

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Big 4th of July celebration at Parkers Mill.

Carl Young, wheat buyer from Ione, was in Heppner on Tuesday.

Good, seasoned 4-foot wood for sale at $4.00 per cord at Parkers Mill. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Cutsforth of Lexington were visitors in the city yesterday.

Walt Smith, real estate dealer of Ione was in Heppner a short time yesterday on business.

LOST—Wrist watch, radium numbers, somewhere on streets of Heppner. Finder please leave at this office.

House and acre of ground for sale or rent. Just outside corporate limits of Heppner. Inquire this office or see Mrs. Sarah Brown, city. 21.

Prof. Howard M. James returned home on Sunday from Eugene, where he had been during the past week with the high school during the team.

Lena Snell Shurtz, school superintendent of Morrow county, was visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Wheelhouse, during the Dukey convention—Arlington Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beymer of Heppner were attending to business matters here this week. They were registered at the Hotel Condon.—Condon Globe-Times.

Patrons of the Lexington school district, and all others desiring copies of the high school annual, the Lexonian, can get them by calling at Burgoyne's store in Lexington.

Attorney C. L. Sweek is over at Monument this week to look after matters pertaining to the business of his father there. The elder Mr. Sweek is still at the hospital in Portland.

Frank Moore, wheat creak alfalfa raiser, was up town on Tuesday, wearing his usual optimistic smile. Frank will have some crops this season, judging from present prospects.

Geo. E. West and wife of Palouse City, Washington, arrived at Heppner Tuesday and will visit for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kirk. Mrs. West is a sister of Mrs. Kirk.

FOR SALE—Seven broke mules, three and five years old; one span of heavy brood mares; one Nelson stacker hood, one Garden City automatic feeder, good as new. F. E. MASON, Lexington, Ore.

WANTED—Man with 8 or 10 horses and outfit to contract work of care of farm 17 miles south of Ione. Good buildings and clean well. CHAS. WAGNER, 484 1/2 Jefferson St., Portland, Ore.

Sheriff McDuffee was called to Pendleton yesterday to appear as a witness in the John Day Irrigation case to be heard in the court of Judge Phelps today. He accompanied Attorney F. A. McMenamin.

Harvey McAllister was up from Lexington for a short time on Tuesday. He and Ed Hurchell were delegates to the grand lodge I. O. O. F. in Albany last week from the Lexington lodge, and they each enjoyed a fine time.

Mrs. Lillian Turner and son Robert returned home on Sunday. While below, Mrs. Turner attended the grand lodge of the Rebekahs of Oregon held during last week at Albany, representing the local lodge at that meeting.

W. E. Pointer of Lexington was up to Heppner on Tuesday and treated himself to a new Ford which he purchased from the Latourell Auto Co. Ed believes that a man who does not ride in a Ford these days is not in style.

A. M. Phelps, who represented Heppner Lodge No. 66, I. O. O. F. at the grand lodge sessions in Albany the past week, returned home on Sunday. He reports a fine session with a large attendance from all the lodges of the state.

From the Shoshoni, Wyo., Enterprise we note the following: Little Rita Maxine arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Woodard on May 14th, weighing 5 1/2 pounds. A grand baby shower was given in honor of the little newcomer.

W. E. Pointer and Easie Keers, both residents of Lexington, were married at Walla Walla on May 16th, 1921, quietly putting "one over" on their many friends of the home town. They will continue to make their home at Lexington.

Bright and early Monday morning the members of Lexington high school passed through Heppner on their way to the mountains where they were going for a day's outing and good time. They put in the day at the Hamilton ranch and report a delightful time.

Miss Mary Duran, one of the graduates of Lexington high school on Friday evening last, was awarded the scholarship in a school of higher learning of her choice. Miss Duran contemplates making use of the scholarship by attending Philomath College next year.

Attorney C. E. Woodson went over to Pendleton yesterday afternoon, where he appears before Judge Phelps today as one of the attorneys for the bond owners in the John Day Irrigation district in the suit of the N. P. R. Co. et al, against the directors of the district.

