CROP CONDITIONS IMPROVED EXCEPT FRUITS

An improved condition since June 1 of all Oregon crops except fruit is a feature of the July crop report just issued by F. L. Kent, Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. This generally improved condition is due largely to favorable June weather. A precipitation of close to three inches fell over Western Oregon with general rainfall of less amount over other parts of the state. While temperatures were below normal during part of June, growing conditions on the whole were very favorable.

Winter Wheat: Condition improved since June first, 3.6 per cent, indicating a state crop of about 15,000,000 bushels. Harvest will be about two weeks late this season, beginning on the lighter lands probably about July 15. On the heavy lands of the principal wheat counties there are many fields where the stand is thin and many weeds are present. The thinner soils in southern Wasco, Sherman and Gilliam counties have the best crop in many years.

The U. S. crop also made improvement in condition during June, and is now estimated at 518,245,000 bushels.

Spring Wheat: For three years past June weather has caused a marked decline in condition of spring wheat. This year conditions improved during June, and the crop now gives promise of 4,500,000 bushels or more. In the western part of the state condition is generally reported as being close to the 100 per cent mark.

Improvement in the U. S. crop is indicated to the extent of about 14,000,000 bushels, the forecast being a production of 291,000,000 bushels for the 1920 harvest.

Oats: Oats, which for the most part are spring sown, were greatly benefited by the June rains. An improvement of 5 per cent in condition is reported, which indicates a total production of probably 13,250,000 bushels. A considerable acreage of oats is always cut for hay, and this hay harvest is now (July 19) well under way in western Oregon.

Some improvement took place in the U. S. crop, which is now estimated at 1,322,945,000 bushels.

Corn: Each year there is planted in the state an increased acreage of corn, most of which is used for silo filling. The increase this year over last is reported as 3 per cent. Except for the past few days, temperatures have not been favorable for corn, and the stand is thin in many fields.

The U. S. corn crop is estimated at 2,774,902,000 bushels, which is about 27,000,000 bushels less than the estimate a year ago.

Potatoes: The Oregon potato acreage appears to be about 96 per cent of the 1919 acreage. The condition of the crop is reported as 95 per cent of normal, which should make up for the deficiency in acreage thus making the state's crop about the same as a year ago. A similar condition applies to the U. S. estimates. The total acreage appears to be about 96 per cent of last year, but condition of the crop is such that an increase of about 30,000,000 bushels over the final 1919 estimates is indicated.

Fruit crop prospects are for the most part greatly under production of a year ago. Apples will probably be about 65 per cent of a year ago, the commercial crop of the state being estimated at about 60 per cent of last year. Pears are also light this year, apparently not more than 60 or 65 per cent of a year ago. Cherries are almost a failure in some commercial districts, and will probably be less than 50 per cent of the 1919 production. Prunes promise a crop not far from the production of a year ago.

The first of the week found a number of farmers around Morgan commencing harvest. Among them was Wid Palmateer, who was in Heppner last Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell of Social Ridge were in the city Saturday. Mr. Campbell is getting ready to begin harvest and was here after some machine extras.

Durward Tash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tash, spent the past week visiting at Wapato, Wash., as a guest at the home of his friend, Sherman Noyes.
