

COOLING MOTH OUTDONE BY FRUIT WORM PEST

New Insect Enemy Injures Pear More Than His Old Ally, Says College Specialist.

"Fruit worms caused more injury to pears in 1919 than codling moth," is the assertion of A. L. Lovett, entomologist at O. A. C. In well-sprayed commercial apple orchards included in our tests codling moth injury was less than 1 per cent. Fruit worm injury was twice as heavy. Pears suffer more serious attack than apples.

While a comparatively new pest the fruit worms are rapidly assuming serious proportions.

Tests at the central experiment station at O. A. C. and at Hood River station indicate that lead arsenate 2 pounds (powder) to 100 gallons of dilute spray solution as applied in the pink will control the pest.

Poison sprays in the calyx application are too late to effectively check the worms.

Sunflower Stage Good.

Sunflower silage is a close competitor with corn silage in eastern Oregon, says J. S. Jones, chemist of the O. A. C. experiment station. He has prepared a table showing from analyses made at the station the content in percentages of the elements of the two in dry matter—the corn has more acids, less ash, less crude proteins, less ether extract, less crude fiber, and more nitrogen-free extract.

Patron-Teachers Will Hear About Educational Measures

The Patron-Teachers Association will hear the educational tax measures discussed at their next regular meeting on April 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium by C. E. Woodson. These measures are to be voted upon at the May primaries and the future of education in Oregon, so far as progress is concerned, depends upon a favorable vote of these measures, as they carry a millage tax, both for the support of the institutions of higher education as well as the public schools.

A social evening will be spent at which time a musical program will be given. This will include a number by Mrs. MacAnally's class, a solo by Miss Selling and a reading by Mrs. Opal Clark.

Ralph Jones Injured When Team Runs Away Here

Ralph Jones was seriously injured in this city last Thursday afternoon when his team ran away. In order to escape what seemed the inevitable crash, Mr. Jones leaped from the wagon, but did not get clear, as the wheels passed over both legs. The bone in one leg was badly cracked. The injured man is now at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. A. Richardson, on Center street, where he is under the care of a physician. He was getting ready to leave for his ranch east of town when the accident occurred.

Chandler Garage Opens In Charge of Ray Ager

The Chandler Garage, Martin Reid, proprietor, has opened on lower Main street with Ray Ager, mechanic in charge. Mr. Ager was formerly a partner with E. H. Hall in the Oregon garage. While the prime object of the new garage will be to give service to Chandler cars, all lines of repair work in the automobile field will be taken care of by Mr. Ager. Mr. Reid is local dealer for the Chandler and Cleveland cars and also Garford trucks and carries a large stock of tires.

Liberal reward will be paid for the return of the cap and worm taken from above Lone Rock. (signed) Moonshiner.

MATERNITY HOME

I have arranged to take a limited number of maternity cases at my home in east Heppner and assure the very best attention and care to all patients.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Look out for the truck. Help us clean up the back yards and the front yards. The city, at no small expense, is going to have the city truck gather your rubbish, garbage, etc., on "clean up days."

They will haul all your rubbish gratis, but do not expect them to clean up for you. Do your part, and put all rubbish in boxes, barrels and sacks, and have it easy of access for the truck man. Heppner is rising, like the Phoenix bird from her ashes. We have the assurance of an adequate water supply. Let us get busy and be ready for it.

SANITARY COMMITTEE CIVIC CLUB PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Zink, residents of the north lone section, were visitors in Heppner Tuesday.

J. A. Adams, Hardman farmer, was in the city on Tuesday.

August Anderson, accompanied by his mother, spent Tuesday in Heppner from his farm home in Gooseberry.

CINEMA CHUCKLES

Hope Loring editor of serial and western scenarios at Universal City, was thinking of a new kick for the next episode in a current thriller as she emerged from a restaurant in Hollywood, and in her preoccupation stepped into the wrong car and drove away. Miss Loring owns a dark blue coupe and her car was standing next to its twin sister in front of the cafe. She drove several blocks before she realized the mistake and then broke all speed records in returning to the place before the police started on her trail for stealing an automobile. The next day Priscilla Dean, Universal star, paid the writer a visit in her office and incidentally told her that her car had been stolen the day before, but when she returned with the police the car had been replaced. Priscilla is now wondering why she received a large bouquet of flowers the next day with Hope Loring's card attached.

