

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bristow of Ione were Saturday callers in Heppner.

County Agent L. A. Hunt made a visit to Hermiston the last of the week.

You can get a Revolving Rod Weeder on trial from GILLIAM & BISBEE.

Born—Tuesday, September 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Ora E. Adkins of Eight Mile, a daughter.

When the summerfallow has been cleared of weeds, get your grain drill from GILLIAM & BISBEE.

A new subscriber to the Gazette-Times this week is Mrs. Frona Blahm of Pendleton, a former Heppner resident.

County Clerk Waters issued a marriage license last Saturday to Oliver Potter and Agnes Anderson, young people of Eight Mile.

Sam E. VanVactor, local attorney visited over the week-end with relatives at Goldendale, Wash. He returned home Tuesday.

The ground is thoroughly soaked and if you are ready to plow don't buy before you see what GILLIAM & BISBEE have to offer.

John J. Kelley, prominent local sheepman, returned Tuesday from a month's stay in Montana and the east, looking after sheep interests.

Ike Howard was a business visitor in Heppner last week, having just returned with his family from Newport, where they spent a pleasant month.

Ralph Benge, formerly a prominent farmer of this county, is up from his Salem home this week, to spend a few days looking after business matters.

Mrs. Minnie Furlong and children have moved into town from their Eight Mile farm home and the children will resume their studies in the local school.

County Clerk Waters went to Portland Sunday and was in the city for several days while getting his son Delmar located at school at Hill Military Academy.

Wheat was going strong in this neighborhood the last of the week, Ralph Jackson of Lexington selling 1000 sacks of turkey to a local buyer at $2.30 3/4 per bushel.

W. T. Gerard, Lexington wheat farmer, was here on business last Saturday. He says he has not finished threshing his grain yet but is well satisfied with results thus far.

Mrs. George McIntosh of Condon visited in Morrow county with her sons Lee and Lindley Potter at the Fred Griffin ranch. The boys expect to leave in the near future for California.

W. T. McNabb, retired farmer and warehouseman of Ione, who now puts in time buying the grain the other fellow raises, was in Heppner on business last Saturday, accompanied by his niece, Miss Lovely Warfield.

F. A. Ayers, a young farmer of the Butter creek country, was in Heppner last Saturday. While in the city Mr. Ayers had his name added to the G-T roll. He is a son of Jas. T. Ayers and is his father's farm.

F. R. Brown returned last Friday evening from Gilliam county, where he spent several days in the interest of the John Day project. He was getting signatures to a petition which calls for taking in more land under the project.

A new subscriber to the Gazette-Times is Ray Young, formerly of Eight Mile but now of Heppner Flat. Mr. Young, who was a Saturday business visitor here, announces that he has taken a three-year lease on the Wm. Hendrix big wheat ranch.

E. L. Vinton, state highway engineer, brought over a beautiful new Oldsmobile roadster from Pendleton Sunday and presented it to Mrs. Vinton. The Vintons live in Ione but were here on Sunday to visit at the home of Mrs. Vinton's mother, Mrs. Jack McCullough.

J. N. Scott of Pendleton and Walter Ely of Seattle have purchased two quarter sections of land adjoining the Scott ranch west of Ione, the purchase price being $40 per acre. Wheat harvesting in that section is still under way and the yield ranges from 12 to 22 bushels per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy M. Turner of Baker are spending two weeks in Heppner visiting with Morrow county relatives and friends. Mr. Turner was county surveyor here for a number of years, but resigned about a year ago in order to accept the position of water master of Baker county.

Seymour P. Wilson of Ione, who recently received severe bruises in an automobile accident, has recovered sufficiently to leave with his family for Huntington Beach, California, where they will make their future home. Mr. Wilson has leased his Morrow county wheat ranch to Mr. Rhulie.

Professor L. A. Doak, former principal of the Ione school, who now has an A-No. 1 fruit ranch at Opportunity, Wash., a few miles from the city limits of Spokane, came down the last of the week to make a visit at the home of his brother S. H. Doak, on the Doak ranch north of Lexington. He was accompanied by his young son.

Dr. and Mrs. Butler and daughter, Miss Eula, arrived last Saturday and spent a few days in Heppner. While here, Dr. Butler sold his residence in south Heppner to Ralph Benge. Mr. Benge is preparing to return with his family to this city to live. They have made their home in Salem during the last two years. Mr. Benge was formerly a well known farmer of this county. Dr. Butler and family will make their home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jav. T. Morgan and Gus Ayers were Butter creek people in Heppner yesterday.

Born—in The Dalles, Oregon, on Monday, September 13, to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCarty, a son weighing 8 1/2 pounds.

The Ladies of the St. Patrick's parish will hold a food sale on Saturday, September 25 at Humphreys Drug Store at 10 a. m.

Jasper V. Crawford left Wednesday morning for Corvallis, where he will register at the Oregon Agricultural College as a freshman.

Chas. H. Latourell, local Ford man, returned Sunday from a business trip to Portland. Mr. Latourell will be accompanied by Mrs. Latourell.

J. W. Beyer, president of the Farmers & Stockgrowers National Bank, returned last week from Chicago where he had taken a shipment of sheep from the Matana ranch.

John Kilkenny departed Friday for his sheep ranges in northern Idaho to look after the sheep and arrange for their return in the near future to the hills of his Morrow county ranch.

Judge and Mrs. W. T. Campbell have been enjoying a visit from Mr. Campbell's brother, Jack Campbell and wife from Medical Lake, Wash. Mr. Campbell is a Morrow county land owner, having title to some of the finest farm land in the Black Horse section.

D. O. Justus, extensive stockraiser, and sheepman of upper Hinton creek states that range conditions at the present were never better in his section of the county, and he looks for lots of good green feed this fall as a consequence of the splendid rains we have had.

Harry Duvall, extensive farmer of the north end, was a Monday business visitor in Heppner, accompanied by his friend and neighbor, Sam Ritchie. One of the warehouses at Lexington is partially filled with wheat from Mr. Duvall's ranch. He farms on a big scale, using a Best 50 tractor in his operations.

Robert Notson and sister, Miss Mary Notson, were passengers for Salem last Saturday, after spending the summer vacation at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson in this city. They will be enrolled at the Willamette university, where another brother, Edward, is also a student. Edward left on Sunday for the Capitol city.

Geo. M. Allyn was sojourning in the city for a short time the first of the week, coming up from his Lexington home. Mr. Allyn has been taking the "rest cure" on the feed table of a big thresher in the Lexington neighborhood, just to show the fellows that he has not forgotten how the trick is done, and he states the "cure" is a good appetizer and flesh reducer, and is excellent for a shallow complexion. He recommends it to all those in quest of health and pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Padberg of Ione were Wednesday evening callers in Heppner.

Chas. Thomson returned last Friday from a vacation trip of several weeks spent in Portland.
