"Here's Real Tobacco"
says the Good Judge

That gives a man more genuine chewing satisfaction than he ever got out of the ordinary kind.
Smaller chew, lasts longer —so it costs less to chew this class of tobacco.

And the good, rich tobacco taste gives a world of satisfaction.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew
will tell you that.

Put up in two styles

W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco

RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

HURRY UP! WE ALL WANT THIS, TOO

BY ROBERT FULLER

A movement is spreading throughout the West among the Farm Bureaus to extend their influence as sources of education and not to confine themselves to encouraging better agriculture alone. Enterprising county agents see the need of interesting the younger generation of the farm in other things besides farming and thus offset the lure of the city.

The latest idea hails from Ft. Worth, Texas, where H. M. Means, county agent, is revolutionizing things by means of a specially equipped motor truck. It carries an electric light plant, motion picture machine, phonograph, with a liberal supply of records and a traveling library. They touch on all phases of education and entertaining too.

The educational truck makes nightly visits to rural schools, where children of all ages and their parents listen to musical programs, see motion pictures of real value, and get books from the library on a regular card system.

Two Fergusons In Jack London FilmHELEN AND CASSON, WHO HAD NEVER MET, PLAY SWEET-HEARTS IN NEW PLAY

Two Fergusons—Helen and Cas-son—who, though of the same family name are not related and who prior to their engagement for the picture had never met, play opposite each other in the all-star production of Jack London's novel, "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," showing at the Star Theater on Monday and Tuesday, May 16 and 17. The picture is a C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., production and is distributed by Metro.

The two Fergusons play respectively the parts of Margaret West, daughter of a half-owner of the sailing ship, "Elsinore," and Dick Somers, son of the vessel's skipper.

"The Mutiny of the Elsinore," is the second of the Jack London stories screened for Metro release. The first was "Burning Daylight," with an all-star cast that included Miss Ferguson and Mitchell Lewis. Mr. Lewis has the leading role also in "The Mutiny of the Elsinore." He is cast as John Pike, the rough but kind-hearted mate of the "Elsinore," who battles with the mutineers when they endeavor to take over control of his ship. It is a role ideally suited to this virile actor.

Noah Beery plays the sinister Mel-laire, who incites the crew to mutiny.
This part affords Mr. Beery opportunity for some of the best work of his career. At the present time five pictures in which Mr. Beery appears are waiting release, among them "The Sea Wolf," another of Jack London's novels, which features him. Previous to appearing on the screen Beery appeared a number of years on the stage. His initial vehicle was "Way Down East," following which he supported Frank Keenan in "The Girl of the Golden West," Robert Edson in "Strongheart," and Charlotte Walker in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

SMILE AWHILE

SUBTLE STUFF.

A clerk in a mercantile house had completed a quarter of a century's service with the firm.

Schmidt, the senior partner, handed him in the morning a large sealed envelope inscribed: "In memory of this eventful day."

The clerk gratefully accepted the envelope without opening it, but on a gracious hint from the chief he broke the seal. Inside he found a photograph of his employer.

"Well, what do you think of it?" inquired Schmidt, with a grin.
"It's just like you," was the ambiguous reply.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

THE SOURCE.

"I think," said Dr. Smith, "that bad cooks supply us with half our patients."

"That's a fact," said old Dr.
Brown. "And good cooks supply us with the other fifty per cent.—Journal of the American Medical Association."

PAT AND PERT.

Thomas A. Daly, the Irish poet, said at a luncheon in Philadelphia:

"Whatever you think of the Irish question, you've got to admit that the Irish can always come back at you with—er—a pat answer."

"Once at a dinner in Dublin, I sat beside a pretty Irish actress. She said that her sex was more religious than ours, but I said in answer:

"Oh, you only go to church to see what the women have got on."

"Well," said the pretty actress, "you men only go to the theater to see what we haven't got on."—Detroit Free Press.

SAFETY FIRST.

A prominent New York debutante recently ordered "four seats on the aisle" at the theater. When her party arrived at the performance, they were surprised to find themselves arranged in a column instead of a row. Nothing daunted, the de-butante turned to a bored, middle-aged man next to her. Surely he would not mind changing with her friend in front.

"I beg your pardon," she said politely.

No reply. He must be deaf.
"I beg your pardon," she repeated, louder.

Still no reply.

"I beg your pardon," she said, bumping his elbow.

He took out a pencil and wrote on his program:

"That's my wife on the other side of me. Safety First."—New York Evening Post.

HELPING HIM OUT.

"Judge, be easy on me."

"Why should I be lenient?"

"Because a concatenation of unforseen circumstances precipitated me into this deplorable predicament."

"Well, I'll do the best I can for you. You seem to have a liking for long words, so I will send you to a prison where there is a good library and you can learn a few more."— Birmingham Age-Herald.

NEIS SAID HE COULD
AND IS PROVING IT.

One day, at the beginning of the 1920 season, Bernie Neis walked up to Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and said, "I am a corking good ball player and I'd like a chance to play." Robinson smilingly asked him what he had ever done, whereupon Bernie in all seriousness replied, "Never mind what I've done, give me the chance and I can do it."

And this season he is proving it.
He is knocking 'em out and busting 'em up to such an extent that he has won a place on the team.

MACK PERFORMANCE COUNTSMack Truck
A Sure Thing
---you take no chances

Frequently, when the purchase of a motor truck is considered, an experienced owner will tell the novice not to take a chance. He means by that he should buy a truck that has proved its worth by years of successful operation for others.

Buy a MACK truck and you can take no chances. The MACK has been built by exclusive truck manufacturers for 22 years. There are MACK trucks that have been driven in excess of 300,000 miles and they still are rendering efficient service. Years do not measure the "life" of a truck but miles do and you will get more miles at a minimum cost of upkeep from the MACK than any other make of truck.

We would be pleased to inform you about concrete cases of MACK performance. We know these would prove that MACK buyers are not taking chances.
