

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Swing done. Inquire at Mrs. Mary Thompson's any day except Saturday 21-21.

M. F. Parker, business man of Lexington, was a visitor in Heppner for a short time on Tuesday.

Will G. Hynd, of Rose Lawn ranch, Sand Hollow, was in Heppner on Monday. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Annie Hynd.

Francis A. McMenamin returned from several days spent at the big sheep ranch of McMenamin and Ward at Alderdale, Washington, on Monday.

Dr. Chick reports the arrival of a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Stevens, who reside near Hardman, on April 15th, 1921.

LOST—One black 2-year-old stallion, branded seven H dash on right hip. If recovered for information leading to return. Oral Henriksen, Cecil, Oregon. 41-14.

Cashier W. P. Mahoney, of the First National Bank, accompanied by Mrs. Mahoney, spent the week-end in Portland. They returned home on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wilcox, formerly residents of Heppner and Morrow county and now residing at Estacada, arrived in this city the first of the week and are visiting with friends and relatives here and at Ione.

The wheat market at Heppner was somewhat on the lift Friday and Saturday, there being quite a strong demand from the millers for hard wheat. We understand the price reached $1.92 Saturday and quite a lot of wheat changed hands.

C. L. Keithley, whose home is now at Walla Walla, where he is located in the head office of the National Forest, has been in Heppner this week, attending to matters pertaining to his office, and also enjoying a visit with all the old-timers here.

Sam Hughes departed for San Francisco on Friday, where he is called on business and pleasure. He will make some selection of goods for the Sam Hughes company while in the city, and also attend a meeting of the association of merchants of the Pacific slope. Mr. Hughes is expected home the first of the coming week.

Mrs. Fred Akers, of Eight Mile, who was taken to the hospital at Condon a short time ago and underwent an operation for appendicitis at the hands of Dr. Hayden of Hardman, was able to return to her home on Friday last, and is reported to be getting along nicely, her complete recovery being only a matter of a few days now.

Oral and Clifford Henriksen, alfalfa raisers of the Cecil country were doing business in Heppner on Monday. These boys are also interested in running a big ranch in the mountains in which is included the Hamilton ranch, formerly owned and operated by C. A. Minor, and they will shortly move their stock from the lower country to the mountain range.

P. A. Anderson, H. R. Patterson and J. P. Cook were among some of the Heppner folks going over to Condon to see the ball game between Ione and Condon. They got properly stung, if reports are to be accepted, as the game was about on a par with that played in Heppner the day before between boardman and Heppner. P. A. says the roads were good and they enjoyed the trip going and coming.

Many good showers of rain during the week is making everything grow in these parts, and the crops are looking better each day. The hills are covered with an abundance of fine grain and feed for the stockman and sheepman is excellent. Mother nature is certainly doing her best to make up for past failures and our stockmen and agriculturists are facing bright prospects, barring the market conditions.

Prof. James Austin, who has had charge of the Heppner band during the past year, departed on Sunday for Pendleton to reside. Prof. Austin has succeeded in working up a good class in music over there, and he expects also to have a fair sized class at Pilot Rock, making visits to that point about once each week. No leader for the Heppner band has as yet been selected, though there are negotiations on the way.

Lowell McMillan, son of W. P. McMillan of Lexington, has taken a place as one of the bookkeepers in the First National Bank, filling the position made vacant by the resignation of Cecil Liden. Mr. Liden has gone to work for the Standard Oil company, taking the place of Vawter Crawford who has been advanced to the city office of the company in Portland, and departed today for that city to take up his duties.

Alfred E. Anderson went down to The Dalles on Sunday, and on Monday he closed a deal there for a small tract of fruit and garden land, situated a short distance from the city. Mr. Anderson, who has been farming in the Eight Mile country in this county for a number of years, has leased his farm and will now move to the newly acquired premises in Wasco county. Their many friends in this county wish for Mr. and Mrs. Anderson continued prosperity in their future home.

James Carty was up from the Tub Springs ranch for a few hours on Monday and reports mother nature just outdoing herself this spring in his section. Grain and grass are growing to beat the band, there is a heavy increase in lambs and stock of all kinds are waxing fat. He says there is nothing to worry about now that a man can get no money to do business on, so we will all rejoice and be happy, awaiting the day when somebody comes along prepared to buy what the rancher has to sell.

George D. Anderson, who has charge of the Jack Hynd sheep as camp tender, was in Heppner Saturday and says that he has just located at Frenzeout with a band of ewes and lambs. He was on his way back to Cecil to bring up some cattle for the summer range. George states that it has been pretty cold in the foothills and that section was treated to a heavy fall of snow the past week, making it rather an uninviting spot for sheep just at present. However, it will not lay on long, and the grass is fine on the range.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Latourell returned Tuesday from a visit of several days at their old home in Multnomah county. While below, Mr. Latourell took time to look up business affairs, and he found that conditions around Portland in a business way are not much different from here. There is always something moving in the city but in the smaller towns money matters are just as tight as here and getting tighter. In the car business, Mr. Latourell states that he has closed out all the cars he had on the floor here and expects another car load of roadsters and touring cars in by the last of this month. The Ford is coming to the front these days.

Mrs. Chamberlain Entertained.

With the rooms decorated in a profusion of beautiful spring flowers, Mrs. W. W. Smead entertained on last Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Mary E. Chamberlain, of Portland, Past Department President of the Women's Relief Corps of Oregon. Mrs. Chamberlain has been the house guest of Mrs. D. E. Gilman during the past several weeks. At the Smead home the entertainment consisted of games, music and dainty refreshments that were enjoyed by about thirty women. In behalf of the Corps Mrs. Emily Kelly presented Mrs. Chamberlain with a set of silver oyster forks as a token of esteem.

Civic Club to Meet.

There will be a called meeting of the Civic Club on Monday, April 21st, at 2:30 p. m., at the office of the County School Superintendent in the court house. All members are requested to take note of this and make it a point to be present at this time.

A new economy in motor car operation

The manufacturer of your automobile recommends, in the Instruction Book for your car, that the crankcase be drained out and flushed and then refilled with fresh oil at regular intervals.

This is necessary because engine operation causes a steady accumulation of road dust, carbon, fine metal particles and other impurities in the crankcase oil. This gritty oil circulates through your engine, impairs its performance and ultimately leads to rapid depreciation and repairs.

But cleaning the crankcase is a job generally disliked and neglected.

To meet this need, Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service has been established by first-class garages and other dealers co-operating with the Standard Oil Company. These garages and dealers use Calol Flushing Oil—the scientific agent that cleans out old oil, dirt, grit and other impurities, and does not impair the lubricating efficiency of fresh oil used. The cleaned crankcase is refilled with the correct grade of Zerolene.

Look for the garage or dealer displaying the sign shown below—it means "Better operation and longer engine life."

to get in touch with Real Printing Service

SERVICE that is not based upon price alone, but upon the requirements and desires of each individual customer. SERVICE that demands that each job be the best it is possible to give for the purpose it is supposed to serve. SERVICE that is possible because it is backed up by a REAL printing plant—not a collection of worn-out, obsolete machinery and type—a plant completely equipped with modern machinery, each machine the best possible to procure for the work which it is intended to perform, and the latest faces of new type. SERVICE at a price no greater than that of the ordinary brand of country printing. The price of G.T. printing is based upon the Franklin Printing Price List, the one-price-everything-marked-in-plain-figures idea applied to printing, and insures a square deal to the customer as well as the printer. It is used in over 10,000 printing plants all over the United States.
