Indicted on Nine Counts.

Non-Partisan League organizers are trying to revive their falling fortunes in western states in spite of this indictment: "Taxes have been tripled in North Dakota by league laws."

We Sure Are Pretty Easy Sometimes.

We Americans are a clever lot—sometimes. We can out-finance, out-invent, out-fight and out-brag anything on two legs, or four legs—or six legs for that matter. But once in awhile we are awfully easy.

Disarm the Kids.

The Oregon Humane Society believes it would be a good thing to disarm the children by extending humane education.

Don't Sell Your Liberty Bonds.

When the patriotic editor men of the country were telling their readers three and four years ago that the American government's Liberty and Victory bonds were as good as gold—and perhaps better—they believed what they wrote.

Homey Philosophy for 1921.

The cynic has said that "All men are cowards." As we hear men lie, and watch their conduct to others, and listen to their barren explanations for the commission of unseemly acts, we feel that the cynic is correct to a T.

Teaching Children to Save.

What better incentive can be given a child to learn the advantages of Thrift than for the father or mother to start an account for the youngster in the Postal Savings?

Don't Sell Your Liberty Bonds.

Presently there will be going about certain smooth gents with fat rolls offering you a dollar or two above market price for your bonds. What are they going to do with them? Keep them, of course, because they know it will be only a very few years until Uncle Sam's gilt-edged bonds, paying higher than savings bank interest will every one of them sell in the market at well above $100 apiece.
