IN THE DAY'S NEWS

The wheat crop of the state of Washington this year will be over twice the size of last year's crop, according to the report of the Spokane office of the bureau of crop statistics.

Eugene is considering strongly the proposition of putting in a municipal paving plant. Besides the 25 miles of new paving, there will be much work for repair and upkeep on the old paving. The city council is getting estimates from the municipal paving plant at Portland.

The former German emperor and his son the crown prince will return to Germany as soon as the peace treaty is signed, according to a well-known German source in Amsterdam quoted in a wireless dispatch.

Orders placed in American shipyards for 500,000 tons of merchant ships to go under the French flag, have been approved by Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the United States shipping board.

D. M. Linnard, who owns a string of hotels on the Pacific coast, will soon commence the construction of the new Linnard hotel in New York to cost $7,500,000.

One of the features of the Elks' convention which is to be held at Klamath Falls is the big Elk barbecue at Harriman lodge, the mountain home of the late E. H. Harriman. Three elk are to be served along with a large assortment of a lot of other meat.

A change in the allied peace terms will allow Germany an army of 200,000 men for three years instead of 100,000 men as previously arranged. Reports from Paris also state that Germany will be admitted to the league of nations "in the near future."

Governor Ernest Lister of Washington passed away at Seattle last Saturday morning after a long fight against death. Louis F. Hart, lieutenant governor and acting governor during the illness of the chief executive, assumes the governorship. Governor Lister was a democrat and was serving his second term when the death summons came.

The annual gopher and ground squirrel shoot held by the Boleman, Montana, lodge of Elks, has resulted in the slaughter of 20,000 of these little pests. The estimate is based upon the number of tails turned in at headquarters, nearly 7000, and the fact that deceleration of hunters that twice that number which were killed fell into holes and the trophies could not be obtained.

The final goal of all ambitions which flying men have dreamed about since the Wright brothers first rose from the earth in a heavier-than-air machine was realized Sunday morning, June 15, when the young British officers, Captain John Alcock and Lieutenant Arthur Brown, landed on the Irish coast after the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic. The trip covered a distance of more than 1900 miles and the journey was made in 16 hours and 12 minutes from St. Johns, N. F., to Clifden, Ireland. The journey was made without mishap except that the machine was damaged when the landing was made in Ireland.

Gasoline Boiling Points Tell the Story

Contrary to the opinion held by a great many people, the real value of gasoline is not shown by the old-fashioned gravity test. This test tells nothing about the vaporizing and combustive qualities of the fuel, as has been pointed out by the National Bureau of Standards at Washington. Only the boiling point test is really efficient.

Boiling points, of course, mean exactly what the words say. That is, they are points on the thermometer at which a liquid will begin to boil. For a cold engine to start quickly the gasoline must vaporize at a low temperature. To get quick and smooth acceleration somewhat higher boiling points are necessary and for full power and long mileage the fuel must have still higher boiling points. High quality gasoline must have a complete and continuous chain of boiling points, ranging from the low to the high. Combustion starts with the lowest and flashes on through the uniform chain from low to high with the result that there is full-powered, instantaneous combustion. Eliminate one link and the full power chain is broken. The famous Red Crown gasoline has the complete power chain.

The Oregon Voter says: All five of Oregon's congressmen have important committee appointments—Senator Chamberlain, Public Lands; Senator McNary, Chairman of Irrigation; Representative Sinnott, Chairman of Public Lands; Representative Hawley, Ways and Means; Representative McArthur, Naval Affairs. Keep sending them back and they will send something back to Oregon.

Shearers Go To Shaniko.
S. A. Moore, Al Searcy, Joe Hurt, Glen Hadley, Holly Leathers, John Howell, Carl Leathers and Pearl Howell, who have been shearing at the Barker ranch, passed through town Tuesday on their way to Shaniko, where they will shear at the J. # ITS UP TO YOU

There is just as much reason for efficiency on the farm as there is in an automobile factory turning out nine hundred thousand automobiles in a single year.

Efficiency is always the basis of a large production

With the government guaranteeing the price of wheat, and the increasing demand for beef, pork and milk cows, the thinking, efficient farmer is going to make big profits this year.

You will need better and larger storage facilities for your crops. You will need larger housing room for your implements and machinery. If you raise cattle, you will need a larger barn, perhaps a new one. And now is the time to get these improvements under way, for delay may very easily prevent them.

As an intelligent reader of the daily news reports from European countries, you know there is a demand for building materials beyond any previous record. Thousands of homes are to be replaced, new commercial buildings of ever description will have to be constructed.

And the capacity of the mills of this country will be taxed to the utmost. We are able to make deliveries now, but cannot guarantee to do so, if you wait too long.

Let us go over your needs now, help you plan such improvements, as are necessary, and get out the materials. They will insure greater production on your farm, and more profit.