Tears Aoki, the Universal Japanese star, was working on a set adjacent to one being used for "Virginia," in which appear Kathleen O'Connor and Dagmar Godowsky, while Mary McLaren was filming some scenes on a stage less than a hundred feet away. Miss Aoki invited these ladies to tea on her set, promising them some choice Japanese tea, but requesting the guests to bring other refreshments. Miss Godowsky brought a jar of Russian caviare and Miss McLaren brought a dozen Scotch. Had Miss O'Connor provided a quart of Irish whiskey the party might have been a great international success. But Kathleen's contribution consisted of some dairy sandwiches and a considerable appetite.

Little Breezy Mason, the precocious youngster appearing in Universal western dramas, was displaying his toy bank and its copper contents. "Where did you get all the pennies?" Hoot Gibson asked the youngster.

"Mamma gives me a cent every time I take castor oil without crying," replied Breezy.

"But what do you do with all the money?"

"Mamma buys castor oil with it," answered the young financier quite cheerfully.

John Schmidt, a member of the local section crew on the O. W. received severe bruises last Monday evening when the gas speeder upon which he and other members of the crew were riding, went through an open switch in the yards. Mr. Schmidt was thrown violently onto the rails ahead of the speeder and it was only by good luck that the car was kept from running onto him.

MARNE MEMORIAL POSTER

JUST as the school children of France gave for their country's gift to the United States—the Statue of Liberty—so will American school children contribute "one cent and upward" for "America's Gift to France," a monumental statue by Frederick MacMonnies, the noted American sculptor. Mr. MacMonnies is contributing his services toward the monument which, it is estimated, will cost $250,000.

The poster shown herewith, is by Albert Sterner, noted American portrait painter. It typifies the tribute which this country will pay to the French through the Marne monument. The poster will be displayed in cities, towns, and villages, and will designate many of the places where contributions may be made during the week of March 22—a free-will offering, in which numbers of contributors, rather than size of contributions, will be sought from school children and others.

Contributions are now being received at National Headquarters, 150 Nassau street, New York, by Charles H. Sablin, president of one of New York's largest trust companies, who is treasurer of the fund.

The memorial will be erected at

Pretty New York School Girl Helps Spread Appeal for Pennies for "America's Gift to France."

Meaux, on the Marne, and will rival in size and grandeur of design the Statue of Liberty.

FARM POINTERS THAT POINT TO SUCCESS

Day-to-Day Hints on Big and Little Items of Program, by O. A. C. Specialists.

Farm Crops: The supply of seed corn is running short, and now is a good time to figure on next year's supply. Prevent the shortage next year by raising better seed this year, more of it, and preventing damage from freezing.

Farm Management: Get a farm record book from your county agent or local bank—then start your accounts from March 1, or better still from the first of the year in order to aid in figuring income tax for this year.

Poultry: Prepare for a good egg yield next year by hatching chicks in March and April from eggs laid by good layers.

Don't waste high price feed and high price labor in hatching and rearing chicks from hens that did not lay enough to pay for their feed and labor costs.

Horticulture: Now is the time to plow under cover crops sowed last fall. Don't let the cover crops get too high and old as they will not rot easy. Cover crops if handled properly will decompose quickly and add fiber to the soil thereby increasing the water holding capacity. Don't delay any longer than necessary to plow under the cover crop.

Fred Ashbaugh was down from Hardman Monday looking after business matters in this city. Mr. Ashbaugh and wife recently returned from a visit of several weeks at the home of Sherman Black, Bliss, Idaho. Mrs. Black is a sister of Mrs. Ashbaugh and together they enjoyed a visit from their father who was out from the East. Fred states that he will soon be sawing lumber at his mill and hopes to be in position to take care of his ever increasing business.
