

Heppner Hi Life

Local operators have recently acquired the latest knowledge of many things, a month ago. Consequently, he gives daily concerts from 4:00 to 4:15 in the afternoon of Mr. Heppner. His program consists of "There's No Place Like Home," "Alice, Where Art Thou?" and a few others of "Old Black Joe." We are hoping for his rapid improvement and it may be that he will be able to take a seat with the orchestra in the near future. (Contributed.)

The Latest Out!

Anyone daring to view the very latest model of a car came to the school house December 15th, the night of the high school play, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." One of the main events of the evening will be the exhibition of a brand new type of automobile, exceeding any of Henry Ford's most recent production. Be sure and come. You can't afford to miss it!

Characteristic Sayings From the Play.
Aunt Mary: "Not 'Madam.' I'm not married and it doesn't matter me one bit to be took to be."

Jack: "Well, I guess I'll all come out in the wash, but I'm duced tired of being the soap."

Betty: "Nobody can get married on ten dollars a week. You can't get home from a theatre on that."

Bob: "I never could tie a bow off of my Oxford."

Mitchell: "If fate would only lead instead of chasing me with a tomahawk."

Cleaver: "The cake with come, the cake with come."

Mr. Stebbins: "And the suit is for fifteen thousand dollars."

Joshua: "Then why don't you give me my breakfast?"

James: "Well, yes, Miss—I mean Madam—I mean Miss—"

Lucinda: "I ain't got a mind to say anything!"

The Girl from Kalamazoo: "You don't suppose any girl would put herself in my place if she didn't have to—do you?"

Daisy Mullins: "You see, I've had thirteen children and the cradle is clean worn out."

Eva: "Ah—er—yes—well—ah—"

We will give a prize to anyone who can get into more scrapes than Jack, and who can get out of them as easily. However, we feel certain that we will not have to pay our debt, as Jack's ability along this line is very unusual.

The Latin A class has challenged the Caesar class to a vocabulary contest. The event promises to be a lively one as both classes are evenly matched.
