An Honest Saloon-Keeper's Advertisement.

Tombstone, Arizona, claims to have the frankest saloon-keeper in the United States. He keeps the "Temple Bar" saloon, and advertises his business in a remarkable manner. He has cards printed bearing the following words:

"Friends and neighbors: I am grateful for past favors; and having supplied my store with a fine line of choice liquors, allow me to inform you that I will continue to make drunkards, paupers, and beggars, for the sober, industrious and respectable part of the community to support.

"My liquors will incite riot, robbery, and blood-shed. They will diminish your comforts, increase your expenses, and shorten life. I shall confidently recommend them as sure to multiply fatal accidents and incurable diseases. They will deprive some of life, others of reason, many of character, and all of peace. They will make fathers fiends, wives widows, children orphans, and all poor. I will train your sons to infidelity, dissipation, ignorance, lawlessness, and every vice. I will cause as much temporal and eternal death as I can. I will thus 'accommodate the public.'—It may be at the loss of my never-dying soul; but I have a family to support, the business press, and the public encourage it.

"I have paid my license, and the traffic is lawful, and if I don't sell it, somebody else will. I know the Bible says: 'Thou shalt not kill,' and 'No drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven,' and I do not expect the drunkard-maker to fare any better; but I want an easy living, and I have resolved to gather the wages of iniquity and fatten on the ruin of my specie.

"I shall, therefore, carry on my business with energy, and do my best to diminish the wealth of the nation and endanger the safety of the state. As my business flourishes in proportion to your sensuality and ignorance, I will do my best to prevent moral purity and intellectual growth. 'Should you doubt my ability, I refer you to the pawn-shop, the poor-house, the police court, the hospital, the penitentiary, and the gallows, where you will find many of my best customers have gone. A sight of them will convince you that I do what I say.

"Allow me to inform you that you are fools, and I am an honest saloon-keeper."
