University Will Receive Battleship Oregon Gun.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan.
19.—The University of Oregon is soon to receive from the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, Washington, one of the small guns mounted on the battleship Oregon when she made her historic dash from San Francisco clear around South America to participate in the battle of Santiago in 1898. A letter received at the office of President Campbell from Rear Admiral H. A. Field, commandant at Bremerton, gave the news that the piece would be lent to the University if desired. It is expected to arrive in a few days.

The gun which helped win the war with Spain will be suitably inscribed and placed in an appropriate position here as a memento of Oregon's namesake vessel. The University already has the old flag which was carried by the Oregon during the war. For a long time the flag hung on the second floor of the administration building.

Peace First, Then League, Is Oregon Students' Vote.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan.
19.—"Make peace with Germany first, and leave the League of Nations to be settled afterward," is the attitude of a one-vote plurality of those students of the University of Oregon who took enough interest to vote in the intercollegiate treaty referendum. The vote for this proposition was 35, as against 27 for ratification of the treaty and the league covenant without amendment or reservation.

Of the faculty, a plurality of those voting cast their votes for reserved ratification, with 24 for this proposition and 16 for a proposition favoring any reasonable compromise which would bring immediate ratification and an equal number for the "mild" reservations favored by the McNary group of senators.

The vote of students and faculty did not reach 500 out of a total of more than 1500.

Head of A Family.

Unmarried men and women who are bread-winners for others are granted special exemptions on their earnings before figuring the Income Tax now being collected. Although a return must be filed by every unmarried person, and by every married person living apart from wife or husband, who had a net income of $1, 000 or more during 1919, recognition is made in the law of the home burden carried, and relief from excessive taxation is especially provided.

In addition to the ordinary personal exemption of $1000, an additional exemption of $1000 is granted to "heads of families"; and there is also provided an exemption of $200 for each dependent under 18 years of age or who is mentally or physically defective. The $200 for each dependent may be claimed by any taxpayer who is the chief support of the family or relatives. It does not include others who are earning their living, and it does not apply to the wife or husband of the married taxpayer, even though such person may have become a total burden.

The person who claims exemption as "head of a family" must qualify for it. Two single persons who divide between them, more or less equally, the financial and other responsibilities of a household cannot claim that either one is the head of the family. But if a single person actually assumes the total responsibility of the household and is aided by having one of his brothers or sisters support himself and contributing an amount that could not practically be considered more than his board, such trivial assistance must not be allowed to interfere with his clear claim for exemption.

SNOW HOUSES QUICKLY BUILT

Buildings That Satisfy Eskimos Can Be Put Together in Something Like Six Hours.

It takes about six hours to build a first-class winter residence in Eskimo land. The material, snow cut from a bank that must have been made in a single storm, must be solid and homogeneous, fine, yet soft enough to be easily cut with saw or snow knife. The blocks are three or four feet long, two feet high and six to eight inches thick.
They are piled on one another, something like in building a brick house, save that they are placed to form a spiral, inclined inward, to form a dome-shaped structure. When finished the house is 10 or 12 feet high and 12 to 15 feet in diameter, and has the appearance of a hemisphere of snow set on its flat side. An entrance, big enough to crawl through, is made on one side and on either side of it are cubby-holes for the storage of harness, spare food, etc. A window is cut in the wall and covered with seals' intestines, sewed together. These are translucent and admit daylight. In lieu of that a slab of clear frosted water ice may be used. The house is lined with skins to prevent the warm air from the inside from melting the snow roof. Between the skins and the wall there is always a layer of cold air. There is also a small hole cut in the roof for ventilation, and to provide a draught for the family lamp.
On the side of the house opposite the entrance a broad snow bench is built, with a long pole for an edge. This is the family bed. For a mattress a thick layer of shrubs is spread upon it and over those many deerkins clothes, when taken off, are rolled up and put under the skins for pillows.
One blanket of skins serves to cover the whole family.

WISDOM IN JUDGE'S CHARGE

Irish Jurist Warned "Good Men and True" Against Being "Obtuscu-lated" by the Lawyers.

