LEAGUE NOW SQUARE ISSUE SAYS MC NARY

Oregon Senator Glad for Referendum to Voters—Cost Soaring in East Believed to Be at End and West Expected to Benefit.

(Portland Oregonian)
Salem, Ore., July 13.—That the political platforms of the republican and democratic parties place the league of nations covenant squarely before the voters in the presidential campaign, was the assertion made here today by Senator McNary, who arrived here late last night from Washington.

"The republican party has declared against the treaty as submitted by President Wilson," said Mr. McNary, "and advocates an agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world in the manner accomplished by the senate reservations. The democratic party urges the treaty and the league substantially as conceived by the president and adopted by the league conference at Versailles.

League Principle Upheld.
"The republican party denounces the covenant in the form it was presented by the president to the senate, though that party acclaims the principle of the league, or preferably some institution judicial in character, calculated to assure the peace of the world. The declaration in the platform, covering the important subject of our foreign relations, does not suggest that the covenant of the league could not be altered by reservations so that it would embrace the essential principles contained in the covenant without the compromise of national independence.

"I cannot read into the platform the thought that the treaty agreed upon at Versailles must be totally rejected and a new treaty negotiated. Such a construction, in my opinion, would be unfortunate, and would be giving plain language a shameful misconstruction. The principles announced in the platform can find welcome repose in the treaty as modified and clarified by the reservations engraved upon the treaty by a vote of a large majority of the members of the senate.

Modification Is Forbidden.
"The democratic platform affirms and reasserts the position of President Wilson in that the treaty must not be altered in substance, but that its provisions may be explained and made more certain by reservations that do not in their nature change the meaning or the purposes of the treaty and of the covenant of the league. Clearly the democratic platform only forgives reservations that are interpretative and forbids those that are modifying.

"While I deplore the situation that makes America's participation in world affairs a partisan question, I rejoice that the issue, how far we shall go abroad, is squarely before the voters of the country, and when once decided, I hope it may become purely an American policy and not a principle of imperial expediency.

"In recent months there has been a noticeable reaction in the industries throughout the east," continued Senator McNary, when asked for his opinion on the price-soaring situation. "This reaction especially has been noticeable in industries engaged in manufacturing non-essentials and luxuries, and is due to several causes. Its benefits will be felt in the west within a few months.

Car Shortage Is Problem.
"Another serious problem facing ever, and it is to be hoped that their efforts to this end will be successful.

Senator McNary said he was hopeful that some person from the Columbia river district would be appointed the people of the United States is the car shortage. The present shortage of carriers, as I see it, is due primarily to the recent switchmen's strike, lack of equipment and unfair distribution. Railroad heads have promised to remedy the situation at the earliest possible moment, how-to membership on the shipping board. "To that end I gave my efforts before leaving Washington," said Senator McNary, "as did other members of the Oregon delegation. Two men well fitted for the position have been suggested and I hope that they ultimately will be selected. It is my opinion that the merchant marine, if wisely handled, will do more than any other one agency to develop the Columbia river district."

Senator McNary declared that he was personally acquainted with Senator Harding, the republican nominee for president, and considered him a man well qualified to assume the leadership of the party with which he is affiliated. "He is a conscientious worker, a person of deliberate judgment and his candidacy has met with popular response in all sections of the east."

State May Be Toured.
"Governor Cox, the democratic nominee, also is well spoken of by those who know him best," continued Senator McNary, "but it is my belief that he will have to come up squarely and inform the voters where he stands on the liquor question and league of nations. These are two of the great issues in the present campaign."

Although having made no definite plans regarding the part he will play in the presidential campaign, Senator McNary let it be known today that he had been approached by republican leaders and that he would be found willing in carrying to do everything possible and ready to organize for Harding and Loeffel.

BARRATT-LIEUALLEN

A pretty wedding was solemnized last Sunday, June 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lieualen when their daughter, Cyrene, became the bride of James G. Barratt.

The ceremony was performed in a room prettily decorated with cut flowers, Rev. White officiating. The lovely wedding gown of the bride was of white satin and chiffon. The bride's maid was attired in a beautiful gown of blue georgette crepe.

The wedding march was rendered by Miss Willetta Barratt as the bride couple entered accompanied by the bride's maid, Miss Helen Barratt and best man, Cecil Lieualen. After the ceremony, refreshments of cake and ice cream were served. Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barratt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lieualen and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Padberg, Mrs. Anna Williams, the Misses Ollie Cox and Eulalia Butler and Emery Gentry.

The happy couple left for a week's outing in Portland and vicinity after which they will be at home to their many friends at the Barratt ranch in Sand Hollow.

Funeral of Late Arthur J. Kilcup.

The funeral of the late Arthur J. Kilcup, who died at Salem on Monday, was held at the Episcopal church in this city on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was in Masonic cemetery.

The deceased was a son of Morrow county pioneers and was born near Bellingham, Wash., April 5, 1878. He was aged 42 years, 3 months and 7 days. Surviving relatives are Walter Kilcup of Heppner and Mrs. Ada Woodward of Hermiston.

DO YOU 'MEMBER?

