BEST FOR THE WEARY.
"Come onto me all ye this labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—Matt. 11:28.

WANTED—To work by hour, ironing, plain sewing and house cleaning, phone 732.

John W. Heard, principal of Heppner high school, is in Portland this week attending the meeting of the State Teachers association.

J. R. Olden and wife of Rhea creek, were visitors in this city on Tuesday, coming in to attend the funeral of their late neighbor, Ora E. Adkins.

W. C. Howard, president of Columbia College at Milton, came down to attend the funeral of Ora E. Adkins. He returned home on Wednesday.

Prof. and Mrs. Howard M. James were passengers for Portland Tuesday, going down to the city to attend the meeting of the State Teachers association.

George Zink of Ione made final proof on his homestead before Clerk Waters in this city yesterday, his witnesses being Bert Johnson and Werner Rietmann, near neighbors.

The Misses Margaret and Cora Mae Crawford went to Pendleton on Monday, where they spent the week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooley. Mrs. Cooley is an aunt of the young ladies.

Mrs. R. W. Turner, accompanied by her daughter, Anita, and son, John, departed on Monday morning for Baker to spend the balance of the week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loy M. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Huston of Eight Mile visited in this city on Tuesday. Mr. Huston states that his section is covered with about five inches of snow, which he believes is fairly good protection to wheat, at least so long as the weather gets no colder than at present.

Charles Wright, the new proprietor of the Hotel Ione, took possession of the property last Wednesday. Mr. Wright is an experienced hotel man and is now making a survey of the place with a view of having needed changes and improvements made.—Ione Independent.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church at Lexington is having part in the Near East relief work. On Sunday, December 18, they loaded a ship for Armenian relief and when it was filled it was found to contain 440 lbs. This will furnish several barrels of flour for the hungry children.

In a short letter received from Loy M. Turner, who is water master of district No. 3 of the state of Oregon, and located at Baker, he states that they enjoyed a very merry Christmas. The weather at Baker was mild and there was about three inches of snow on the ground. To all Heppner friends he sends greetings of the season.

Henry Kummerland and wife of Denver, Colorado, are visiting at the home of Wm. Kummerland and family of near this city. They arrived here a little over a week ago and expect to remain for sometime. He is a brother of Wm. Kummerland and this is the first meeting in 41 years and the visit is a joyous one, indeed. Mr. Kummerland is engaged in business in Denver, in which city he has resided for many years.

The nomination of Miss Ruby O. Engelman to be postmaster at Ione, vice Mrs. Earl Blake, resigned, was sent to the Senate last Monday by President Harding. Miss Engelman is one of the most popular young ladies in Ione, and her appointment will give universal satisfaction. It will probably be two or three weeks before formalities are completed and she assumes charge of the office.—Ione Independent.

The public school closed yesterday for the Christmas vacation of 2 weeks, which the teachers are preparing to spend elsewhere. Miss Patton goes to Forest Grove, Miss Elgler to Spokane, Miss Schell to Portland, Miss Musgrave to her home on Rhea creek and Mr. Klipple to Portland. Prof. Curfman will leave Monday for Portland to attend a meeting of the State Teachers association, of which he is an official.—Ione Independent.

We owe an apology to a good friend at Lexington who sent us up some items of interest, along with some announcements that should have appeared in our last issue. The letter was inadvertently mislaid and not discovered until after the paper had gone to press and was more than half printed. We are sorry, but these things will happen sometimes, even in well regulated print shops, and we trust that our good friend will find it in his heart to forgive us.

C. R. Gunzel, cashier of the Bank of Ione, was a pleasant caller at this office while in the city on business yesterday. Mr. Gunzel has had charge of the bank there for the past three months taking the place formerly occupied by Guy Weaver. He is a very pleasant gentleman and hopes to become better acquainted with the Heppner people as time goes on. He was accompanied by Chas. Allinger, who is doing some construction work for the bank and came to Heppner to assist in ordering some necessary material.

This office acknowledges the receipt of a short communication this week from our old friend, W. E. Severance, residing at Banks, Oregon. Mr. Severance was formerly engaged in agricultural pursuits in this county and lived at Hardman. He mentions the fact that his part of Oregon is having a touch of real winter, with 2 inches of snow covering the ground and the mercury bobbing around the freezing point and as much as 16 below. Pretty cold weather for that part of the Willamette valley, and not much different from what we in this section have been having for the past couple of weeks.

The Christmas cantata, "The Night Before Christmas," was well given at the Christian church on Saturday evening before a well filled house. The preparation of this cantata was in the hands of Mrs. Frank Turner, Mrs. E. R. Huston and Mrs. Delbert Clabough, and the manner in which the entertainment was presented proves them to be very capable in this line. Following the cantata, a treat to the Sunday school was distributed and the children were all made happy. A donation to Near East relief was made at this time, which was added to what the Sunday school contributed on Sunday morning and made a grand total of the voluntary offering nearly $55.

Boardman Coming Up Rapidly

Boardman is coming up quite rapidly. She now has a new industry which will be of great benefit to the farmers of the project in a short while. We refer to the cheese factory which is built on the Pater place. A nice little house has been built to hold the machinery and it is well worth any person's time to make a visit there and see just of the cheese in made. One has no idea as to the amount of work in making cheese until he goes thru a piece of this sort. The milk is put in a large vat and heated, rest put in and stirred frequently with some peculiar looking things called cheese knives. When removed the cheese is poured into moulds and placed on a hurlap covered table. These moulds are turned frequently so that all the whey will drain off. Following this they are taken to the collar and then put on racks. Here they stay for a long time being washed and rubbed each day to cure them then put aside to cure longer before they are sold. Nick Faler is the cheesemaker. Good luck to the industry and may it grow and prosper.—Boardman Mirror.

Cold weather Lubrication

When the cold snap comes it is important that you use lubricating oil having a low cold test. Zerolene No. 1, No. 3 and No. 5 are low cold test oils. They remain fluid and feed properly even when the temperature is below freezing.

Poor cold test oils congeal at freezing temperatures. This causes hard starting with excessive drain on your storage battery. When congealed, the oil cannot be splashed or pumped to the bearing surfaces in sufficient quantities, and there will be lack of lubrication until the oil has been warmed by the heat of the engine. During this time there will be loss of power and poor acceleration. Excessive wear or even burned bearings and scored cylinders may result.

Drain your crankcase and fill with Zerolene as recommended for winter use in the Zerolene Correct Lubrication Chart and solve your cold weather lubrication problems.

For sale by dealers everywhere and at our stations.
