P.-T. ASSOCIATION HAS GOOD MEETING

Attendance Not Large and Program Instructive—Next Meeting April 19, Officers to be Nominated.

A very interesting, entertaining and instructive meeting of the Patron-Teachers Association was held at the high school auditorium on Tuesday afternoon, the attendance was not as large as it should have been.

Mr. Heard presented his subject, "Athletics and Physical Education" in a manner that was highly instructive and showed that he was well equipped to handle a question of such importance. All were well pleased with his talk.

Prof. James had not announced a particular subject for his talk, so he enlightened those present on what had been done in the school to date as per promises made, two important matters in particular having been accomplished.

Supervision of playgrounds and a supervised lunch room were now set policies of the school and were being handled efficiently by the splendid cooperation of the grade and high school teachers. The promised cafeteria service planned for the winter months had not been carried out owing to the mildness of the weather, and other hopes for betterments about the school would gradually be provided as time and means permitted.

The talk of Prof. James was greatly enjoyed. Entertainment features were a piano solo by Vivian James, instrumental solo by Bernice Woodson, duet by Miss Dafoe and Miss Norris.

The fourth grade carried off the laurels for the best work in securing attendance and will get the picture for the coming month. It was held the past month and more by the fifth grade.

The committee having the matter in charge was instructed to get the tennis court at the school grounds in shape at once. A motion also prevailed that the Patron-Teacher Association entertain the high school and faculty in the near future, the honor guests to be the debating and basketball teams.

The association recently made improvements in the teachers rest room at the school building, and in appreciation of this a vote of thanks was tendered the association at this meeting by the teachers of the school.

The next regular meeting of the association will be on Tuesday, April 12. This meeting is of importance as it is the time for the nomination of officers for the coming year. It is desired that there be a full attendance of members on this date.

GRAIN GROWERS WILL MEET AT ARLINGTON

L. A. HUNT.

The Executive Committee of the Incorporated Oregon Co-operative Grain Growers met at The Dalles on March 5th and arranged to call the meeting for the election of temporary directors at Arlington, March 12th. This will be a general public meeting of all the men who have so far signed the contracts and will be for the purpose of the election of the directors to serve until the annual meeting in June and to discuss such other matters as may come up at this meeting.

In this meeting Morrow county will undoubtedly be entitled to two directors to serve during this time. The farmers are very much interested in developing an aggressive campaign for membership and expect to see steps taken to this end at that time. So far the Oregon Co-operative Grain Growers have secured as many members in the five weeks campaign which has just closed as were secured in an entire year by the Washington organization.

Most earnestly we urge that this bill be given quickly, that your committee be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

Republican National Committee, Will H. Hays, Chairman. Make contributions to your precinct committee, or to M. D. Clark, at Heppner, Ore.

Nearly two hours of side-splitting mirth. On Friday, March 18, the Adult Class and teachers of the Lexington Congregational Sunday School will give the play, Jones vs. Jinks at the high school auditorium. This is a mock trial, a rip-roaring farce in one act.

Nearly two hours of side-splitting mirth. Admission 25 and 50 cents.

PROF. JAMES TO REMAIN HEAD HEPPNER SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the board of directors of School District No. 1 on last Monday evening, the matter of hiring teachers for the coming year was taken up. Prof. Howard M. James, who has been the efficient superintendent of the schools during the past year, was elected to retain his position for the coming year and his salary fixed at $2900 for the twelve months. Prof. James has consented to remain.

The hiring of the high school and grade teachers will proceed as fast as the board is able to fill the places. The school has gone along splendidly during the past year with a very efficient force of teachers, and it is hoped that the most of the present corps may be retained, and we understand they have been asked to do so.

Opens Up Dairy Business. E. L. Kirk, until recently engaged in the livery business in Heppner with the McRoberts, has opened up a dairy business and will sell milk and cream in Heppner. Mr. Kirk has a small place just southeast of town that is very nicely situated for the business and he promises to give the people of the city good service in this line.

