Lloyd George says, "The most important workshop is the home." One thing sure, there is no trouble with the nation if the home goes right. No publication in the United States has done, is doing, or purposes to do more for downright, outright Americanism than the Youth's Companion.

But the way it does it is the thing. Its plan is to bring each week into the home a rich feast of the best things to read, gathered from the finest sources only—and for all ages.

It crowds out the cheap and inferior by bringing in the best. Every line of every issue creates an atmosphere of home and family and national life. Fifty-two issues a year crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun for all hands. Subscribe now and get the early chapters of Sons of Liberty, the 10-week serial by Theodore Goodridge Roberts.

And here is a combination of reading that will save you money and supply every taste in the family.

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues—$2.50.

"Speaking of Heppner," says J. W. Morrow, who returned yesterday from eastern Oregon, "everything is humming. The city has let a contract to bring water 15 miles at a cost of $100,000. A new store building of reinforced concrete will soon be completed, and it is the nicest, most attractive building that I have ever seen in any small town anywhere. The Elks are building a temple, with stores underneath, which will be finished in 60 days, and there is a new hotel being constructed. All of these buildings are substantial, being of steel and concrete. There is a great shortage of houses, and places formerly classified as shacks are being repaired and improved and made attractive. Because of the house shortage some people are dwelling in tents. Heppner is more prosperous and active now than ever before in its history, and it looks as though this condition will continue for a long time. And on top of it all, the weather is delightful."—Oregonian.

J. M. Morrow, general salesman for the Pendleton Marble Works, of which T. A. Wylie is proprietor, is making this territory as usual. He expects to make a shipment of monuments into Heppner this spring as in the past. adv. 1mo.
