

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

WANTED—Girl to do light housework mornings. Inquire telephone office.—Adv.

Doctor Corder, who has been spending several weeks at Ritter hot springs, returned to Heppner this week.

Frank Lieutellen was in from his Rhea creek ranch on Friday and took out a load of sacks to care for his wheat crop.

FOR SALE—Winter barley seed, 1-1-2c per lb. Can be had at Tri-State warehouse or at ranch. JAR. HUNN, SIDE.—Adv.

Attorney F. A. McMenamin returned on Tuesday from a business trip to Portland. He was detained in the city for several days.

Rev. W. O. Livingstone and wife and daughter departed Tuesday morning for Seaside, Oregon, where they will enjoy the sea breezes for a couple of weeks.

Hanson Hughes departed yesterday for Portland for a vacation of ten days or two weeks. He expects to go on to Vancouver, B. C. before returning home.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kirk at their home near this city on Saturday, August 6th, and Dr. McMurdo reports mother and child getting along well.

Eugene Jones and family, of Spray, spent several days in Heppner the past week, visiting with relatives and friends here. Mr. Jones runs a stock ranch in the Spray country.

Mrs. Luther Huston and son, Maurice Edmonson departed Saturday morning for Madras, where they will visit a short time at the home of Mrs. Huston's eldest son, Frank Edmonson.

Jacob Henry Prad, formerly extensively engaged in wheat raising out in the blackhorse country, came up from Portland Sunday and will spend a short time here looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Briggs went over to Ritter the first of the week and expect to remain at the hot springs resort for several weeks, where by the use of this famous mineral water they will be relieved of bodily infirmities.

Ed Keller is now the proud possessor of a brand new Ford touring car, a present to him from his mother, who resides at Ione. It is a very substantial birthday gift which Mr. Keller appreciates more than words can express.

Mrs. Tom Johnson, of Enterprise, arrived at Heppner the first of the week for a visit with relatives here. Mrs. Johnson, who has been filling the position of county nurse of Wallowa county for the past two years, is now taking a short vacation. We understand that she has tendered her resignation and it has been accepted to take effect about November 1st.

Lime for agricultural purposes is as much in demand in the state of Washington as in Oregon. The Oregon lime plant, however, according to law, is not permitted to sell lime to anyone except citizens of the state.—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

Mr. Thomas H. Griffith and Miss Theima H. Chaney, young people of Ione, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Livingstone in this city on Saturday, August 6. Mrs. Livingstone officiated. They will make their home in Ione.

Jan. Bueside was down from Hardman on Saturday. He had finished his harvest, getting a yield of 30 bushels per acre of forty-fold wheat. He states that this is the largest yield per acre of wheat he has ever received since taking up farming in the county.

S. W. Spencer and wife and Vawter Crawford and wife spent the week-end over in the Ritter country, leaving Heppner Saturday morning. They report having had a fine time, going via Monument and Long Creek and returning over the Heppner-Ritter road.

Matt T. Hughes arrived home at the Willow creek ranch on Friday last. He was at Hot Lake for a number of weeks and while there underwent an operation for intestinal trouble. While he is yet pretty weak, he feels that he will regain his usual good health in due course of time.

Mrs. Carrie Vaughn has rented her residence to Prof. H. M. James, and the latter, with his family will take possession of the premises at once. Mrs. Vaughn is preparing to go to Cottage Grove, where she will live for a short time with her sister, Mrs. Doolittle.

and she may decide to locate elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner, who are farmers residing just north of Seaside, returned to Heppner Friday. Mr. Turner has finished the harvesting of his grain and it is now ready to be moved to the warehouse at Lexington. He used a combine this season and got along with his threshing in good shape.

The arrival of a little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boyer on Hinton creek some three weeks ago was not mentioned in these columns for some reason, and we are now offering our apologies to Miss Jane Marie for the oversight. The little lady weighed 7 pounds at the time of her arrival and is prospering well.

Frank Moore, accompanied by his father, W. G. Moore, of the Willow creek sawmill, made a visit to Walla Walla on Sunday, returning home on Monday.

On the way home they encountered quite a severe hail storm in Umatilla county but did not learn how much damage it did to standing grain in the fields over which it apparently passed.

While in Long Creek just a few minutes last Saturday, the editor of this paper attempted to call on Miss Grace Porter, editor of the Long Creek Herald, it being out first visit to that grant county city. We found the place of business closed, however, and were informed that Miss Porter had just taken unto herself a "trip" in the person of A. J. Tanner, and the newly-weds were off on their honeymoon. The marriage occurred on Sunday, July 31st.

C. H. Latourel and wife returned Sunday from Gresham. Mr. Latourel was down there during the past week, taking in the big tractor demonstration staged by the Fordson dealers, and states that it was a complete success. It was astonishing what could be done with the little tractor. Moving pictures were taken of the "stunts" and later Mr. Latourel hopes to be able to present them at the local movie theater.

THAT APPROXIMATELY $700,000,000 is required by the public utility companies of the country to provide service for an additional million inhabitants is one of the interesting facts brought forth in the recently published report of Senator William M. Calder's Committee on Reconstruction and Production.

After a searching inquiry into the various conditions bearing upon the housing situation and the country's industrial production, the Committee finds that the business of public utilities has outgrown their plant facilities owing to the inability of the companies to finance improvements and additions necessary to take care of increased service demands.

"Prior to the war," states the Committee, "it is estimated that the normal annual requirements of electric railway, gas, and electric light and power companies for extensions, betterments, and improvements was about $500,000,000, proportioned as follows: electric railways, $250,000,000; gas companies, $125,000,000; electric light and power companies, $125,000,000.

The Committee has informed that for four years not over 40 per cent of such betterments has been made, leaving an accumulation of about $1,200,000,000. If to this sum is added the $700,000,000 required alone for service to new residential buildings held in abeyance, a total of approximately $2,000,000,000 seems necessary for the public utility program in the immediate future.

"The question of placing these businesses on a sound financial basis in order that credit may flow to them is the same question which confronts steam railroads and housing, but in the case of public utilities the situation is more difficult because there is no central body as now provided in the case of steam railroads which might adjust rates in proper relation to operating costs and capital investment. The utilities likewise suffer in their effort to secure new capital for necessary extensions of service by the almost insurmountable difficulty of having to compete for such capital with municipal, state and similar tax-exempt securities. Until these problems are solved the public should recognize this underlying reason for much of the faulty service and for the failure to provide the additional facilities urgently demanded to meet community needs."—PAID ADV.