C. C. Clark, chairman of the board of directors of the John Day Irrigation district is in Heppner today from his home at Arlington. He is attending a meeting of the irrigation directors.

An Appeal

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aid Them:
The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.
This success is the partnership accomplishment of all the Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of party affiliations. To all of these we now appeal because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unorganized.
It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change our method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American citizen who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving set up the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may say with confidence that one in every twenty persons in this country finds his livelihood in occupations directly connected with lumbering or in industries that are associated therewith.

"The greatest cause of this situation is a growing scarcity of forest products, which in no great length of time will become critical. Markets may fluctuate one way or another owing to financial and other temporary conditions, but behind it lies a steady decrease in the supply of timber, which has a very vital bearing upon our national housing situation, our national paper situation and many industries which use lumber in many of their products."

Work on the "Lexonian" is rapidly progressing. The editor is being kept "head over heels" in work.

Remember the comedy, "Safety First" to be given at an early date in April. This is a three-act comedy and every one attending may be assured of a good time.

Civic Club Holds Regular Meeting. The Heppner Civic Club held their regular business meeting on last Friday afternoon in the council chambers with a fairly good attendance. Several plans for improvement work were discussed and our reporter says that the members are enthusiastic and in earnest and it is expected that Heppner will soon be on the way to the "City Beautiful."

The matter of giving financial support to the band was presented and gone over but the club could not see their way clear to take hold of this proposition just as it was presented.
On Friday, March 18th, there will be a social meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. D. E. Gilman. A short program will be given and all women interested in becoming working members of the club are cordially invited.

Wins Over Stanfield. The debating teams of Heppner High school won over the teams of Stanfield last Saturday evening by two to one decision. This was the final contest in the district and Heppner has won a place in the finals at Eugene. A fine record for their first appearance in the debating arena. Prof. James accompanied the boys to Stanfield and he states that he has never listened to a more virtuous of the success the teams have attained, and this feeling is shared by the entire community.

SAVE NATIONAL FORESTS PLEADS SENATOR McNARY

Washington, March 9.—Senator McNary, of Oregon, has voiced a plea for the preservation of the great forests of the country by fire protection. He says:
"We have used up three-fourths of our original forests, and the supply of timber remaining is becoming less and less adequate for the requirements of the country, both in quantity and in location. Sixty-one per cent of what is left lies west of the Great Plains, whereas the bulk of lumber and paper consumption is east of the Great Plains. Over 50 percent of the standing timber today is found in the three Pacific Coast States and 61 per cent is found in that great western country lying west of the Mississippi river. Our eastern forested states one after another have been cut out, and ceased to be important producers of timber because their virgin forests have been but very partially and inadequately replaced by second growth after logging. With the exhaustion of these old sources of lumber, paper and other forest products and with the increasing distance which lumber must be hauled from the saw-mill to the consumer, much of it now across the width of the continent, there is a growing scarcity of forest products, which in no great length of time will become critical. Markets may fluctuate one way or another owing to financial and other temporary conditions, but behind it lies a steady decrease in the supply of timber, which has a very vital bearing upon our national housing situation, our national paper situation and many industries which use lumber in many of their products, and the statistics show that one in every twenty persons in this country finds his livelihood in occupations directly connected with lumbering or in industries that are associated therewith.

