

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Chairman Tongue Reports Republican Spirit Rising and Determination Growing to Elect Republican Senator to Sustain Republican President in His Policies.

Portland, Ore., October 5.—Careful analysis of reports from many sources received at Republican State headquarters indicate that Oregon will swing its five electoral votes to Harding and Coolidge, the Republican standard-bearers on election day, November 2.

Thomas H. Tongue, Jr., Republican State Chairman, in a statement issued today said that a Republican victory was certain:

"The people of Oregon have made up their minds to have a change of administration. They are tired of Democratic waste, Democratic incompetence and Democratic extravagance."

"Harding and Coolidge are typical Americans. They will put an end to one man rule and autocracy. They will restore our well-earned form of constitutional government. They will introduce economy and efficiency into our national affairs and make it possible, through economy and good business administration, to lower our heavy war taxes and the high cost of living."

"The people are commencing to realize that the affairs of government and the high cost of living are closely related. The waste of billions has to be paid by the people in the form of higher taxes, many of them indirect and covered up in the price of the articles they consume."

"The Republican candidates are pledged to a policy of economy and retrenchment and to pay attention to domestic issues which effect the every day lives of the people."

"Harding is a man that grows upon the people with acquaintance. They like him because he is making a clean, constructive campaign. They admire his grasp of the economic problems of the day and they like the way he sticks to the campaign issues and refuses to become engaged in controversies over trivial personalities or extraneous issues. Harding will make a president the American people will be proud to have as their chief executive."

"The farmers of the state are vitally interested in the constructive program that Harding has for the building up of American agriculture. They approve of his plan for the development of the Federal Farm Loan system by which the tenant on the rented farm and the hired laborers will be given help so that they may eventually become farm owners themselves."

Farmers for Harding.

"The Republican party was founded by farmers and they are still the backbone of the party. The Oregon farmer knows that Harding stands for the protective tariff and they approve of his policy of protecting the products of the farm."

"Oregon farmers are now undergoing the competition of South American beef and hides, Australian wool, New Zealand butter, Chinese eggs and many other products which can be sold in our home markets for less than we can produce them."

"No wonder the Oregon farmer is going to vote for a Republican president, a Republican senator and Republican Congressmen."

"While Oregon is properly put in the Republican column by such trained political writers as David Lawrence and Mark Sullivan, Republicans should not slacken their efforts."

"We must roll up a big plurality and the size of it depends upon the exertions of Republican men and women for the next thirty days. Republicans must not fail to go to the polls on election day."

Republican Senator Needed.

"The Republican majority in the Senate is in peril. It is now down to one. Many of the contests are close. Many of the Republican senators have hard fights."

"It may be that Oregon's one vote would give control to the Democrats."

"If the Republican party loses control of the Senate, President Harding would be hampered in his administration."

"Republican policies, Republican protective tariff, Republican economic reforms would go by the boards. President Harding cannot have a successful administration without Republican control of the Senate."

"Oregon Republicans should stand loyally behind Harding and Coolidge and vote for Robert N. Stanfield, the Republican nominee for United States Senator."

"Oregon is a Republican state. There are 235,571 Republicans and 92,495 Democrats registered, a Republican plurality of 135,156. Every registered Republican should vote for Harding and Coolidge and Stanfield, should stand steadfast and firm for Republican principles."

"Reports from all over the state indicate that Republican spirit is rising and that the determination is growing to make a clean sweep. This means that Stanfield will certainly be elected United States Senator."

RIVER DEVELOPMENT AS RELIEF MEASURE FOR TRADE IS URGED

Supplementary Transportation by Waterways to Get Away From Railroad Congestion Considered at Portland.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 4.—Plans for supplementary transportation through intensive development of existing ports and waterways in order to relieve the railroad situation were on the program for discussion here today at the opening of a two day session of representatives from Oregon, Washington and Idaho interested in ports and waterways.

General discussion of the Jones shipping bill was to follow an address this afternoon by Senator W. L. Jones of Washington on "Our Merchant Marine." Senator C. L. McNary, of Oregon, was to speak on "waterway development."

Charles Hall, president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce opened the session today, and there was an address of welcome by Mayor George L. Baker of Portland.

A feature of a noon luncheon was a talk by Marshall B. Shackleford, field secretary of the National rivers and harbors congress, of Washington, D. C. Afternoon addresses included "needs of Minor Ports of Oregon," L. E. Dean, English, "The Use of the Columbia and its Tributaries," by Marshall Dana of Portland, "The Rate Question from a Commissioner's Standpoint," Fred A. Williams, Oregon Public Service Commissioner.

The evening program included addresses by C. W. Hodson, Portland, and B. F. Stone, chairman of the Astoria port commission.

Tuesday's program includes an address in the afternoon by Marshall Shackleford on the work of the national rivers and harbors congress. A banquet Tuesday will close the sessions. William Fiegott, Seattle, is to speak on trade with the Orient.

WHEAT SMUTS CONTROLABLE.
Wheat smuts in Oregon are due for a body-blow this year if wheat men unite in effective seed treatment. The early rains germinated the spores in the ground, says H. P. Burns, plant pathologist at the Experiment station, and unless these seed treatments are united with these seed treatments six weeks following the first rainfall. This leaves the ground free, and if the seed on late planting is properly treated with either blightone or formaldehyde, next season's crop should be exceptionally clean. If you don't know the treatment send to O. A. C. and get directions.
