FARM BUREAU NEWS
(From the Morrow County Farm Bureau News.)

Points of Superiority of Oregon Cooperative Grain Growers Association to the Washington Contract.

There are many points of superiority over the Washington Contract which points are all to the good so far as the grain farmers of Oregon are concerned.
Under the Washington Plan there is really no limit set for the amount which may be withdrawn from the farmers gross sales for the privilege of building warehouses, etc. while under the Oregon plan this is limited to three per cent during any one season.
Another advantage is that this amount withdrawn from gross sales is not a loss to the farmers but the farmer receives preferred stock drawing interest at six per cent for such money as included in the three per cent.
Another point, the referendum is allowed in the Oregon Plan on any act of the Board and this referendum is not by individual ballot but by vote of the wheat growers in proportion to the amount of wheat consigned to the organization.
The Directors and Delegates are subject to recall upon the same basis.
The books are to be audited at least every ninety days and a statement of the financial condition of the Company to be mailed to every member of the Association. This is certainly a decided advantage.
The Directors of the Association are to be elected at large and delegates are to be sent from the various districts in proportion to the grain signed up. According to this plan Morrow county is one district, Sherman county is one district, Gilliam, Grant and Wheeler are one district and there are in the entire state, nine districts.
The Board of Directors will never comprise more than thirty.
The common stock of the Association which has the voting power and will be held by the Association just as it will own automobiles and typewriters is not allowed to draw interest and therefore will be of no expense to the Association.
No one yet has been permitted to sign the contract. This contract was read and thoroughly discussed and after debating the proposition for about six hours at the meeting at The Dalles the plan was indorsed by a vote of 19 to 1.

Cooperation and Its Results.
The future of the tillers of the soil will depend upon the efficiency of their organizations. This is the fundamental principle which should guide us in attempting to solve the problems now at hand.
A typical example of such a movement has come to our attention. We are pleased to note the success attained by a farmers organization in the far south which seems to have won its spurs during these turbulent times. We quote from the November issue of the Rice Journal, published at Beaumont, Texas:

"Organization once more scores. The Southern Rice Growers Association has put through the biggest and most important marketing plan ever attempted by a farmers' organization in the South.
Paced with the ruinous necessity of dumping their rice on a stagnant market in order to get money to meet present obligations, the rice farmers are now able to borrow three dollars per sack on their product thus relieving to a great extent their present needs, and at the same time, have their rice go on the market in a gradual and normal manner. The results already noticeable in stabilizing the market are equally as satisfactory to the buyer as to the grower who had refused to purchase on more than a hand-to-mouth basis for the past few months."

The Oregon Grain Growers.
What Is It?
1. Provides for a long time contract.
2. Grain to be sold on Government grades.
3. Grain to be marketed through the Associated Agencies.
4. To be handled and managed by wheat growers.
5. All profit returned to the growers themselves, none to go to speculators or stockholders.
6. Withdrawal under the supervision of the Association.
7. The organization will obtain accurate statistical information regarding the grain of the entire world.
8. The Oregon Association will join hands with Washington, Idaho and Montana in stabilizing the price of the Columbia Basin wheat and co-operate with eastern agencies in the world's market.
9. The grower is safeguarded in every possible way with an 80-day audit of his money and a statement to follow showing financial condition of the company to each member.
10. Heavy advance on date of delivery of grain to the warehouse and regular paydays thereafter.
11. If it is financed upon sound business principles, well grounded by the experience of other business enterprises.
12. The theory is not a new one. It has been tried out for ten years and is being adopted and used by thirty organizations now operating and many more forming to follow the same line.
13. It is absolutely sound and safe.
14. Means dollars to the farmers' pockets.
15. Means stabilized business conditions for the merchant. Think it over.

State Farm Bureau Meets In Portland.
The meeting of the State Farm Bureau held January 11th and 12th, with committee meetings on a later date, occupying in all about five days, was one of the most important farm meetings ever held in the state. The meeting was called to order by President Mansfield and they reported that 15 counties had ratified the Farm Bureau plan. Committees were appointed on Resolutions, and in working out a State Program, and on the organization of the State Farm Bureau throughout the rest of the state. The wheat marketing program occupied about two days of the session and was one of the most interesting features of this meeting.
The farmers from Morrow and Sherman counties have a right to feel that they accomplished something by their attendance. Any man who was there could easily see that it was the farmers who got the results. The fact that a good delegation of about fifteen farmers from Morrow county and about twelve from Sherman county attended the meetings is what made the wheat marketing feature a real success. A committee representing the State Grange, Farmers' Union and Farm Bureau co-operated in working out a plan which was later submitted at The Dalles.
The organization of a State Wool

Morrow-Umatilla Hay Growers Will Hold Important Meeting at Hermiston.
On February 5th the Association will meet under the call of the president to consider further the cooperative marketing of hay. J. N. Price of the Yakima Hay Growers Association will be in attendance and speak on hay marketing, and Robert W. Withermore of Tilton Experiment Station will also speak on the feeding value of hay. It is anticipated that further steps will be taken toward working out this contract. It is highly important that this step be taken cautiously; that every farmer thoroughly understands what he is going into. When farmers think collectively and develop an idea that they can back up collectively there is no danger.
Thorough understanding is the basis for future cooperative efforts.

Speculative System of Marketing.
1. It is profit making.
2. It is financed with capital stock.
3. Its object is to pay dividends.
a. It must "bear" the market to the producer.
b. It must "bull" the market to the consumer.
4. Natural conditions ideal to manipulate price for profit.
a. Bulk of wheat of the world is produced in the north temperate zone.
b. 75 per cent of the wheat of the world is harvested in 3 months, June, July and August.
c. Bulk of wheat is produced by one crop farmers.
d. National pay day is October.
5. Speculative system has the information, the warehouses and the finance.
6. It is becoming more highly organized each year.
7. You know what it did this year; what will happen with the next crop?
Pure Cooperation.
1. Selling organization operates upon cost without profit.
a. Grower receives all his wheat brings on the market less the actual cost of handling.
b. Association sells only.
2. Membership must be limited to persons whose interests are identical—that is, wheat growers.
3. Governing board must be elected from among the members by a direct vote of the members.
4. Each member shall have one vote.
5. Each member receives average price of pool.
6. Everybody is protected but the wheat gambler. He don't need it.

Your Telephone
What does your telephone service mean to you?
In the successful operation of your business is your telephone necessary?
Does the telephone in your residence prove more than a convenience and perform an important part in the management of your affairs?
In fact, don't you find good telephone service essential in both your office and home?
The Telephone Company believes you do and wants to supply that service to you.
Telephone properties are now operating at a loss in the State of Oregon.
Increased rates are necessary to continue present service and attract capital for building new plant needed. Can investors be expected to furnish funds for extensions when the present plant does not pay its way?
Is not the Telephone Company entitled to rates which will enable them to continue to furnish good telephone service to the people of Oregon, and without which they cannot carry out their plans for development?
These are questions of importance and should interest every telephone user.
