Henry J. Streeter made a short stay in Cecil on Wednesday. Mrs. Ellis and daughter Miss Mary of Irving were doing business in Cecil on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. H. Willis and son of Morgan were visiting friends in Cecil on Tuesday. Roy Scott and Elmer Mohr left Cecil on Wednesday for Hynd Bros' ranch at Prezeout. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pettijohn and son of Morgan were visitors at the Last Camp on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Logan of Four Mile spent Tuesday with Mrs. Weitha Combest at Cecil. John Nash left Ewing on Wednesday for The Dalles where he will join his family for the winter. Stanley Stutz of Hood River spent a day or two around Cecil during his vacation. His headquarters were the Last Camp. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Krebs of the Last Camp were among the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. May of Lone Star ranch Sunday. Raper Bauerfield left on the local for Lone on Thursday to attend to business in connection with the late Peter Benson's estate. Hermann Montgomery passed thru Cecil on Wednesday with a band of sheep belonging to Hynd Bros. They will winter at Buttery Flats. Highway Commissioner Kiddle and friend Mr. Kelly and State Engineers Ballock and Vinton again honored Cecil with a short visit on Thursday. J. M. Melton of the Lookout was able to be present at Cecil on Tuesday to cast his vote. J. M. tells he cast his first vote on November 4th, 1864 for Abraham Lincoln. Claude L. White of Portland was busy around Cecil clothing taking orders for winter clothing during the week. He was the guest of Mrs. Jack Hynd during his stay in Cecil. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hynd and Mrs. Geo. Krebs and party from the Last Camp, took in the entertainment at Rhea Siding school house on Saturday. The sympathies of Cecil community are extended to Mrs. Everett Logan of Fairview whose father died at Merrill, Ore., on Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Logan left at once for the bereaved home. Geo. W. Wilson returned from Ukiah on Friday, leaving for The Dalles on Saturday where he visited with his brother and wife at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson are now improving and doing nicely. The mayor of Cecil and his deputy left after casting their votes in Cecil on Tuesday, bound for the county seat. After patiently waiting three whole days and hearing nothing of either party the despairing wives of these two prominent men took the local for Heppner in search of their husbands. The search was still going on at the time of writing. Cecil was a lively spot Tuesday during the election. My little incidents occurred during the day most conspicuous of all being when Leon Logan of Four Mile and Zenneth Logan of Cecil were seen mounted on top of the depot. Spectators were ready for speeches from either party but none were forthcoming. These gentlemen had ascended to remove a buggy, hen crates, sacks of feed, etc. which we presume they had placed there on Halloween, as they were so keen to move all things into their proper places again. J. W. Osborn and T. W. May of Lone Star ranch assisted in the removal.

COUNTY FARM BUREAUS HOLD SERIES OF MEETS

Consideration of Forming State-Wide Federation is Main Purpose of These Gatherings. Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 10.—Farm bureau meetings to consider the federation of the county organizations into a separate state body are being held this week in eight Oregon counties. The aims, purposes and methods of affiliation are being explained at all the county meets by Paul Y. Maris, extension director of the agricultural college and state leader of county agent work. Chester H. Gray, member of the executive committee American Farm Bureau federation, and George A. Mansfield, president of the temporary state federation. The desirability of the state federation, when made permanent, affiliating with the American Farm Bureau federation is also a leading subject of consideration at the county meets. The temporary state organization will become the permanent organization as soon as the constitution has been ratified by 12 county bureaus. A meeting of county representatives will be held shortly after ratification for the purpose of permanent organization.

ONCE FOR COX BUT NOW FOR HARDING

E. B. Ayers Takes Part in Fulfilling Election Bet. In fulfilling his bet as loser with E. B. Ayers, one of the employees of the port docks, and at one time a good Democrat, jumped overboard at 4:30 yesterday afternoon in the presence of McIrwin, George Walters and about 300 people. George Walters refereed the jump and stated that Ayers showed that he was a sport and was ready to fulfill the wager. After reaching the platform of the dock following his plunge in the water, Mr. Ayers stated that he had always been a Democrat but was for Harding from now on.—Morning Astorian.