Just about this time o' the year and the bunch would call for you and you'd beg off weedin' the onions and promise ma that you'd do them in the mornin' and finally she'd say, "Well, all right, young man, you can go this time, but if dad wants to know where you were this afternoon, and why the garden wasn't weeded, you can do the explaining."

Oh boy, then down the road and through the pasture (and you'd rip your shirt crawlin' under the fence) and then the bunch would stop and pull off some of Ad Mercer's corn-silk and you'd all light up one o' the home-made cigs and Skinny Starns or Fat Temple would get a little dizzy and make all sorts of excuses about why they weren't feeling good. Eh! member?

Then pretty soon the grand old creek would loom up in the sight like an oasis in a desert, and you'd all start peelin' off on the way down till there wasn't an awful lot left on, and then mebbe Bob Reed or Doc Jones would start out like a greyhound with a bunch o' clothes under his wing, and talk about your cross-country races—none of them had any run on that one, eh! And Fat would usually trip on something or run a thistle in his toe. But he'd always come up smiling. And then SPLASH! SPLASH! like so many frogs you'd all tumble in and come up splittin' water all over like young wiaes. And Fat would always hold his nose and jump in 'cause he couldn't dive; 'member? Eh?

WOOLGROWERS FIND POSITION RELIEVED

Federal Reserve Board Provides Means For Financing Growers of Country Until Market Again Returns.

Portland—The federal reserve board has provided means for financing the woolgrowers of the country during the present emergency in which there is virtually no market for wool.

Warehouse receipts and bills of lading may be used as collateral for drafts drawn by the grower against his bank, for such sums as the banker and grower may agree upon. These drafts will then be discounted by the branch federal reserve banks. The paper must have a maturity of not over 90 days, although it is thought likely the board will ultimately extend this period to six months. Within that time the wool market will be restored, bankers and growers believe.

Announcement to this effect was recently made by Dr. S. W. McClure, who until last February was secretary of the national woolgrowers association, and who is recognized as the leading wool authority in America. Dr. McClure is sheep manager of the Cunningham Sheep and Cattle company of Portland. "No extraordinary financing will be encountered now in financing the wool clip until a normal buying market shall assert itself. Wool buyers quit buying wool because of the furor against the high cost of clothing, which disorganized the wool market. "Wool is now made an essential commodity. It was the unanimous opinion that the wool market is sound; that the supply of clothing was below normal and the wool supply not large. It is my personal opinion that in 90 days the market will re-open again," Dr. McClure asserted.

$70 An Acre Land Sold.

E. M. Shutt this week closed a deal in which a Mrs. Salisbury and her son, of the Palouse country, have purchased the Alfred Kerber half section of land, North of Lexington, at a consideration of $22,400, or at the rate of $70 an acre, being the highest price paid for Morrow county soil up to this time. This includes summerfallowing of the entire place. In the same deal the Salisburys purchased the adjoining 240 acres of Ed Burchell at $50 per acre, including a portion of the present crop of wheat. This makes 560 acres of as good land as there is in the county, and the Washington people, who come from high-priced land, are very proud of their new investment.

Miss Flossie Barlow is leaving this week for Oregon City, where she goes to take a position in the office of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company. Miss Opal Briggs succeeds her here as chief operator.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rhea were in the city on Wednesday from their Rhea creek home.

CLOUD BURST HITS WASHINGTON TOWNS

Crops Are Destroyed and Trees Are Uprooted—N. P. Tracks Out at Yakima.

Reports from Yakima state that a cloudburst hit in that section last Monday about 6 o'clock, and that a great amount of damage was done.

Northern Pacific tracks between Nass Siding and Granger were washed out by the overflow from the canal, which is described by Henry Morrafs, editor of the Zillah Mirror, as being twenty feet wide and from five to ten feet deep.

In the Palouse district, where the cloudburst was accompanied by a heavy wind, grain was damaged to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Pullman, Winona, Watawa, Union Flats and many other towns in Washington reported the loss of farm houses and other buildings. Damage at the Pullman State College farm at Wallington is estimated at $50,000.

THE FIRE COMPANY

What can be done to put more life into the fire company? We have a few members who are willing to take some time to drill, but we need more. We need more of the young, athletic fellows. We may think that we can successfully fight fire without practice, but our experience in the not remote past does not support that view. We need practice in order to be familiar with the apparatus, to keep the apparatus in working order, to be acquainted with the location of the fire plugs, to be expert in laying a line of hose and getting the water on the right spot in the shortest possible time. One minute's time may decide whether we win or lose a fire. Would it not be a good plan to have a meeting of the citizens and firemen with a view of stirring interest in the matter? The Mayor and Council are willing to do anything in their power to help this matter, but they do not have the power to draft firemen. And, besides this is a matter which concerns everybody. Some evening in the near future, a school will be held to instruct the ladies in the use of the small hand fire extinguishers which many have in their homes. Due announcement will be made, and it is hoped that the ladies will be present in large numbers. If we do not succeed in enrolling a larger number of young men in the fire company, we may find it necessary to drill the ladies and the older men in handling the truck. Citizens, what shall we do about this?

