

THE CANDIDATE AND THE CHAIRMAN

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for President, and Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, conferring in Washington upon matters pertaining to the coming campaign.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Otis Cork was over from Monument last Saturday.

Frank W. Turner has taken a position with the Heppner Garage.

Fred M. Griffin of Ione spent a few hours in Heppner on Monday.

Dr. D. R. Haylor, eye specialist, will be in Heppner the first week in August.

Albert Kerber, north Lexington farmer, was a Heppner business visitor on Monday.

G. M. Blakely, extensive sheep operator of Eastern Oregon, spent Saturday in Heppner on business.

Geo. W. Milholland, local agent of the Standard Oil Co., made a business trip to Arlington last Monday.

LOST—Between Heppner and Lexington Saturday night, July 10, a ladies light weight summer coat, color tan. Leave at Gazette-Times office.

The Oskar Huber grading crew on the Willow creek highway is now grading about a half mile this side of Ione.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben O. Anderson, Mrs. Frank Anderson and John Bergstrom of Eight Mile were Saturday callers in Heppner.

Farmers are busy this week taking care of their distillate which the Morrow County Farm Bureau brought in from California.

George D. Fell, Pendleton business man, spent Saturday in Heppner and was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spencer.

J. W. Fritsch was called to the Finley ranch north of Lexington the first of the week to attend to some electrical work on a sick combine.

Twenty five head of horses belonging to Fred Hensel of Clem were sold at Condon Monday. They averaged $9.38, colts and all—"Twenty five years ago," in Condon Globe-Times.

There are a good many conflicting opinions among farmers of the Ione section as to the extent of damage done last week by warm winds. Some of the biggest farmers north of Ione say their grain was damaged but very little, if any, by the burning.

S. E. Nelson, district attorney, attended the meeting of the republican central committee in Portland the last of the week. Mr. Nelson predicts a warm campaign before the election.

Ben McMullen of this city has purchased the lone barber shop from H. N. Hymer and has taken possession of the same. Lee Sprinkel, formerly with the Patterson & Clark shop of Heppner has been engaged by Mr. McMullen to take charge of the first chair.

Word reached Heppner Monday of the death of Arthur J. Kilcup at Salem. He was formerly a resident of Morrow county and is survived by a brother, Walter Kilcup of Heppner and a sister, Mrs. Ada Woodward of Hermiston. The funeral was held from this city on Wednesday.

Myron Carver left last Saturday on the sheep and cattle train for Omaha. He will be gone two or three weeks and will visit with relatives in the middle west before returning home. During his absence, his duties at the Standard Oil Company are being performed by William V. Crawford.

In announcing the improvements at the Moore hospital, the Gazette-Times last week contained the statement that Dr. Allison is the physician in charge. This was a misstatement of fact, as no one doctor is in charge, but all physicians of the city practice there. Mrs. Moore has supervision of the hospital.

Falling health has caused Professor James Austin to tender to the Heppner Commercial Club, his resignation as director of the local band. The resignation is to take effect August 4. Professor Austin expects to

CENTRAL COMMITTEE CONVENED IN PORTLAND

The Republican State Central Committee met in Portland last Saturday. There was a large representation, nearly every county being represented. The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic. The state managers of the campaigns for the different candidates for president in the primary election were all present, and every one of them is enthusiastically supporting the ticket named at Chicago. Thomas H. Tongue was re-elected chairman of the committee. He was empowered to appoint an executive committee of twenty-one, composed of eleven members of the committee and ten women. Several prominent women were in attendance.

The women do not expect to do their work through women's organizations to any considerable extent. They expect to take their place as voters in the regular organizations, sharing the burdens of the campaign on an equality with the men.

The general sentiment of the meeting was to the effect that this is to be a great campaign year, a year of intense interest in political affairs. We have been advertising to the world that a republican is the best form of government, but unless the people participate in the affairs of the government, our form of government will be discredited and taken as a joke by the struggling nations of Europe which are trying to adjust themselves to new conditions. It is very probable that the old fashioned school house campaign will be planned, in which the principles, performances and candidates of the parties will be fully discussed. Every voter will be urged to study the situation as an American citizen should, decide for himself or herself what is best, and then vote accordingly.
