C. N. JONES, Heppner, Ore.

Glenn Jones arrived home from Mare Island, Calif., navy yard on Thursday last, having received his honorable discharge. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bush, who have been living in Portland for the past two years where Mr. Bush has engaged in different pursuits, have decided to settle down and have bought an improved thirty acres of land at Gresham, to which place they have moved. Mrs. Bush writes this paper that they will be at home to any Morrow county friends who chance to come that way.

Spencer Crawford returned home from Camp Lewis, Wash., on Thursday last, carrying with him his honorable discharge from the service of Uncle Sam. He was in the limited service division and it took him quite a bit longer to get out than it did to get in. He is glad to be home again and away from the miserable weather conditions prevailing at the present season at Camp Lewis.

The Oregon Life Insurance Company, of Portland, certainly has a record for promptness in meeting death claims on its policies. The $3,000 due on the Elmer Stamp policy was paid to his sister three days after his death. The latest is the Henry Pleiss case. Mr. Pleiss took out a policy with Oregon Life last June, paying $101.75 as the first year's premium. He died of influenza at the Heppner Sanatorium on Monday of last week, his funeral being held on Tuesday afternoon. The following Friday evening, within three days, Mr. Shutt handed the widow, Mrs. Pleiss, the Oregon Life's check for the full amount of the policy, $5,000. It is hard to beat this kind of service.

Miss Genevieve McFerrin and Miss Essie Brown left Tuesday morning for Shoshone, Wyoming, where they are taking Miss Genevieve's two nephews, Cleo and Darrel Matteson. The Matteson children have been visiting with their grandparents at Heppner for the past eight months and they are going to join their mother, Mrs. C. L. Woodard, formerly Mrs. Frank Matteson, who lives at Shoshone.

I. N. Gabrielson, of the Biological Survey Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, arrived at Heppner last week and has been engaged in giving demonstrations as to the proper procedure in the poisoning of rabbits. His methods will be carried out by County Agent Brown when the big rabbit kill comes off in the north end of the county. Mr. Brown states that everything is in readiness for this poisoning stunt just as soon as there comes a sufficient covering of snow to drive the rabbits to the feeding pens.

Waldo Vincent of Lena, who is in the Portland Medical Hospital at Portland and undergoing treatment, is reported to be getting along well. Mrs. Vincent returned from Portland the past week and at the present time is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Mattie Adkins in Heppner. She states that Mr. Vincent seemed to be suffering with a complication of ailments since his hard spell of flu, some of the trouble dating even back of his attack of the epidemic, and he will remain at the hospital until he is fully recovered.

Spring-like weather has prevailed in the Heppner country for the past week. The big chinook wind removed every bit of snow and frost from the ground and all signs of winter have apparently disappeared. Rains have been frequent and the ground is very wet at present. It would seem that it is rather early yet for such fine weather and we may well look for something of a far different and more unpleasant sort before the ides of March.

Mrs. Lena Snell Shurte went over to Boardman today, where she will attend to some matters in connection with her duties as school superintendent. She was accompanied by Mr. Shurte.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ayers departed for Portland this morning and will visit in the city for a short time.

Announcement of the death of Harry T. Bagley, prominent citizen and attorney of Hillsboro, is made in the Portland Telegram of Tuesday. Mr. Bagley died at his home in Hillsboro on Monday evening, a victim of Spanish influenza. Mr. Bagley will be remembered by many Heppner people as he lived here when he was a young man and read law in the office of J. N. Brown of this city. At the time of his death he was 44 years of age. Mr. Bagley was married to Miss Cora Rhea of this city, who survives him. They have no children.

Another source of increase in expense for telephone users comes from the new ruling that in the case of a "person to person" call if the person desired is not in or will not talk, the report of this by the operator will cost 25 per cent of the "station to station" rate.

The following reduced rates for night service on a "station to station" basis will also go into effect: 8:30 p. m. to 12 midnight, about half the "station to station" day rate; 12 midnight to 4:30 a. m., about one-fourth of the "station to station" day rate. No night calls are accepted for less than 25 cents.

A pamphlet explaining the new rates has been mailed to telephone patrons at Heppner from the Portland office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

New Telephone Toll Rates in Effect. A new method of computing telephone toll calls to points outside of the local service area, became effective throughout the United States as authorized by the postmaster general, at 12:01 a. m., January 21st, 1919.

The increase in the price of "person to person" calls is occasioned because this class of call takes over twice as much time and effort on the part of the operator as the "station to station" calls. In the latter calls, the one who originates the call does not specify the particular person to be reached at the station, and simply gives the telephone number or name and address of the subscriber at telephone called. But in a "person to person" call, the one who places the call specifies a particular person at a certain place. No "person to person" calls will be accepted for less than 25 cents.