S. E. NOTSON, President, Fire Team No. 1.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bookman in this city on Wednesday, July 14, a nine pound daughter.

"Keep Work at Home" Is Slogan of Local Garage Man

"Keep the work at home" is the slogan of Ira W. Thornton of the Heppner Garage Machine Shop, and putting that slogan into effect Mr. Thornton this week received a new Marvel cylinder boring machine. This machine has a capacity of from three to eight inches and will accommodate any make or design of motor. With this latest addition to his shop, Mr. Thornton increases greatly the efficiency of his equipment and greatly enlarges the scope of his business, as all re-boring work has heretofore gone out of town, mostly to Portland. While the new machine has cost considerable money, Mr. Thornton believes the public will appreciate his efforts to give quick and efficient service and that the machine will prove a paying investment.

Gravity Water by Middle of August or September 1st

Heppner will be using water from the new $100,000 gravity water system by the middle of August or the first of September, according to Contractor Geist, who announces that the ditch work is practically complete. The date of opening the new line will depend upon the rapidly with which the concrete pipe is laid. Engineer Hickey is of the opinion that the line will be ready for testing by the 15th of August.

Band Concerts Growing Popular With Public

The Friday evening band concerts under the direction of Professor James Austin at the Fair grounds are proving popular with the Heppner public and each succeeding week finds more and more people attending them. While the band in the beginning was made up for the most part, of raw material, through continual practice and drilling, the music are now playing acceptable music and much credit is due to Professor Austin. Lights were recently installed over the band stand and plans are under way for moving the stand out into the center of the grounds and seats will be provided for the audience.

WOODSON NAMED REGENT UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Coming as a complete surprise to C. E. Woodson, prominent attorney of this city and member of the state legislature, was the announcement that Governor Olcott had appointed him a member of the board of regents of the University of Oregon, succeeding Judge Robert Bean of Portland, resigned.

STILL OF BIG CAPACITY FOUND BY LOCAL OFFICERS

Several Hundred Gallons of Booze Nipped in the Making When Ben Moore and Chester Saling Are Apprehended by Sheriff and Deputies.

Six hundred gallons of moonshine for the first run through one of the most elaborate stills yet taken by local authorities, was what Sheriff George McDuffee and deputies Tom Chidsey and George Bleakman found in the extreme southeast corner of Morrow county early on Wednesday morning of this week. The still was situated close to the Wheeler county line.

The officers had been on the trail of this particular moonshine plant since February, but its operators had moved from time to time. Having finally located the still, Sheriff McDuffee and his men bided their time and on Wednesday morning, shortly after day-break, walked up to the tent about three hundred yards from the scene of operations and there found Ben Moore, Chester Saling and Emmett Moore asleep. The men were awakened and Saling and Ben Moore were brought to town. The still was completely dismantled by the officers and the copper coils were brought to Heppner.

The still was steam operated, the steam being generated from a large boiler weighing about 400 pounds. The time for heating has not at this time been set, and in the meantime Saling is out under bonds while Moore is a guest of the county in the stone bastle. Emmett Moore, while found in the company of the alleged moonshiners, has not been arrested, as nothing has yet developed to indicate that he had any connection with the lay-out. Sheriff McDuffee was within a few feet of the plant at one time and watched the men at their work. They offered no resistance when taken by the officers.

Mrs. Giesle and children left this morning for their home in Vancouver after visiting with relatives at Hermiston. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Mitt Leathers.

Miss Butler Entertained at Tea. Miss Eulalia Butler entertained at tea on Tuesday afternoon at the Butler home in honor of Miss Alta Lydon of Tacoma, who is visiting here. Beside the hostess and Miss Lydon, twelve guests were present and the afternoon was pleasantly enjoyed in games and refreshments. Those present were the Misses Ruth VanVactor, Katherine Pattison, Charlotte Hall, Pearl Hall, Velma Brown, Doris Mahoney, Marie Curran, Cecile Devore, Gwendolyn Darbee, Odile Grossensaw, Augusta Garba, Cora Mae Crawford, Alta Lydon and Eulalia Butler.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH July 18, 1920.

The usual services both morning and evening will be held. The morning service beginning with the Bible School at ten o'clock, followed by preaching by the pastor and Communion.

The evening services will consist of the Christian Endeavor beginning at seven o'clock, and followed by the song and preaching services at eight o'clock.

You are most cordially invited to attend these services. Come and worship with us, it will be a mutual help.

W. O. LIVINGSTONE, Minister.

WOODSON NAMED REGENT UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Coming as a complete surprise to C. E. Woodson, prominent attorney of this city and member of the state legislature, was the announcement that Governor Olcott had appointed him a member of the board of regents of the University of Oregon, succeeding Judge Robert Bean of Portland, resigned.

Judge Bean had been a member of the board since 1882, and had witnessed the growth of the university through many trying periods.

Mr. Woodson is a graduate of the University and has ever been one of its staunch backers. He is the second member of the board from eastern Oregon.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our many kind friends for their aid and sympathy during the hours of our bereavement, in the death and burial of our brother, Arthur J. Kilcup.