News About Oregon's Industries

Marshfield, Ore.—The steam schooner Pacific, the third one of the vessels to be completed with machinery installed at the Kruse and Banks shipyard here, was put to her trial test recently. She is now at the dock at Bay Park taking on nearly two-thirds of a million feet of lumber for foreign delivery. The remainder of the cargo will be taken at Portland before the craft leaves for South America. The American Bureau of Shipping has given the three steam schooners finished here the highest rating in their class, a matter of real commercial significance.

Silverton, Ore.—By-products of the sawmills of the Silver Falls Timber company are to be ground up in a pulp mill to be erected here and operated in connection with the timber industry. The pulp will be shipped in white sheets to paper mills on the coast. It is planned to utilize the water power of North Mill creek where over 1000 horse-power can be developed.

Portland, Ore.—If there had been the same number of business days in October, 1920 as in the same month in 1919 a new high record in Portland bank clearings would have been set. Figures reached $1,802,519,950 or $9,362,125 more than in Seattle.

Eugene, Ore.—More carrots and beets than ever before are being canned this fall at the big plant of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association. Orders have been received in the past few weeks for several thousand cases of these products.

Marshfield, Ore.—Plans are being made for enlarging the plant of the Coos Veneer & Box Co., much of the stock in the firm having been taken over by Victor Brandt of Portland. The company has been unable to keep up with orders on hand.

Astoria, Ore.—After an absence of more than ten years, vessels flying the flag of the Blue Funnel line of Liverpool are soon to be seen once more at the mouth of the Columbia. The Myrmidons has been chartered by Kerr, Shiel and company to load 2500 tons of wheat at the municipal terminal and will arrive here November 19. It will be the first of the Blue Funnel boats to put in an appearance.

Salem, Ore.—Senator Louis Lachmund, local hop broker, recently gave C. A. McLaughlin of Independence a check said to be the largest ever paid in Marion county for a farm crop. He received $18,728.50 for hops grown for English dealers. They were brought on a 275 acre tract.

Hood River, Ore.—Box shooks for the fruit district around here are to be turned out by a box factory to be established soon at Odell. The place will be centrally located and of great advantage to the orchardists.

Bandon, Ore.—Efforts are being made to secure a new industry for this city, following an inquiry from an old established eastern manufacturing concern interested in securing a location for a factory which would turn out separator boards for battery boxes. Port Orford cedar is especially adapted to this purpose. The plant under consideration would employ 20 men.

Portland, Ore.—Everything from ice cream to "hot dogs" and from cheese to brooms will be exhibited next week at the annual food show which will open in the armory Monday. Over 50 manufacturers, many of them turning out made-in-Oregon goods, have reserved spaces.

Salem, Ore.—A new evaporating plant has just been organized in Marion county and has been incorporated as the Friends Oregon Colony Evaporating company. It is to be located at Scotts Mills.

Redmond, Ore.—The Redmond flour mill, now in its new location at the railroad tracks and under direction of the Farmers' Warehouse and Milling Co., has commenced operation. The flour will be marketed under the name of "Deschutes Best."

Astoria, Ore.—Oil drilling machinery for the Lower Columbia Oil & Gas Co. has arrived from California and will be set up on the site of the first well on the Ches tract. It is planned to begin work in another week.

Salem, Ore.—One-half million pounds of Oregon prunes are being sent this season by the Oregon Growers' Cooperative Association to Holland. Shipments are now also en route to Liverpool and London and those to Canada have been going forward for some time.

Marshfield, Ore.—The C. A. Smith shingle mill, which was burned to the ground a few months ago, is being rebuilt and is now nearing completion. It will be running again in a few days.

St. Helens, Ore.—Three lumber mills in this section owned by the Charles R. McCormick interests have just completed consolidation under the name of the St. Helens Lumber Company. The aggregate capacity of the three is 115,000 feet per eight hour shift. All are running at full capacity at the present time.

Astoria, Ore.—As an immediate result of the Matson line steamers making Astoria a port of call, local mills have been enabled to compete successfully in the box trade of the Hawaiian Islands. The Astoria Box company at the present time is filling an order for 3,000,000 boxes for that territory.