Round the library fire in the Four Courts, Dublin, Irish barristers have gathered to spin yarns of their profession while waiting for briefs.
One of these stories was of a jurist charge to a jury given by a Gaelic judge, which is recalled by a writer in the Irish World, as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Jury," a judge began when counsel for the defense had concluded an eloquent and elaborate address. "Gentlemen of the Jury, there are two courses, do you observe, to be adopted by counsel. The first is simple enough. If he has a middling case he endeavors to convince the jury.
But if he has no case at all, if the evidence is all one way and the guilt of the prisoner is as plain, do you see, as the nose on his face, and no one but a fool or a juror could be asked to have a doubt about it, then counsel endeavors to obfuscate the jury! For counsel seems to think that when intelligent men come into a jury box they hang up their common sense with their hats and coats on the pegs behind them."

The Days of '49.

California was as popular 70 years ago as it is now, judging by an extract from a copy of a Missouri paper in the possession of a Blythe (Cal.) man, dated 1849. The extra is an advertisement for an auction sale.

"Public sale, state of Missouri, county of Pike. To whom it may concern: The undersigned will, on Tuesday, September 25, A. D. 1849, sell at public outcry for cash, on the premises, where Coon creek crosses the Old Mission road, the following chattels, to-wit: Six yoke oxen with yokes and chains; two wagons with beds, three nigger wenchies, four buck niggers, three nigger boys, two prairie plows, twenty-five steel tracks, one harrel pickled cabbage, one hoghead tobaco, a lot of nigger hoes, one spinning wheel, one loom, thirteen fox homms, a lot of coon, fox and skunk skins and a lot of other articles. I tan game to California.

Gets 'Em on the Fly.

The Wilson warbler is the champion fly-catcher of the United States. His method of getting most of his food is to dash out from the limb of a tree and snatch passing insects on the wing. They catch other insects which are flitting about or sitting on the follage or blossoms of the trees. You will often find these little birds in apple trees when in bloom. Their olive green and yellow plumage harmonize with the green leaves of the trees.
The male bird has a black crown patch on the top of its head, while on the female this cap is greenish like the back. This bird is found throughout the eastern United States but winters in Central America.

Assyria's Great Queen.

Semiramis is called the "legendary" queen of Assyria, but Babylon was an old city before Nebuchadnezzar took its dust. Semiramis had been the wife of Omnes, general in the king's army.
In the siege of Bactria she herself led a forlorn hope against her tower, King Ninus resolved to make her his queen. Omnes committed suicide. At the king's death, Semiramis ruled the kingdom, founded Babylon, conquered Persia and Egypt, and made incen-sions into India, where in personal combat with King Strabobates she was wounded. She died at sixty-two, buddler, terror, charmer—a great woman.

Optimist.

Growler—Yes, in the end, we all get six feet of earth.

Cheerup—What would you do if they discovered oil on your plot before you died?

Hammered In.

"Thorough, though, very thorough.
What you learn there, you know."

Is Author of Verses.

Frank A. Doble of Oregon formerly a school teacher in the southern part of Cassia county, has published a booklet of verses written by him while a soldier in Europe. He was corporal in Co. M, 23rd Infantry.
The rhymes as he styles them, cover experiences in France, Belgium, Luxemburg and Germany. They will be read with interest by the many friends of Mr. Doble and by his comrades in arms. He makes no claim that they are for general circulation, or of wide public interest.—Pendleton Tribune.

Mrs. Rachel Ward, mother of Frank and Willis Ward of this county, died at her home in Corvallis on Saturday, January 24th. The remains arrived in Heppner on Monday evening, being taken to Hardman, where the funeral was held yesterday.
Mrs. Ward was a pioneer resident of Morrow county, having made her home on the Ward farm near Gooseberry for many years prior to moving to Corvallis a number of years ago with her husband.

Old Age
Postponed

The appearance of old age can be postponed by having your teeth properly looked after. Registered Dentists using the E. R.
Parker System are especially capable of doing this by making fine crowns, bridges and artificial teeth.

Some men and women look ten years younger after these dentists have done the necessary work. So much depends upon making artificial teeth look natural that you should be glad to know where to go for the right kind of work.
Another thing about E. R. Parker System Dentists: They make a specialty of saving time for out-of-town patients, so these patients won't have to come in so often.
You will be surprised to learn how reasonable the prices are, too, and also to find out that you need have no fear of pain.

There are 24 E. R. Parker System offices, the nearest being at 755 Main Street, Pendleton, 326 Washington Street, Portland.
