On Monday every available car in Cecil filled to the limit with passengers left for Boardman determined to see for themselves what "water and perseverance" could really do. We heard several comments during the week, too lengthy to repeat, but certainly very good. All arrived at the same conclusion, namely, that for perseverance, prosperity, peace, plenty and happiness, Boardman heads the list.

GRANDPAW

Things ain't like what they used to be In dear old grandpaw's day. Butchers sold the 'chaper cuts' And gave the bones away.

Grandpaw bought a suit of clothes, Suspenders, they were free; Price was sixteen ninety-eight, In eighteen-ninety three.

Grandpaw had a bank account Of some amount, they say; But things ain't like what they used to be

In dear old grandpaw's day. Grandpaw used to get frolicsome And see a burlesque show. That's where we can smile at him, He had to pay to go.

We just walk down the avenue, The boulevard or street, There's no musical comedy That offers such a treat.

All the charms pulchritudinous Are found on display— For gowns ain't like what they used to be

BETTER LIVE STOCK CRUSADE

Nation-wide Campaign to Eliminate Scrub Sires From Breeding—Emblem Given Owner.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Better Sires—Better Stock." This is the slogan of a national better-live-stock crusade, to get actively in motion October 1, that is announced by the United States department of agriculture, working in cooperation with the state agricultural colleges and other agencies interested in live-stock improvement. The campaign looks forward to the future food needs of this country's increasing population and results from long and careful observation of the live-stock industry in this country, and was planned after extensive consultation with specialists and breeders. The plan is to hasten the replacement of the multitude of scrub domestic animals in the United States with good purebred or high-grade stock, and also to improve the quality of purebreds themselves. The goal in view is greater efficiency in production.

The campaign will be the first organized crusade in a large country to improve all live stock simultaneously. It will interfere in no way with any work in live-stock improvement now being conducted, but makes all the work more definite and effective by providing official recognition for progressive breeders.

The campaign will be supervised from the department of agriculture in Washington, and in each state by the state agricultural college. County agents and other field workers of the department of agriculture and of the state colleges will handle the campaign locally. Every live-stock owner actively co-operating and keeping and using none but purebred sires of good quality will be given an emblem as an official recognition of meritorious effort.

KEEP DAIRY UTENSILS CLEAN

This Precaution Should Be Observed Throughout Year, but Especially in Warm Weather.

Utensils that come in contact with milk or cream must be kept perfectly clean. This precaution should be observed throughout the year, but especially during the warm weather, says the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Wash them by first rinsing in cold water and then by using hot water and a brush. Washing powder suitable for use in the dairy should contain no grease. Ordinary sal-soda used in small amounts is a good dairy cleanser. After washing the utensils with hot water, rinse thoroughly with boiling water and place them where they will come in contact with the direct rays of the sun. This place should be free from flies.

In washing the large milk cans, be sure that the inside of the shoulder of the can is rubbed with the brush, as this is the most difficult part to clean.

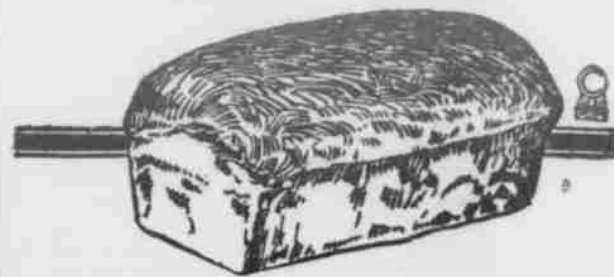

LESSEN DANGER FROM FEVER

Diversity of Opinion on Advisability of Removing All Milk From Cow's Udder.

Opinion is not unanimous on the advisability of removing all the milk from the udder after the calf has drawn its first meal. It is urged by those who oppose the complete emptying of the bag that only a part should be removed. The belief is that as nature's plan is only to take a little away there is less danger from milk fever than when the bag is milked clean.

2000 Students Next Fall Estimate of Dean Straub.

At least 2000 students for the University of Oregon next fall is the prediction of Dr. John Straub, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts, as a result of his observations while visiting in various parts of the state lately. Dean Straub, who has the reputation of never having missed an estimate of this sort, says he may raise the figure to 2500 before commencement.

Wheat $3 Per Bushel
Alfalfa Hay $25 Per Ton

Those are about the figures for wheat and hay the coming fall. Think also of the prices paid for cattle, sheep, hogs, dairy products, etc. When you acquire a rich piece of Mother Earth you immediately become a producer instead of a consumer. Your garden, fruit, meat, eggs you raise yourself, thus side-tracking the H. C. L. to a great extent.