Bandon, Ore.—Plans have been put under way for colonization of local raw lands for the purpose of establishing the loganberry industry here. It is believed that at least 1000 acres will be devoted for this purpose.

Port Orford, Ore.—Among mining improvements in the vicinity is the placing of a large hydraulic sizer on the black sand deposits near Sixes river by Samuel Montague.

National Red Cross funds are composed principally of voluntary contributions. The fifty cents of the "membership dollar," which is allotted to the national treasury is returned with interest to its own community through division and national activities.

At the Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Oregon, Red Cross courses in home hygiene are compulsory for students majoring in home economics. Many high schools are installing these courses.

Morrow County Asked $1850

In W. C. T. U. Campaign

Residents of Morrow county will be asked to contribute $1850 to the $25,000 fund of the Oregon W. C. T. U. for the establishment of a farm home for orphan and dependent children.

Announcement of this quota for Morrow county has just been received by County Chairman W. W. Smead, of Heppner, from State Chairman John E. Wheeler, of Portland.

The drive, which is to be held during the week of Nov. 15 to 22, is expected to result in an over-subscription in practically every county of the state. The fact that the people of Oregon are being given an opportunity to contribute toward real home charity for the betterment of unfortunate children of the state, has won instant sympathy and support throughout Oregon, and advices received here from Chairman Wheeler are to the effect that the success of the drive is assured.

Under the supervision of the Oregon W. C. T. U., a farm home for dependent and orphan children will be established in Benton county shortly after the first of the year. The home will provide these waifs with every educational and home advantage and will send them out into the world capable of fighting life's battle.

TIMELY FARM HINTS.

Sells, O. A. C.—Twice as much nitrate is contained in ground which has been worked well as in ground that has not been worked properly. This was proven by an experiment conducted by the Sherman county branch station which ended on September 1. The test was with land in summer fallow, and it was found that all vegetation must be kept down to get the best results.

Farm Crops, O. A. C.—Grey winter oats will stand later planting than wheat or barley, and on fields where planting is considerably delayed better results will be obtained from grey oats than from any other cereal.

Farm Mechanics, O. A. C.—Radiators may freeze even in early fall weather, and cause much trouble and delay. The safest way is to drain the radiator in the evening and in the morning again fill it up with warm water to help in starting.

Plant Pathology, O. A. C.—Late blight rot of potatoes is present in the coast counties. Much of this damage might have been prevented by spraying with Bordeaux mixture at the proper time.

Bacteriology, O. A. C.—Many samples of contaminated drinking water from wells in the state are being received by this department. See that the wells are in such a place that they are not subject to any seepage from the barn or outhouses. Play safe by sending a sample of the water to the nearest laboratory station to have a large doctor bill.

Benton county's farm property valuation as given out by the federal census bureau, subject to correction, is $15,596,774, an increase of 41.1 per cent since 1910. The number of farms is 1220, of which 1054 are operated by owners. The land in farms is 222,427 acres, the land actually tilled 182,175. The 1225 domestic animal farms have 4497 horses, 58 mules, 26,891 cattle, 25,842 sheep, and 1224 swine. Only 28 farms have no livestock. Chas. Erwin came up from Iowa the first of the week to do jury duty, but when court convened, he was excused from serving on account of Mrs. Erwin's sickness.

ROTTEN!! It is no wonder that the gas is running now, with the poor gas we are getting. The Art Preservative is coming into its own. The two great national political parties this year chose as their standard bearers, men who devoted years to the newspaper profession. One of these men is as familiar with the inner workings of the country print shop as will be found anywhere. As a result of their nominations, and in spite of what the vote may decide, the fact remains that the next President of the United States will be a newspaper man. What greater tribute could be paid to print-craft? These men attained their success in life and gained the confidence of their fellow men through giving service. In our own small way we would emulate these men. SERVICE goes with Gazette-Times quality printing. SERVICE is the idea embodied in The Gazette-Times, Morrow County's Big Home Paper. Phone Main 882.
