

League of Nations' Home Midst Stately Alps

Midst the stately Alps in the peaceful city of Geneva, Switzerland, will be located the seat of the world's "League of Nations." This is a fitting selection by the world powers, in the opinion of great leaders. The big photo shows Geneva with Rousseau's lake and a view of Mont Blanc in the background. The insert is in the heart of the city, La Place Neuve.

WILL AWARD VICTORY LOAN HONOR FLAGS

Headquarters for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District in the Victory Loan drive has announced that five different types of honor flags would be awarded for meritorious work during the campaign.

The five flags are, a community flag, industrial and organization flag, subscriber's window emblem, household 100 per cent emblem and industrial flag for individual names.

The community flag will be given to cities and towns which raise their quota in the drive. It will be a white flag with a red border and a blue V in the center. A blue star will be added for each fifty per cent that the community oversubscribes. Counties will be given a similar flag if they reach their quotas.

A special honor flag will be given by the Treasury Department to each state exceeding its quota. In addition each state raising its quota will have its name inscribed on the roll of honor to be hung in the Treasury Department building in Washington, D. C.

The industrial and organization flag will be awarded by the county committees to all lodges, organizations and industrial concerns seventy-five per cent or more of whose employees subscribe to the Victory loan.

Every subscriber to the Victory loan no matter what the amount of his purchase may be will be given a loan flag to hang in his window. The flag will be given to the individual subscriber at the time he makes his initial payment on his Victory note.

The 100 per cent household honor flag will be handed to the head of each family when a subscription has been received by the local district committee from each member in the household.

An industrial honor flag will be given to every lodge, organization or industrial concern making subscriptions to the Victory loan with room on the flag for inscribing 100 names of subscribers of the concern.

The national honor flag will be awarded by the Treasury Department to the state making the largest oversubscription to the loan. This flag will be the American flag which flew over the capitol at the time war was declared, when the armistice was signed and on other famous days of the war.

SIX MONTHS TO PAY.

The Victory Liberty Loan is here. It is the best bargain of all of America's stupendous war security issues. That financiers and economists agree upon. It is also the last of the Liberty Loans.

The loan is for $4,500,000,000 supported by notes carrying 4 1/2 percent interest and liberal tax exemption features. These are convertible into notes bearing 3 1/2 percent interest virtually free of taxation. The first will be more valuable to the poor man. The rich man will buy the second. Both series mature in 1923 but the Government has the privilege of calling them in, in 1922. The early maturity of these notes makes them a prized investment.

In order to get wide distribution of the Victory Loan among the rank and file of Americans—in order to get these notes into the humblest homes of America, the Government will sell them on time. The man who buys a Victory Note will have six months to pay for it. In other words the Government does not want the banks to take the Loan even if the banks could.

Six months to pay! Think of the years these boys of ours who have come back without legs or arms or eyes, are going to pay. Is there a man among us who calls himself an American who cannot take his share of this Loan under these terms? Can that man face these armless and legless fellows and tell them why he is not taking his share?

If the war has done one thing for this community is has made it American, heart and soul. It is going to stay American.

The test of that Americanism is its record in the Victory Loan.

Men and Women! This is the last Liberty Loan. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder—Americans all—and finish this war job that those who died shall not have died in vain.

Passing of the Melodious Mule.

By operating on a mule scientists have succeeded in making him voiceless.—News Item.

A few can touch the magic string, And noisy Fame is proud to win them.

Alas for them who never sing, But die with all their music in them!

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

How often as the dusk drew near And vagrant breezes stirred the pool, We've paused beside the path to hear The evening carol of the mule. A simple and unstudied strain, As from a heart that overflowed, It rose and fell and rose again, And died in echoes down the road.

But science with its ruthless knife, These vibrant cords has learned to sever;

That song that spoke the joy of life In zigzag bars is stilled forever. A kindly and impulsive brute In silence must pursue his ways, The song upon his lips is mute, And all his days are brayless days.

Now, science may be right of course, Perhaps the mule is no musician, And merely brayed till he was hoarse To gratify a false ambition. Perhaps the Muses passed him by, Caruso's genius may have missed him;

And yet it's sad that he must die With all that music in his system!

—James J. Montague, in New York American.

Oregon Jersey Jubilee, May 20-25.

Why Oregon Jerseymen celebrate: Because Oregon owns four of the eight present Jersey World Records; Oregon has produced since 1902 twenty-one Jersey World Records; she has produced two of the eight Gold Medal bulls of the breed; she has the highest average record herd in the world bred and tested by the owner; she has one cow that holds three world records at one time; she has the greatest record of the breed. Oregon bred and her dam and sire Oregon bred; she owns 12 of the 40 highest record cows of the breed—30%; she stands third with the number of Jerseys now under test, and the breeders that are now bringing the Oregon Jerseys further ahead are farmers of small means, with small farms and, small herds kept under practical dairy conditions.

How are we to celebrate?

One big "Jersey get-together day" in Portland with noted national men to speak to us, treat extra fine—Pres. Munn of the American Jersey Cattle Club will be with us. An auto trip over the famous Columbia Highway; an auto tour lasting several days, visiting all the Jersey herds and famous cows possible in the Willamette Valley and adjacent districts.

Three very competent men are in charge of the affairs of the week and plans to date look mighty good. If you are a Jersey Breeder or admirer of the Jersey cow, we extend to you, no matter where you live, a hearty invitation to be with us and be a part of the celebration. If you have an auto bring it if possible. All that we can do for you to make this the time of your life is a pleasure to us and we are shunning no expense so we can take care of all who come. Tell your Jersey neighbor then bring him along. Oregon Jersey Jubilee, May 20th starting at Portland and lasting for five days. For further information write Sec. O J C C. Robt. L. Burkhardt, Albany, Oregon.

More than 40 cities in the Northwest have already raised their quotas for the gigantic $105,000,000 Methodist centenary drive for rebuilding the world. Many have gone far over the total assigned to them.

"This is so far ahead of any preceding drive of the same magnitude that if this pace is maintained, the Northwest will raise its quota of $2,664,000 before May 25," said Frank C. Jackson, northwest campaign director.

Methodist churches were asked in addition as part of the centenary program to enlist one-fourth of their members pledged to pray daily. Of the required 25 percent of members, 18 percent are now enrolled, while over 10 percent of Methodists have pledged themselves to devote one-tenth of their incomes to the work of the church. Twenty-five percent is the quota assigned to each church. There are over 80,000 Methodists in the Northwest. Of the $2,664,000 quota, more than one-half this total will be spent in the Northwest on a program of city and country community churches, work with the Indians and education of immigrants, and other phases of Centenary work.
