JOHNSON WINS IN SUITAGAINST COLVIN

Damages in Sum of $6000 Awarded -Case Will be Appealed.

A great deal of interest was taken in the trial of the case of James Circuit Court by James Carty Johnson against Ben Colvin, heard against John Doherty over a range before Judge Phelps on a change of and sheep deal, did not come to trial, venue from Grant county, during the as the parties got together and settled the difficulty out of court, and on Wednesday morning and occupied the suit was dismissed. the time of the court for the balance of the week, a large number of witof the week, a large number of witnesses appearing for examination on GIVE WESTERN OREbehalf of the contending parties.

Strong legal lights appeared both for Johnson and Colvin and a strong battle was put up. This case grew out of the trial of Colvin, with others, for the larceny of thirty head of beef cattle belonging to Johnson and taken from his range during the summer of 1912. Colvin was tried and acquitted on the stealing charge space in your valuable paper to say and later was tried again on the a few words in regard to the reconcharge of perjury, and of this crime struction measures to be voted upon he was also acquitted, whereupon Johnson instituted a suit for damages, including in his claim the value of the cattle stolen, expenses and punative damages, making a total of $32,0000.

Judge Phelps placed a limit on the have never complained, but with attorneys in the presentation of their arguments before the jury and the case was handed over to that body at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and after remaining out until 8 o'clock they returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff a total sum of $6000.

Notice of appeal has been filed, and no doubt the case will be fought out fefore the supreme court.

John Kuvallis Acquitted.

The criminal case against John Kuvallis, Greck section foreman at Irrigon, came up for trial Monday. He was charged with pointing a gun at a neighbor but the jury decided that the state did not have sufficient evidence to convict and they brought in a verdict of not guilty. The case brought a number of people over from Irrigon.
