Political Banks Not Democratic

From time to time an agitation is raised against our banking system and the cry goes out that the money interests are crushing the farmer.

North Dakota under the Non-Partisan league program started out to put private banks out of business with state owned and controlled banks and it has partially succeeded for during the past 60 days about a score of banks in that state have closed their doors.

In the meantime there have been few bank failures elsewhere in the country and private banks, clearing houses and bankers associations have been devising ways and means to carry the farmers and other industry over the temporary readjustment period.

The agitator howls but the banks do the work.

Time is proving that it is the private banks and bankers, rather than the politically controlled institution, that understands the needs of the individual or industry and can give immediate relief when the pinch comes.

Federal Farm Loan Banks with no-fair tax exemptions for their securities, postal savings banks, etc., all cut into private bank business but do not serve the masses nor furnish funds for the individual or industry, pay taxes or help maintain local or charitable institutions necessary in community development.—Manufacturer.

GLADYS WALTON and JACK PERRIN in

"Pink Tights"

Pretty romance of a spangled heroine whose parachute lands her on a bashful parson's roof.

No cleaner, sweeter, more heart-reaching picture than "Pink Tights" was ever made. A story that is as natural and wholesome as an old-fashioned country dinner and just as satisfying. The story of a little stranded circus girl who, the minister's flock thought, wasn't good enough to be allowed in town, much less in the parsonage—until something pretty serious happened to that town and they came to see—but that's telling. Come, yourself, to see "Pink Tights"—you'll have the happiest hour and one of the biggest thrills you ever had at any photodrama. Take our word for it—this is a real picture!
