

Xmas Candies

for the kiddies, and for the grown-ups, too, for that matter and every housewife will be able to fill the market basket fully and completely here for the Christmas dinner

The Finest Line of Fruits, Nuts, Dates and Raisins in the city.

That the Christmas Season will be a merry one and that the new year will be filled with health and happiness and prosperity is the wish of

Sam Hughes Company

Reliable Merchandise

Telling the Story of His Life

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Roy Missidine returned Wednesday from a visit to her parents' home in Portland.

Mrs. S. A. Barlow of Eight-mile has gone to Goldson, Ore., for the remainder of the winter.

Herbert Driskell does repair and cabinet work at Denisee's shop on Main street near the post office.

E. H. Hall of the Oregon Garage has been visiting during the past two weeks with his family in Portland.

W. H. Padberg, well known Lexington farmer, made a business trip to The Dalles the first of the week to look after some land matters.

Mrs. Anna Frederic arrived in Heppner Wednesday from Carson, Wash., to spend the holidays with her daughter, Miss Norma Frederic.

Miss Lovelle Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas of this city, has arrived home for the Christmas holidays. She has been attending school in Portland.

Miss Mary Notson, who is a student at the Willamette University arrived Wednesday to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson during the holidays.

Miss Loa Briggs, popular student at the Willamette University in Salem, arrived home on Monday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Briggs.

Miss Helen Barratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barratt, who is a student at the Oregon Agricultural College, arrived home on Monday to spend the Christmas holidays.

Fire in the Chas. Swindig home last Friday morning at 8 o'clock did serious damage before it was extinguished. The fire started from an oil stove in the basement.

Geo. W. Millholland, local Standard Oil agent, has been having serious trouble with his eyes the past ten days and he is considering a trip to Portland to secure services of a specialist.

S. E. Notson returned Monday from Salem, where he went to attend a meeting of the district attorneys of the state last week. While in Salem Mr. Notson enjoyed a visit with his son Robert, who is a student at Salem high school.

F. A. McMenamin, who left last week for his sheep ranch near Alderdale, Wash., returned home Saturday, after experiencing some trying times in making connections with the trains running up and down the river. Owing to the poor service, Mr. McMenamin was delayed about three days in his arrival home.

Max Rogers, Emmett Hughes and Vawter Crawford, Jr., students at the Oregon Agricultural College, arrived home for the holidays from Corvallis Wednesday. The severe cold weather and fuel shortage in the college town hastened the vacation period by several days and let the students out of the final examinations.

John and Tom McIntyre of Ceel, members of the well known sheep firm of McIntyre Bros., spent a few days in Heppner last week on matters of business. They recently closed up deals for several parcels of land in Gilliam County, becoming owners of some additional 6000 acres. This is land that they had been leasing in past years.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Clabaugh of Pendleton left last Friday on a trip to the home of Mr. Clabaugh's parents at Winfield, Kansas, where they will visit for several weeks. Mrs. Clabaugh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Chidsey of this city.

The Frank Turner family wish to heartily thank their friends and neighbors for the interest manifested in them, during their recent quarantine for scarlet fever. There is no doubt but that the best people on earth live in Heppner.

Mrs. Iva Bowker arrived last Friday from Portland to spend a few days visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Clark of near Heppner.

Ray Oviatt, who recently sold his half interest in the Peoples Cash Market to McNamer & Sorensen, left last Friday on a brief business trip to Wasco, Sherman county.

Pimples, bad breath, sallow color—Ugh! It's awful—take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea and be in the swim.—Humphrey's Drug Co.

Leonard Wingfield, prominent Grant County stockman is spending a few days in Heppner on business.

Chance Wilson, Grant County stockman, is over from his home near Monument this week.

Marcellous Morgan of Reek Siding, was a last of the week visitor in Heppner.

A. D. Reid returned last Friday from a brief business trip to Pendleton.

Well, For Land Sake

Is it possible that soil capable of producing, with proper cultivation and without the aid of artificial enrichment, as much as 25 to 50 bushels to the acre, can be had in Morrow County, Oregon, for from $30 to $50 per acre? It is, yes sir.

You Don,t Say So

That stock ranches can be had in Morrow County at from $10 to $15 per acre—good pasture and worlds of running water, and that alfalfa farms can be had at from $150 per acre up? Yes, that's what I said.

Well, Say, Bill, Can You Beat It?

No, not in these United States. Morrow County stands in a class by itself—with good wheat farms selling at from one-fifth to one half what exactly the same quality of land is selling for everywhere else. You of course know this can't last long, and that right now is the time to invest.

E. M. SHUTT, Heppner, Oregon

has several choice wheat ranches, a couple of alfalfa farms and two or three fine stock ranches for sale on easy terms, and is ready to talk business with you at the drop of a hat.

Shutt has spent the past 22 years in Morrow county as newspaper publisher, Sheriff and Tax-Collector, wheat farmer and dairyman. He knows Morrow county like a book. He will give you facts, not theories.

Buy A Farm of Him and Prosper

Office Upstairs In Court House

