

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Eddie Sheridan of Lena was a Heppner visitor on Monday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clair Ashbaugh of Hardman last Friday.

Chas. H. Latourell returned last Sunday night from a business trip to Portland.

Frank McCabe was in the city Monday from his ranch in the east end of the county.

W. H. Cronk, local Tum A Lum manager, spent Saturday in Lexington on business.

Harry Cummings returned on Saturday from Portland, where he went earlier in the week on business.

Lee Sprinkel underwent an operation at the local sanatorium on Monday for appendicitis and is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

Norman Chapman of Portland, who travels for the Kilham Stationery & Printing Co., was in Heppner last Friday, calling upon the trade.

Attorney F. McMenamin is spending a few days this week at his large sheep ranch near Alderdale, Wash., where he is associated with Pat Ward.

Harold A. Cohn and Sheriff George McDuffee returned the last of the week from Canyon City, where they had been called as witnesses in the Scharff case.

Joseph Perry of Julietta, Idaho has arrived in Heppner to be with his brother, Wm. Perry, who is in the local hospital. Another brother in California has been notified of Mr. Perry's illness.

Miss Elaine Sigbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Sigbee, is out of school this week, being confined to her home under quarantine. The doctor pronounced her case as scarlet fever. She is not seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Clark returned Sunday from Bend, where they had been called by the serious illness of Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. O. M. Whittington, who had been suffering from peritonitis. Her condition is greatly improved at the present time.

Henry Blahm, who made a lot of money raising alfalfa hay and dairy cows on Willow creek just below Heppner, spent a few days here the past week on business. Mr. Blahm now lives in Walla Walla. He sold his creek ranch to Adam Blahm.

R. D. Cannon, returning from the big Portland livestock show, says that he has no use for a cow such as was on exhibition there last week. She gives 15 gallons of milk a day, and Robert is of the opinion that is too much milk.—Fossil Journal.

Dan B. Stalter, local mining man, left Tuesday morning for Portland where he will spend a few days before going on to Payette, Idaho to visit with his daughter, Mrs. H. Van-Volkenberg. Mr. Stalter expects to be absent from Heppner the greater part of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Clabough of Pendleton are visiting for a few days at the home of Mrs. Clabough's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Childsey. Mr. and Mrs. Clabough expect to leave in a few days for Winfield, Kansas, where they will make their home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brady arrived in the city the first of the week from Portland to visit with friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Brady, we understand, will make their home on a ranch near Cecil. Mrs. Brady was formerly Miss Blanche Minor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor.

Chester Austin, who recently arrived in Heppner from Portland has taken a position with the Standard Oil Company here. Mr. Austin was in the service of Uncle Sam until a few months ago, and was about to receive his commission as an aviator when the armistice was declared.

Geo. D. Anderson passed through Heppner Tuesday with a band of the Hynd Brothers sheep, which were being transferred from the mountain ranch on Freezeout to the Jack Hynd ranch near Cecil. Five cars were loaded out from Heppner Tuesday morning, the snow getting too deep for convenient trailing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor of Portland are spending a few days in Heppner this week.

Attorney Sam E. Van Vactor returned the first of the week from a business trip to Portland.

Gay M. Anderson, deputy county clerk, is spending the week at home, helping to care for members of his family who are sick.

Small orchard, or farm in Montana as part payment on large wheat ranch in Morrow county.—Brown & McMenamin.

Hanson Hughes, junior member of the Sam Hughes Company is spending a few days in Portland on business, having gone down to the metropolis last Monday.
