Great Play "The Hornet's Nest," Star Theater Tonight

A great play, "The Hornet's Nest" in which Earle Williams takes the part of Ashe Calvin, will be seen at the Star theater tonight. The play is taken from the popular novel by Mrs. Wilson Woodrow. In the clutch of a beautiful, unscrupulous woman, his name and honor at stake, Ashe Calvin flees the country, assumes the name of a notorious crook and has a most thrilling and exciting time getting himself clear of the complicated network that grows up around his novel station in life. The entire feature abounds with thrills and sparkling action. Prolonged suspense and mystery weave their web through the story until the last scenes are flashed on the screen.

Are Morrow County Fords Better than Those of Umatilla

Can it be that the little universal fiver as used in Morrow county has a class and dash to it not possessed by the Henry over in Umatilla county? There must be something about our local Fords that appeal. Anyway there was an auto thief from Pendleton who thought Jimmie Sheridan's was just enough better to make the exchange worth while. This man who took Henry Wheeler's Ford at Pendleton without asking permission, got as far as the Sand Hollow ranch of John Kilkenny last Saturday evening. When he got a glimpse of Mr. Sheridan's car he quickly made the

Fred Krugg Adjudged Insane Taken to East Oregon Hospital

Fred Krugg of this city, was adjudged insane on Tuesday and was taken to the Eastern Oregon hospital at Pendleton for treatment on Thursday. Mr. Krugg has been acting queer for several days and would stand for hours in one spot deeply meditating, apparently. While his condition is not serious nor of a dangerous turn, it was thought best to take him where he could be properly cared for.

Farm Bureau and Agricultural College Get Quick Action

About two weeks ago the chairman of the alfalfa and irrigation committee of the Boardman Farm Bureau, Mr. Cobb, called the attention of the County Agent to some alfalfa which had died during the winter. An inspection indicated that drainage was probably necessary. Accordingly a request was put in to the Agricultural College for a drainage expert and Prof. W. L. Powers, professor of soils, irrigation and drainage, was at once dispatched. He arrived and went over the Boardman proposition with Mr. Dean and Mr. Hunt the day before the West Extension Irrigation District Board meeting. A committee from the Boardman Farm Bureau, the County Agent and Mr. Powers met with the District Board and with the Recla-amation Service at Hermiston on Tuesday of this week, at which plans were arranged by which the Irrigation District with the co-operation of the settlers will institute proceedings at once, that is within the next few weeks, to relieve the present emergency and take away the threatening water, while action will be instituted by the Reclamation Service to secure the assistance of their body in putting in permanent drains. The Engineers of the Reclamation Service will make the necessary surveys. This is a matter of vital importance to a small body of land which was standing in need of drainage very materially, and the fact that it was possible to secure expert advice from the Agricultural College has been of distinct service to the northern part of the county. Alfred Anderson was in the city from his Eight Mile farm home on Wednesday.