Farmers Need Tariff.
Washington, March 9.—Representative Tinsler, of Kansas, for a tariff on farm products, and is for it strong. He says:
"At the end of eight years in which the policies of the party to which belongs the gentleman who has just preceded me concerning tariff have been in vogue, we find the producing interests of the country in the most deplorable condition experienced in all time. If there ever was a necessity for a tariff to protect our farmers, it is now. If there ever was a tariff bill offered to the country that had for its prime object the protection of the producers of the country, it is the emergency bill. I challenge any man to call attention to the time when any bill was ever pending in the American Congress pertaining to the tariff that gave to the producer the protection that this bill does or which had that purpose for its object. And I say that the industry in which the people who are feeding the world today are engaged is in the worst condition ever known in the history of this Republic.
"I am for protection, and have always been. I was for protection when the prime object of protection was to protect infant industries of this great country, in order that they might build up and become powerful industries; and I am consistent today, and I am for protection when that protection is needed by the producers of the West and Middle West."
Enjoyed Heppner Convention. Many Echo Odd Fellows went to the convention at Heppner last Saturday. They report a very enjoyable time, and were most hospitably entertained. Freewater won the silver cup for the best degree team. It is estimated that 400 Odd Fellows were present.
Among the men from Echo were Jas. Berger, L. D. Shively, Basil Mikesell, Al. Dunn, Wm. Spradley, Joe Bailey, Ed. Liesegang, Tom Downey, John Young, E. F. Summers, Neil Rock, S. E. Mikesell, Joe Halstead and Henry Peters.—Echo News.

HINTON CREEK ROAD FUNDS ARE PROVIDED

Highway Commission to Exchange Cash for $40,000 in Bonds—Many Matters Before Meeting at Portland This Week.

County Judge Campbell in company with H. J. Carner of Spray and Kenny Warner of Pilot Rock, left Heppner for Portland Sunday morning to be present at the meeting of the State Highway Commission in that city on Tuesday. Commissioner Barratt was also a member of the party.

Mr. Warner came to Heppner Saturday evening to confer with our business men regarding the completion of the Oregon-Washington Highway from this city to the Umatilla county line, as well as getting it on through to Heppner Junction. Mr. Warner states that Umatilla county plans to complete its portion of this highway this summer to the Morrow county line and of course they are anxious to connect up with a completed road on through Heppner to the junction.

Mr. Warner learned that our county had set aside $40,000 for the Hinton creek section of this highway, but the bonds could not be disposed of as planned. It was before decided that this would be one matter to take up with the commission, as well as the further proposition of getting the gap closed between Heppner and Lexington.

These matters, among others were presented to the commission on Tuesday, and so far that body has acted on none favorably except the Hinton creek road. There is some stir about this road here to be standardized, and the commission agreed to let the county have the money to do this, taking the bonds of the county as security. This will be up to the amount of $40,000.

The commission decided against adding any more roads to the state highway map. Commissioners Yeon and Barratt agreeing that they were against such addition. This is necessary because of lack of funds.

There is a great amount of work up before the commission to be disposed of and many delegations were present from over the state at Tuesday's meeting, and much of the matters laid before them will have to be disposed of in executive session. So many suggestions have been presented in the way of road projects that the commission will make a personal inspection of the situation in several parts of the state. Eastern and Central Oregon will be visited and so will the Willamette valley.

The East Oregonian of Pendleton issued a fine automobile edition on Tuesday. The big show is on in Pendleton this week.

Heppner Chapter No. 25, R. A. M., is planning a big time for next Tuesday evening when a number of candidates will receive the degrees. The work of the order will be followed by a banquet at the hotel, according to present plans.

Some wheat has been changing hands this week at Heppner at a price not very flattering to the farmer. It has come to a point with many farmers, however, where they are compelled to let some of their wheat go and realize a little cash.

Mr. Clifford H. Esselstyn, manager of the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co., at Lexington, was married to Miss Clyde Hale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Esselstyn, Rev. E. L. Wolf, pastor of the M. E. church at Echo officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Esselstyn will make their home in Lexington.

The last number of the Lyceum course was given at the Star theater on Friday evening in a splendid entertainment by Roseth Knapp Reed. The program was largely of a humorous nature, as Miss Reed is noted along this line, and we feel safe in saying that it was a little the best number of the course. The course was presented this year under the auspices of the Patron-Teachers Association and was successfully handled. The coming year a similar course is to be handled by the high school.

