

Austin Devin Rents Wheat Ranch and Will Raise Cattle

There is just as good money to be made in the cattle business as there is in growing wheat. So thinks Austin Devin, prominent young farmer of the Sand Hollow county, and he has leased the ranch to Ollie Ferguson.

Mr. Devin, who is associated with his father, M. J. Devin, has bought up considerable range in the mountains and already has over 100 head of cattle. He expects to get into the business quite extensively. Mr. Devin raised some excellent wheat this year, his forty fold making a total of 59 and his bluestem 61. However, the bluestem did not yield so well per acre, going 17 bushels, while the forty fold made a little better than 30 bushels per acre.

Barker Estate Order Made.

Letters of administration were issued today to Beulah Barker to be administratrix of the estate of Mary A. Barker. E. P. Jarmon, Joseph Cunha, Sr., and R. B. Stanfield were named appraisers of the estate—E. O.

Homes Lack Running Water.

Of 550 farm homes reported in the O. A. C. home demonstration survey 502 had no running water in the house but carried it an average distance of 36 feet. That calls for traveling 72 feet for one bucket of water. The homes have no sink and the water has to be carried out again, perhaps about as far. The practice may make good walkers of the women but it also boosts the high price of shoes.

Water Master Busy But No Water At Baker

Loy M. Turner, former Morrow county surveyor who recently went to Baker to accept the position of water master, writes The Gazette-Times that "business is rushing for the water master, but there is no water. The old timers say this is the driest season that they can remember in forty years."

Mr. Turner says in most cases the farmers had a fairly good crop of alfalfa but the second crop is almost an entire failure, with a few exceptions.

Elks to Make Up Purse for Widow of Jimmy Bannon

The Elks in convention at Klamath Falls have made plans to raise a purse of $5000 to be presented to the widow of the late Jimmy Bannon. Mr. Bannon was a traveling salesman for a candy company and was well known in Pendleton where he and his family made their home. He died last fall from influenza and is survived by his widow and five children.

A check of $500 presented by Bend lodge No. 1371, the baby lodge of the state, started what is known as the Jimmy Bannon fund, and chances are a mounted elks' tooth is bringing in hundreds of dollars each hour to the fund.

"Pioneer" Hotel Was Once Run by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Depew of Klamath Falls

The old Pioneer hotel, which, true to its name, was one of the pioneer hotels of Heppner, was at one time during its career, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Depew. Mr. and Mrs. Depew passed through Heppner Monday from their home in Klamath Falls. They were on their way to Pendleton, Pomeroy and Dayton to visit with relatives.

In the earlier days of Morrow county history, the Depews were farmers on upper Willow creek and a great many of their old friends still live in and around Heppner. Mrs. Lee Matlock, formerly of Heppner, is a sister of Mrs. Depew.

The Depew family left here in 1902 and since going to Klamath Falls they have acquired a large alfalfa ranch. Mr. Depew raised 900 tons of hay on his place last year.

"Heppner has a nice camping ground provided for tourists, I am glad to say," said Mrs. Depew, looking over the county fair grounds. "Why it's much better than anything Klamath Falls has, and the best we have found since leaving home." Mr. and Mrs. Depew were accompanied by their small son and Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Turner of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Turner is their daughter.

Establishes Business at Hardman.

Vic Grosbens, who was in business for a long number of years in Heppner up until a little over a year ago, has opened up a pastime in Hardman. Mr. Grosbens has owned property there for some time and his new business is located in one of his buildings. He is contemplating some very extensive improvements to the interior of the place.

War Veteran Returns.

William Valentine, son of Chas. Valentine, returned to his Morrow county home last week after spending several months in France. Prior to returning to the United States, Mr. Valentine was with the American army of Occupation along the Rhine.

Leave for Missouri Home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes left Heppner on Wednesday, August 6, for their old home in Hartsville, Mo. Mrs. Grimes is a sister of Billie and Harvey McRoberts, well known Heppner men. Billie McRoberts bought a ranch above town from Orve Rasmus after selling out his interest in the garage to Harold Cohn. Mr. McRoberts has named his place "Valley Farm Ranch" and has now become a rancher right. They like the ranch fine, with the cool water and fresh air. Mrs. McRoberts will move with the children to town the first of September so that her little daughter, Reta, may attend school. The McRoberts town home has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crego during the summer.

Ritchie-McMillan.

A quiet but pretty wedding was an event in Lexington on Wednesday, August 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McMillan, when their daughter Donna became the wife of James Ritchie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Pointer. A wedding supper was held at the Cummings ranch.

The bride is one of Lexington's most popular young women, being a graduate of the Lexington high school.

Walter Hayes of Butter creek spent a few days in Heppner the past week while on his way to The Dalles.
