Hyperopia

People who see well in the distance but poorly near by are commonly termed

"Far Sighted"

But they are not actually so, for they really see no further than others. Their eye-defect results in NEAR vision difficult or exhausting, that's all.WE call this "Hyperopia." Where the defect is great or the person elderly, poor distance as well as poor near vision results.Hyperopia requires careful correction with suitable glasses.