Alfred E. Anderson writes this paper from his new home at The Dalles and states that they like it well there. The cherry crop was cut short by the heavy April frosts but peaches and apricots will be a fine crop. Mr. Anderson is located on a small place out from The Dalles.

From the East Oregonian of Pendleton we note that M. S. Corrigan, a big sheep man of Heppner, is ill at St. Anthony's hospital. Mr. Corrigan has been ill at his Butter Creek home for several months past, and this would indicate that he is not improving. Mr. Corrigan is president of the First National Bank of Heppner.

Thos. Hoas, who formerly resided in this city but who left here a number of years ago, came up from Portland the last of the week for a short visit with old time friends here. He was accompanied by his daughter. Mr. Hoas notes with pleasure the many substantial improvements made in Heppner since he was here last.

Salem won the high school debate contest and the University of Oregon cup, defeating Eugene and Corvallis high schools in the finals at Eugene last week, with a unanimous decision in each case. In the other debate of the finals Corvallis defeated Eugene 2 to 1. Salem has won the contest at intervals of three years since 1914-1915.

Attorney F. A. McMenamin went to Pendleton yesterday, and today he is appearing before Judge Phelps there in the case of the Northern Pacific railroad company, et al, vs. John Day Irrigation district, the case coming up for argument on demurrer. We understand that other attorneys representing the district will be present from Portland.

We are publishing this week the notice of the June teachers examination, and special attention is called to the fact that there has been a change in the law, and that the examination will be held on the second Wednesday instead of the last Wednesday in June. Mrs. Shurtz, our superintendent, asks that teachers will make special note of this change and be governed accordingly.

Commissioner Bleakman came down from Hardman yesterday and accompanied Judge Campbell to Portland, where these members of the county court will attend the meeting of the state highway commission to be held in the city this week. Commissioner Bleakman will try hard to get some more state road money for Morrow county, and of course we hope that he will succeed.

On next Sunday at the Federated church will be the union Memorial services, conducted by Rev. E. L. Moore, pastor, assisted by Rev. W. O. Livingston of the Christian church. Sunday school will be at 9:45 as usual, Christian Endeavor in the evening at 7:00 and no evening services, the congregation joining in the union services at the Christian church. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 8:00.

J. W. Sibley and Mont Bundy, residents of South Springs, were in Heppner Saturday to attend to some business matters. Mr. Sibley expressed the opinion that some of the grain in his vicinity suffered from the dry and warm weather of the early part of last week, but the rains since have proved to be very beneficial. Crops have been growing very rank out that way and a few hot days had caused the grain to curl up some. The general outlook for crops in the South Springs district is splendid at present.

Geo. I. Burnside who came here a couple of weeks ago from Hardman, Ore., has leased the homestead of Mrs. C. E. Wilcox two and one-half miles southeast of Deaven and will take immediate possession. This is the homestead that belonged to the unfortunate Mr. Wilcox who was killed in an accident near the oil refinery—Coeles, Wyoming. Progress. Mr. Burnside and his son left here several weeks ago for Wyoming, expecting to get located on a tract of land in the Big Horn irrigation section. It is their intention to return to Hardman later to harvest their wheat crop.

Real Printing Service

SERVICE that is not based upon price alone, but upon the requirements and desires of each individual customer.

SERVICE that demands that each job be the best it is possible to give for the purpose it is supposed to serve.

SERVICE that is possible because it is backed up by a REAL printing plant—not a collection of worn-out, obsolete machinery and type—a plant completely equipped with modern machinery, each machine the best possible to procure for the work which it is intended to perform, and the latest faces of new type.

SERVICE at a price no greater than that of the ordinary brand of country printing. The price of G.-T. printing is based upon the Franklin Printing Price List, the one-price-everything-marked-in-plain-figures idea applied to printing, and insures a square deal to the customer as well as the printer. It is used in over 10,000 printing plants all over the United States.
