Will Our Women Be Manufacturers of Men?

In the construction of a new and better world following the great World War, it is fortunate that America has found courage as a help from the very start. We look forward eagerly and hopefully to the feminine voice in public affairs because we feel that voice will have a God-like as well as constructive part in these new things that shall be.

If there are women who think that the chief concern of their vote and voice in the future is to be woman herself, we hasten to ask them if they are not wrong. There is no need for a strictly woman's party. Nothing can now stop our American women from getting their rights to the full and overflowing. They need not trouble themselves about that. Therefore, we invite women to consider the following four words as a high ideal and purpose: THE MANUFACTURE OF MEN.

The manufacturer of men as well as the mother of men! What a glorious platform for our American women of the future to stand on! No man-made party, no matter how loud their professions, ever stood firmly and honestly on a policy of human sympathy, love and human upbuilding. No man parties ever will unless women, in their new public sphere, forces them to it.

With exceptions, of course, man's conduct towards man is almost wholly selfish, greedy and often harsh. So long as the average man himself has the things he wants, he cares but little for the other fellow. And therein lies the reason for our outcasts and for our penitentiaries; therein lies the reason for our slums, for discontent, for Bolshevism, Anarchy and the rest. Pray that women will see the light and walk in it.

In its efforts to pull Oregon out of the mud, the state highway department has expended more than $10,000,000 during the biennium ending November 1st of this month, $1,100,000 was county money and $1,200,000 was federal money appropriated for forests and post roads. According to the commissioner's report, there are now under contract in Oregon 250 miles of grading, 250 miles of rock and gravel and 40 miles of paving. During the biennium, 1440 miles of road were improved, including 342 miles of completed paving.

In honor of the newly elected president, the high school at Marion, Mr. Harding's home town, has voted to change the name of the school from Marion high school to Harding high school.

Slats' Diary.

Friday—When the teacher ast me I describe the Manners & Customs of the Natives of the Cannonball eye-lands I wassent able 2 Deside so I sed I diddnt know. So she ast Jake which was holding up his hand which was dirty like common. So she sed Jake you may tell us. He replied & sed They haint eny manners or Costumes ary I.

You must hand it to Oregon. Portland stands ninth among the cities of the nation in amount of postal savings, with an aggregate of $3,796,672, and the seaport town of Astoria leads such cities as New Orleans and Dallas, Texas.

Down With the Scrub.

If ever there was excuse for permitting a scrub bull to lumber the pasture of Oregon that day has long since passed away. Today such an animal should be classed as a farm pest and the keeping of him made a misdemeanor. The acre is in effect, half the herd, and so long as scrub aires exist, scrub stock multiplies. Scrub stock scrubs failure in farming.

All great livestock states have come to realize the value of pure bred cattle. In fact, they cannot be great livestock states without the pure bred stock. No farmer in Oregon should be ignorant of this fact, considering the many years cool cattle have been bred here and the splendid record they have made as compared with nondescript stock. But there are yet thousands of Oregon farmers who have not made any worthy effort to grade up their herds.

Cook county, however, is shortly to be a county of high-class cattle, if the farmers respond readily to the campaign now being carried on by three banks of that county for the elimination of scrub bulls. Already more than $40,000 worth of pure bred bulls have been brought in by these banks and sold to the farmers at cost, and as this effort has failed to reach many of the more reactionary farmers, a round-up of scrub bulls has been staged for the latter part of this month, in which fifty pure breeds will replace as many scrubs, the bank trading the better animal for the scrub without boot, and sending the scrub to the butcher's block.

The banks will net an immediate loss by the exchange. But it is certain that eventually they will be the winners by it. It has been thoroughly demonstrated that there is a direct relation between a farmer's bank account and his bull.

This relation is just as true regarding livestock other than cattle. In an accurate accounting with domestic animals there may be no spectacular profits to the farmer, but it may easily be proven that most scrub stock dies debtor to the farm that produced it, and most pure bred stock leaves the farmer richer than it found him.—Portland Telegram.

It is quite interesting to note the avidity with which the democratic press of the nation has set about to select President-elect Harding's cabinet.

One result of the recent election shows that the Morrow county electorate is with the farmer in his efforts to rid the land of rodents and pests. The county agent's measure carried by a comfortable margin.