BASKET BALL TEAM OFF FOR SALEM WEDNESDAY

The Heppner high school triumphant basketball quintet took a hike for Salem Wednesday morning to take part in the events of the state tournament there in remainder of the week. They were in charge of their coach, Prof. Heard, and left the city in the finest of form, fully confident that they would be winners in the tournament finals.

It was thought at first that the Heppner boys would not get to go, as there seemed to be some question regarding their standing. Word received from Salem Tuesday morning settled the question. Heppner was to represent the district between Hood River and Pendleton, and then the question was to get the boys down to the capital city. Salem would take care of the fare one way but the boys did not have the necessary to pay the other half. This was soon settled when the matter was put before the business men of the city and the cash provided. The boys going to Salem were Peterson, Aiken, Young, Howell, McDuffee, Ferguson and Childsey.

Heppner has been a winner in all contests in the association and we believe the boys will make further winnings at Salem, thus putting our town and school on the map in fine style.

J. C. Meek of Drummond, Idaho, has been spending the past week in Heppner, visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mattie B. Scriver.

COUNCIL HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING

Routine Business Attended to—Pastime Ordinance is Being Amended—Water Committee Reports.

At the regular monthly meeting of the city council held last Monday evening, the usual routine business was done through. Mayor Noble was present with councilmen Tash, Swesk, Bisbee, Clark and Thomson responding to roll call.

Bills against the city were passed upon by the finance committee and ordered paid as follows:
A. H. Courler, 114; J. F. Furlong, 122.20; Peoples Hardware Co., 110.22; Ed. Breshin, 17.50; A. Z. Barnard, 121.00; T. J. Humphreys, 110; Bert Stone, 42; Case Furniture Co., 118.50; L. W. Briggs, 120; Jas. J. Nye, 150; Dr. A. B. McMurdo, 110; Gazette-Times, 17.50; A. Z. Barnard, 11; J. O. Hager, 151; Jas. Gentry, 191; Jas. Gentry, 1622; A. Medlock, 32; Humphreys Drug Co., 11; Heppner Light & Water Co., 1162.81; W. C. Casson, 125; Theo. Hughes, 125.

Ordinance No. 209, pertaining to pastimes and amending the present ordinance so as to permit pastimes to open certain hours in the afternoon on Sunday, was read first time by title, and upon unanimous motion the same was read second time by title and placed in position for final passage at the next meeting of the council.

The monthly financial statement of the water committee was presented and after being read was ordered filed. The statement shows the standing of the water funds to be:
Balance on hand Jan. 31, 1,321.83
Amount collected for January, 495.60
Expenditures 401.61

Balance on hand March 1st, 1,425.82
At the time of the completion of the new water system last August there was a deficit in the water funds of nearly $2000, and this is now practically wiped out. It is estimated that the water receipts will average better than $100,000 for the year, and it would appear now that from a financial point of view the city had made a splendid investment.

Ed Atkins of Heppner has been in Cecil during the week with his heavy truck to help the Oregon Haggam Paving Co. to get their rock crusher moved from the depot to where they will begin crushing.

Cecil was well represented at the meetings at the county seat on Tuesday and Wednesday in connection with the John Day Irrigation project. We are informed that all farmers from the creek and also most of the wheat farmers from the hills were present. No minutes of the meeting had been brought to the home town by either the mayor or his deputy at the time of writing.

The Highway Commission has let the contract for paving of Columbia River Highway between Hood River and Mosier.

LOCAL TALENT MAKES HIT AT ELKS TEMPLE

Tremendous Audience Fills Big Auditorium and is Delighted With the Entire Performance—Good Sum of Money Realized by Ladies.

The entertainment by the ladies of Heppner Lodge No. 254, B. P. O. E. which was presented to the Heppner public at Elks Temple on Tuesday evening, was a pronounced success throughout the entire program. The entertainers were greeted by a crowd that filled the big auditorium till standing room, was pronounced success throughout the entire program.

