

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Joe M. Woods and wife of Eight Mile were visitors in Heppner over the week end.

County Clerk Waters was called to Portland on Saturday on account of the illness of his son Deimar.

Jasper Crawford returned to Corvallis Monday after spending two weeks with the home folks in Heppner. He will resume studies at O. A. C.

Paul Webb came down from Walls Friday and took in the Elks ceremonies and enjoyed himself among old time acquaintances.

LOST—A brown shepherd dog, with a little white on front feet. Was about town during the past week. Is valuable animal. CHAS. HUSTON, Heppner.

Kit McCarty, who railroads out of The Dalles, was in Heppner over the week-end for a visit with his wife and baby and other relatives and friends.

Report from lone is to the effect that Frank Engelman is confined to his home, a very sick man. The many friends of "Bert" in Heppner are hoping for his early recovery.

C. D. Sperry, who has been having a tussle with Old Man Flu or Grip for the past two weeks, is improving and expects to soon again be at his office attending to business.—lone independent.

Owing to the absence from the city this week of Rev. Stephen Phelps, pastor, there will be no preaching services at the Federated church on next Sunday, January 3. Other services as usual.

Miss Jessie McEwen and Miss Mabel Wilcox of Portland, were guests over New Years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spencer of Heppner. The young ladies departed for home on Wednesday morning.

Chas. Chick departed Saturday morning for Moscow, Idaho, to take up his studies again at the State University. His vacation of two weeks was spent at the home of his parents in this city, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Chick.

APPLES—Eating apples at $1.50 and cooking apples at $1.25 per box f. o. b. Hood River, (not packed). Terms, cash with order. Shipped by freight unless otherwise ordered. B. L. Clark, Hood River, Ore., R. 1, Box 88.

Mrs. W. O. Bayless received word the first of the week of the very serious illness of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boyd at Parma, Idaho, and she departed immediately for the home of her sister to assist in caring for the child.

Whit Mauldin, who superintends the flocks on the Frank Sloan ranch at Stanfield, came over to enjoy the good time prepared by his home lodge of Elks. It is now "back to work" with Whit and no more joy for many months to come.

Chas. Anderson of lower Gooseberry was in Heppner yesterday, being called to the city on business. Plenty of moisture on his way and winter grain is coming along well but Charles says it takes a good car to make it to town under present condition of the roads.

Dr. A. K. Higgs, formerly of this city and still interested in a considerable tract of land near here which is being farmed by Ben Buschke, was up from Portland on Saturday. Dr. Higgs now enjoys a very extensive practice in Portland. He returned home Sunday.

Miss Dufor, teacher of music in the Heppner schools, has been called to her home at Grand Forks, North Dakota, and was unable to be in attendance at school this week. She will be here ready for work the coming week, unless unavoidably prevented.

Robert S. Wilcox, formerly a resident of Morrow county and a farmer in the lone section, came over from his Sherman county home near Wasco Friday, remaining until Sunday to help boost things along for the brother Elks. He had the pleasure of meeting many old-time friends while here.

County Judge Campbell went to Portland Monday in order to be present on Tuesday at a meeting of the State Highway Commission. The judge was especially interested in this meeting as it was the time set for the opening of the bids for placing the gravel on the Willow Creek Highway.

A short letter was received by The Gazette-Times during the week from J. R. Coxen, formerly of this city, but now of Gifford, Idaho. A sufficient enclosure accompanied the letter to insure the regular visits to the Coxen home the coming year of this paper, and Mr. Coxen states that he is now a full-fledged farmer and is caring for 160 acres of good Idaho land. We are hoping for his continued success.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Giger of Scotts Mills, Oregon, have been spending the holiday season visiting with relatives in Morrow county. Mrs. Giger is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cox of Hinton creek. They expect to return home this week. Mr. Giger is engaged in the lumber business with his brother at Scotts Mills but contemplates selling out his interests and in that event may return to Morrow county to live.

Jess Deas of Heppner Junction was in Heppner over Friday and Saturday and enjoyed himself among the antlers here. Jess is not well pleased over the prospect of an eight-foot highway from the Junction up to Heppner as proposed. He thinks sixteen feet would be much better for car drivers who have difficulty in sticking to the road anyway in order to get to Heppner Friday he came up via Boardman and then over the hills.

Frank Sloan was over from Stanfield and celebrated with the Elks on Friday and Saturday last. He will soon go down to Salem as representative in the legislature from Timatilla county. Like all other sheepmen of Eastern Oregon, Mr. Sloan is happy in the thought that he has no financial cares and responsibilities. He is "flat" like all the rest of us but appears to be getting his usual enjoyment out of life and glad to be able to make a visit once more to his old home town.

Hon. C. E. Woodson leaves for Salem the end of the week in order to be on hand at the opening of the legislature Monday next. Mr. Woodson anticipates there will be much legislation of importance to be attended to at the coming session. Redistricting of the state forming a new basis for election of senators and representatives, forming new congressional districts and a readjustment of salaries of county officials will be leading features. There will also be some tax reform measures presented, and those with the usual routine of bills and laws of merit and demerit, will make up a pretty busy session.

W. R. C. to Hold Meeting. The regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps will be held January 12, at 2:30 p. m. sharp in L. O. O. F. hall. It is the request of the president, Mrs. Bertha Drew Gilman, that every member make a special effort to be present at this meeting, as there is important business to be attended to.

Ed Rietmann was an interested spectator at the commercial club meeting on Tuesday evening, being one of the directors of the John Day Irrigation project. He returned home Wednesday, taking with him the ballots to be used in his part of the district in the election to be held on January 11, when two directors are to be elected. Mr. Rietmann is a candidate for director for one year and Clay C. Clark of Arlington for the three year term.

Bob Thompson arrived in Cecil Wednesday with a band of 1300 sheep from his Heppner ranch. He will winter his sheep at the Minor & Krebs ranches. His herder will make his home at the Shepherds' Rest. We noticed several fine lambs skipping around amongst the band of sheep.

$1000 REWARD—Given for information leading to the whereabouts of Roy Stender and his bride. This reward will be given by Dwight Miner of Elia and all his attendants who visited Selkome, the home of the newlyweds on Thursday evening. Not one musical instrument was left out and even the terrific din and roar of voices failed to call forth the wedded couple. Not to be excused, the whole house and premises were searched by the invading crowd, but nothing could be found. Such faces were "never seen" as the crowd wore when turning homeward at midnight.

Business Must Continue. IN SPITE of the scarcity of money, in spite of seeming adverse conditions, business must "carry on." The people must buy the necessities and most of them are able to, and will, buy the luxuries to which they are accustomed. They will, of course, buy these things where the inducement offered them is the greatest, and the merchant who realizes and acts upon this fact is the one to whom will go most of the trade. Of all times, now is the time when advertising, persistently and consistently done, will accomplish the most. The times of "easy come easy go" are over and here as everywhere else, a buyers' market has become a sellers' market. Every business man with something to sell must exert himself as he has not had to do in the past few years, and this exertion expressed through advertising will accomplish wonders. In Heppner the logical medium through which to reach the people who constitute the buying force of Morrow County is, of course, THE GAZETTE-TIMES. Logical, because of a circulation double that of its nearest competitor; unequalled mechanical equipment; the best of workmanship, and an advertising service which is complete in every respect. THE GAZETTE-TIMES is ready at all times to put its equipment, advertising service and knowledge at the disposal of the business man. Cooperation to make your advertising pay you big returns is our hobby and we are sure we can interest you. Call Main 882 and a representative will call upon you. The Gazette-Times Morrow County's Newspaper.
