Warren G. Harding's Career

1865, November 2—Born on a farm in Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio.

His parents were Dr. George T. Harding, a county practitioner, and Mrs. Phoebe Dickerson Harding, of Holland Dutch descent.

Lived life of a boy on a farm until he was 14 years old.

1878—Entered Ohio Central College at Iberia, from which he was graduated four years later.

Supported himself in college as farm laborer, barn painter, teamster and railroad hand.

1884—Family moved to Marion, Ohio, where Warren shortly acquired the Evening Star, which he still owns and edits.

Meanwhile taught school, studied law and was admitted to bar, but did not practice.

Mastered every detail of newspaper work from printer's devil to pressman and managing editor.

Still carries as his luck piece the printer's rule he used as an apprentice printer.

Throughout all the years of his ownership of the Marion Evening Star there has never been a strike or threat of a strike in the plant.

1891—Married Mrs. Florence King, of Marion.

Is a member of the Baptist Church and a trustee of Trinity Baptist Church, Marion.

In home city has served as director in a bank and in leading manufacturing industries.

1899—Elected to the Ohio state senate.

1901—Re-elected to the state senate by a vote unusual in a Democratic stronghold.

1904—Elected lieutenant governor of Ohio, Myron T. Herrick being chosen governor.

1910—Nominated for governorship by Republicans, but was defeated by Judson Harmon, who, in 1912, opposed Woodrow Wilson for Democratic nomination as president.

1914—Elected to the United States Senate, being the first candidate elected from Ohio by popular vote.

1916—Delivered keynote address at Republican national convention, Chicago.

As senator is a member of these committees: Foreign Relations, Philippines (chairman), Commerce, Expenditures in the Treasury Department, Pacific Islands, Public Health, Standards, Weights and Measures, and Territories.

In the treaty fight, in supporting the Lodge reservations, vigorously opposed the Wilson peace policies.

1919—June 12—Nominated by the Republican national convention to be President of the United States.

THE BANK AND THE YOUNG BUSINESS MAN

This bank prides itself on the fact that many a young business man has sought and received helpful advice here on monetary affairs.

Today's young business man is tomorrow's captain of industry. And many a big man today admits that his success is due in no small part to the friendship established between himself and a strong progressive bank.

We invite small accounts of young business men. In time these men will come to regard this as THEIR bank—the bank which helped them grow. Join them.

AMERICAN EAGLE IS LIPTON MASCOT

Here is Sir Thos. Lipton's famous wooden eagle, a coat-of-arms of the United States, which is now the mascot of Shamrock IV. In the background is the challenger as it made its initial trial in American waters.

lution was slowly increasing up to the time of the influenza epidemic two years ago.

"All republicans think well of Harding and Coolidge," is the report brought back to Oregon by Congressman Willis C. Hawley of the first Oregon district. In speaking of legislative matters, Mr. Hawley said, "I was chairman of the ways and means committee which had before it the bill providing for our soldiers. I had some hard battles in the committee room over the bill. Although other members of the committee were not altogether adverse to it, they did not approve such a large appropriation. The reclamation appropriation as passed by the House of Representatives and presented to the Senate will be a wonderful thing for western states. The bill calls for $250,000,000 to be used for reclamation purposes. The previous appropriation was only $60,000,000."

Mrs. Low Brow—What kind of people are they?
Mrs. High Brow—I hear they used to allow a quadruped of porcine extraction to browse in the most splendid apartment in their domicile.
Mrs. Low Brow—I'm so relieved. Some horrid women were saying that they used to keep the pig in the parlor.

Farm House Destroyed

The farm residence on the H. A. Edmonds ranch three miles southeast of Morgan, farmed by W. A. Bunnell, Mr. Edmonds's son-in-law and known as the Veight place, was totally destroyed by fire, together with its contents last Friday, supposedly caused from a defective flue.

The blaze was first discovered by Mrs. Bunnell in a bedroom in which an infant child was asleep and she had barely time to snatch the baby from the burning bed and make her escape before the whole building was in flames. The child was painfully but not dangerously burned about the face and body. There was no insurance on either the house or contents and the loss is about $1200.—Tone Independent.

ROBERTS WINS HEART OF SUFFRAGE

Governor A. H. Roberts of Tennessee, has won the heart of suffrage. His promise to call a special session of the Tennessee Legislature in the effort to have the federal suffrage amendment adopted, the 36th state, and making the measure a law, giving woman the ballot, won for him. If the Legislature adopts suffrage, the women voters of America will vote at the presidential election in November.
