SOPHOMORE PARTY.

The Sophomore class gave a most enjoyable party at the schoolhouse January 6, with Miss Norris, their class advisor, as chaperon. Things went along beautifully until their thoughts turned toward the kitchen. Several of the Sophs went downstairs to get the cats when, "lo and behold" they were gone! The men of the party started out in search of them but it was so late when they returned with the spoils that they waited until the night after and held another party at which they partook of the stolen cats.

NEWS ITEMS.

The P. T. A. meeting last Tuesday afternoon was attended by a large crowd of parents and teachers. Besides the program the regular monthly business was carried on. The teachers would like to see more parents out to these monthly meetings.

The first two days of the week were spent in reviewing for the semester's exams. We noticed more attention was paid in classes in the hope that three months' work would soak in at the last few minutes with a little extra midnight oil.

The Latin classes with the help of some of the former Latin students are going to present a play to the student body in about two weeks. The play is a dramatization of a Roman school.

Last week the afternoon first-year sewing class was shown all the machine attachments and their uses by a "Singer" agent. Many of the girls resolved to buy those attachments which darned, basted, and put bias facing on scallops.

Both first-hour classes are progressing nicely with their middies.

The second-year class has been planning wardrobes on a hundred dollars a year. They also made their own wardrobe list which in most cases was more than one hundred dollars for a year.

The large purple and gold pennant bearing the word "Attendance" which now adorns the door of the fourth-grade room has attracted the attention of the whole school. The per cent of attendance during the month of December for that room was 99.6. The first and second-grade room had the lowest which was 94 per cent. Tardy marks for the whole school numbered thirteen, and the attendance was 97.4 per cent.

Students beware! Touch not the pencil, paper or eraser that doesn't belong to you. The executive council met last Friday and decided that persons caught borrowing (for life) pencils, erasers, etc., will have to appear before the council, and are liable to suspension from school for a week. This shows that the school is trying to prove its honesty and make the student body one to be trusted.

Remark heard from faculty member: "I never get any real work from my classes until the two days before exams."

RODENTS MUST BE CONTROLLED.
Pursuant to authority given in Chapter 127 of the 1919 Session laws of the State of Oregon, the Morrow County Court has instructed the County Agent to serve notice to the parties owning, leasing, possessing, or having charge of or dominion over land infested with jack rabbits, that steps must be taken immediately to exterminate the same under supervision of the County Agent.

Procedure will be as follows:
1. Poison will be furnished as long as funds voted for that purpose are available.

2. Each individual will be required to provide proper bait, treat, put same out on lands he owns or controls, which are infested with rabbits.

3. Poison will be placed in the hands of the committeemen in areas that are infested from whom it can be secured. It is also available at the office of the County Agent.

4. Prepare poison baits as follows: Dissolve one ounce sulphate strychnine in one gallon of boiling water and sprinkle on 10 to 12 pounds of alfalfa leaves, chopped alfalfa, last cutting of alfalfa hay, wheat or rye heads, or short cuttings. Stir the bait constantly so that all will become thoroughly dampened.

5. Put out in the trails in that canyon where the rabbits are congregating while sheep are off the range. When the sheep are on the range the pens can be used. These must be prebaited however before putting out the poison, to get the rabbits accustomed to feeding there, otherwise the pens are absolutely valueless and the poison put in them practically wasted.

6. In the wheat growing sections the wheat headings are much more effective than any other bait. Alfalfa is best in alfalfa growing sections.

7. Poison put out by parties on land which they own or control need not endanger stock which will later be pastured on that range, providing it is scattered properly. Don't pile it up. Put out a few straws or heads in a place. If put out in piles you can take up what is left before stock are turned out. The strychnine sulphate is soluble in water and is washed off into the ground with the rain that usually comes about the time the snow leaves, providing the bait is not put out in piles.

8. In places where drives can be organized successfully of other means put into effect for immediate control of the pest, they can be substituted for poison.

9. The law provides that every man shall proceed to act promptly and that this announcement published in the newspapers gives sufficient notice. The law also provides that unless the holdings are rid of the pest, that the Court shall hire that work done and the expense will be assessed to the individual and collected in the manner taxes are collected. The law is not designed to and will not work hardships on any man who attempts to comply with its provisions. Because of the great damage done by these rodents, the Court deem it imperative that concerted action be taken and it is expected that every individual owning or occupying land infested with jack rabbits will comply promptly to the end that these rodents may be controlled and exterminated while conditions are favorable.

Ground squirrels will also come under the provision of this act and action expected in season.

This Wonder
Corn

Almost everybody likes sweet corn and when the right seed is selected and the right variety settled on, it is a comparatively easy matter for the man or woman with a bit of ground to satisfy their needs from their own gardens. A book that deals most helpfully with the selection of varieties has just recently been published and should be obtained by every one interested in corn.

The new book referred to is Lilly's 1922 Seed Annual. Each year Lilly's—Western America's Greatest Seed House—has been issuing an annual dealing with vegetable and flower seeds, etc., and as this firm has been carrying on a successful and growing business for 25 years or more here in the Northwest, the information it has to give today is worth much to gardeners.

Because of the distinctive climatic conditions in the Pacific Northwest, corn has to be selected for planting with great care and special pains must be taken with it if one expects to get a good yield. For years Lilly's have studied the problem of growing the best varieties of corn for this climate and their suggestions are most valuable.

Roasting-ears are no longer a problem to the man equipped with this information because big, juicy ears can be raised in almost all parts of this region if proper care is taken in choosing the right varieties of seed and planting it in soil suitably prepared.

The new Annual tells fully about the best varieties of corn and how to cultivate them for best results. It also gives a great deal of reliable information about practically every other vegetable that can be produced here advantageously. Sections are devoted to flower seeds and cultivation, fertilizers, sprays, poultry and bee supplies, etc.

All together this new annual is a book that every person who gardens ought to have. You can get a copy free from your dealer, or by writing to The Chas. H. Lilly Co., Seattle, Portland, or Yakima.
