"NOW-A-DAYS"

says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind. He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

A MAN AND HIS BANK

A business man is known just as he is known at his bank. And he is known at his bank by the way in which he keeps his monetary affairs.

This, in turn, places an obligation upon the bank itself—that of cheerful and helpful service offered freely at all times to the responsible customer.

And that is the attitude this bank takes—to help the ambitious business man in the safe conduct of his business affairs. Call and ask us to explain this more in detail. It will involve no obligation on your part whatsoever. We have a distinct banking service to offer, and want to tell you face to face just what it is.

CARPENTIER IN FIRST WORKOUT

When you're going to fight, train in fighting clothes, is Georges Carpentier's method, as demonstrated at his Long Island, N. Y., training quarters, where the European champion is preparing for the title tussle with Jack Dempsey, at Jersey City, July 2. Georges had on a pair of real fight pants, from French army uniform, when he engaged in his first limbering up work, as shown here. He looks in tip-top condition now and says he is confident of lifting the championship crown from Dempsey's brow. The dog "Flip" shown here with Carpentier is a Belgian police dog which was with him before Verdun when he won highest French honors for bravery in action.

SMILE AWHILE

A FUTURE STAR.

"Have the Wisbys named their little daughter yet?"

"No, they are having some trouble."

"Why so?"

"They want to choose a name that will look well on the motion picture screen."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE VOICE OF LOVE.

"Oh, Henry!" exclaimed the wife, as she threw her arms rapturously round his neck. "I do love you so! Don't forget to leave me a couple of fives when you go to town this morning, will you dear?"

"And this," muttered Henry, as he gently disengaged himself from her fond embrace, "this is what I call being pressed for money."—Houston Post.

THE TAX ON INCOME.

Two sweet young things at the movies last night didn't seem to care for the picture, for they spent the entire time in conversation. One of them was inclined to complain about everything and everybody. The other was one of the 'explainers,' who can interpret everything. Here's a sample of her marvelous intellect: "I can't see why we have to pay these extra pennies every time we go to a movie," number one complained.

"Oh, you see, the government is responsible for that," number two explained. "You've heard of the income tax, haven't you?" Number one admitted that she knew there was such a thing.

"Well, that's it. Every time we come in a picture show we have to pay an income tax."—Kansas City Star.

TOO INQUISITIVE SON.

A most promising youth recently sought information from his father touching family affairs:

"Dad," said he, "do you like mother?"

"Why, what a question! Of course I do!"

"And she likes you?"

"I am certain she does."

"Did she ever say so?"

"Thousands of times, my son."

"Did she marry you because she loved you?"

Whereupon dad became angry, and said:

"See here, young man, you're getting entirely too personal. But I don't mind telling you that she did."

"Tell me this, dad: Was ma as near-sighted then as she is now?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

LONESOME FOR HIS WARES.

Mooney, the traveling salesman, was a bit depressed, for trade was bad. It was the end of another blank day and the discouraged drummer called on another merchant to display his samples.

"But I want nothing today," said the merchant.

"At least you will just examine my line of goods?" suggested Mooney.

The merchant thought not.

"In that case," suggested Mooney meekly, "will you permit me the use of your counter to look at them myself? I have not had the opportunity to do so for some time."—Philadelphia Ledger.

LAYING IT ON.

"Many stories are told," said Colonel Elliston P. Masters at a Fort Sheridan tea, "of French hotel extortions. But the worst I have heard was related to me by an army friend."

"He went to a hotel in Paris without making a bargain about rates and dined altogether at restaurants with friends."

"One evening, as he was starting out as usual, the proprietor accosted him in the hall and inquired:

"I hope you are dining with us tonight, monsieur?"

"No," my friend answered, "I have an engagement."

"The proprietor with a despairing gesture, exclaimed:

"It is an insult to the establishment, monsieur, never to dine here."

SHE KNOWS BASEBALL FROM A TO Z

"Not at all," my friend answered, and thought no more of the matter.

"But when he came to pay his hotel bill, although he had not eaten any meals there, he found this item:

"Twelve dinners—350 francs."

"But I took no dinners here," the guest protested to the proprietor.

YOU CAN'T DROWN YOUR SORROW ANY MORE; IT WILL HAVE TO SWIM.

"You remarked about that to me yourself."

"I know you didn't," was the reply. "Had you taken those dinners the price would only have been 250 francs."

"And what, in heaven's name, are the extra hundred francs for?"

"For the insult, monsieur, for the insult."—Detroit Free Press.

NEW PASTOR AT PRESIDENT'S CHURCH

A "he-man" pastor for our President's soul is the way friends of Rev. Dr. William S. Abernathy of Kansas City describe the appointment of the Westerner to the Calvary Baptist Church at Washington. President Harding attends there. Dr. Abernathy served in France during the war. He is 47 years old and has three sons.