The program as presented follows:
Song, Mrs. Chester Darbee.
Song, Miss Zelma Engelman.
Song and dance, Eleanor Cohn and Patricia Mahoney, the latter representing the part of a boy.
Dance, Lola O'Neill.
Spring Dance, Betty Irwin.
Burlesque on Spring dance, the Misses Lois and Lola O'Neill.
Sketches by Ted Young.
Song and dance, Leola Bennett.
Irish songs and jigs, Mrs. Emmet Cochran.
Rosebud Chorus—Composed of Jack O'Neill, Jr., as prima donna, Bert Stone, Loren Mikesell, Ed Bennett, Bob Jordan, and Vawter Crawford, Jr.
Dean Goodman was director and spokesman of the evening and Mrs. C. L. Swesk and Esther Neel were accompanists.

A number of the ladies acted as ushers and were costumed as "Martha Washingtons," making a very favorable impression.

Each number of the program was well rendered and we should not show partiality in making special reference to any. Yet we cannot refrain from speaking especially of the performance of the little folks. Betty Irwin should be handed the big bouquet as she did her Spring dance in a wonderfully delightful manner. Eleanor Cohn and Patricia Mahoney were also leading attractions and entitled to much praise.

The Rosebuds did not fail to make the promised hit and their next appearance in Heppner will be awaited with pleasurable anticipation. While Mrs. Cochran, who is not quite as nimble as she used to be, was a scream in her part and brought down the house with a roar.

The entertainment was unique in many respects and of a high order all through. The ladies had prepared an abundance of homemade candies also, and following the program these were disposed of and a handsome sum realized. Following this was a jitty dance which lasted for a short time and was enjoyed by those participating.

The financial results were just as flattering to the ladies as was the entertainment to the public, and nearly $300 was realized. This money is to be used in equipping the kitchen and dining room of the Elks building.

FARM POINTERS.

Lime-sulphur spray is recommended to prune growers who have suffered from attacks of the peach and prune twig miner. The spray should be used at a dilution of 15 gallons of lime-sulphur to 100 gallons of water. This spray should be applied during a period of settled weather and previous to opening of the buds. When rightly used little or no injury by twig miners will occur.—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

Cauliflower plants are often injured by frost if set out too early. This has a tendency to check growth and cause the plant to produce a small cauliflower head, often no larger than a carnation. It is best to wait until the weather is more settled before the plants are set out. The most valuable cauliflower crop is usually grown in late summer or fall, the seed being sown in May, transplanted in late June, and the crop maturing in October or November.—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

Two things should be determined in the first spring examination of the bee hive which should be made in the first part of March. First, that the bees have a laying queen which is determined by looking for brood, and second, of honey to last them. The examination should be held in the middle of the day when the bees are flying.—Entomologist, O. A. C.

Hannchen barley for a number of years has been giving the best results at the O. A. C. experiment station, where seed is available. Many people are unfamiliar with the large amount of feed that may be produced with barley. The Willamette valley has never produced as much barley as it sometimes does, probably to this fact.

Entertain Debating Team at Dinner. Prof. and Mrs. Howard M. James entertained Messrs. Toland Humphreys and Elmer Peterson and the Misses Margaret Woodson and Audra Gregan, the high school debating team, at a dinner party at the hotel on Tuesday evening. Prof. James is very proud of his debating team and he is looking forward to their winning further laurels at the finals at Eugene in May.

A. B. Strait was in town from Lone today, having just returned to Morrow county from a return of two months in the Willamette valley. Mr. Strait was visiting in the Lebanon section and states that the farmers down there have not felt the hard times. They made a clean-up of around $100 per acre on their potato crop, and while the price was not big, the large quantities raised and disposed of made times good there. It was some different with the prairie raisers.

Miss Lillian Crowdon departed on Monday for Walla Walla where she will visit for a short time with her sister, Mrs. Cecil Hale before going to work in that city. Miss Crowdon expects to be absent from Heppner for some time.
