

Local Happenings

WANTED—By competent young woman, housework by day or hour, or will care for children. Phone 763.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones departed for Portland Tuesday morning and expect to spend a couple of weeks visiting in the city.

PIANO TUITION—Mrs. Bessie Bruce Gibb has resumed teaching and will be pleased to meet her pupils, and prospective pupils at the Wattenburger house. 2t.

I will have several small dressed hogs for sale about January 16 and 20 at 15c per pound, Heppner delivery. Write or phone B. H. Peck.—Advertisement.

Dennis F. Knaughton, a young attorney from Portland, has accepted a place in the office of F. A. McMennamin in this city, and expects to remain in Heppner indefinitely.

A small consignment of government seeds was received at this office this week for distribution. We shall be glad to pass them out to those who will make good use of them.

STRAYED—From Thorn creek one red and white and one roan steer—long yearlings, branded BHP on left hip, 1/2 crop from each ear. Finder notify B. H. Peck, Heppner. 2

APPLES—$1 AND LESS: I am offering cooking and eating apples at $1.00 f. o. b. Hood River, with a discount of 5% on orders of 10 boxes or more. Terms, cash with order. B. L. CLARK, R. 1, Box 88, Hood River, Ore.—Advertisement.

H.C. Woods left for Boise, Idaho, last Thursday to attend the annual convention of the solicitors of the Idaho Life Insurance company. Mrs. Woods and daughter accompanied him as far as Pendleton, where they will visit while he is away.—Ione Independent.

R. E. Crego, local manager for the telephone company, returned home Monday evening from Portland. He was below on business connected with the company. Mrs. Crego and daughter, who went down with him, are remaining at The Dalles for a visit with her people.

Miss Odile Groshen returned home on Thursday evening from her vacation of a month. She visited for a couple of weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. Vinton at Coquille, Oregon, and then with friends at Eugene and Portland, enjoying a very pleasant holiday.

Frank Gilliam went to Portland the last of the week and expects to spend several weeks of a vacation in the city. He will attend several high muck-a-mucks of the Masonic order while away and also take in the hardware dealers convention which will gather there during the coming week.

A district convention of the Rebekahs will be held in this city on Saturday. State President, Mrs. Frank Whetstone of Pendleton, will be present, and it is expected that there will be a large number of members of the order from other points in the district present to participate in the deliberations.

Wm. Hendrix underwent an operation at the office of Dr. McMurdo Monday for the removal of a tumor on his shoulder that had been causing him much trouble for a year past. The operation was done up promptly, a number of stitches being taken to draw the wound together, and Mr. Hendrix was able to go on out home in the afternoon.

Mrs. Millie McRoberts arrived from Portland on Saturday to make a visit with her children and to be with her father, Jess Kirk, who has been quite ill as a result of a paralytic stroke, and is confined at the home of his son, Will Kirk, at Eight Mile. Mrs. J. C. Dodson, Mr. Kirk's sister, is also here from Joseph, visiting with her brother and other relatives.

I. F. Bedsaul was down from Hardman on Monday. Weather was nice up that way when he left home, but he encountered a pretty stiff snow storm when he reached Heppner Flat. During the past week or more the immediate Heppner country has been having heavy fog while out Hardman way they have been enjoying much warmer weather with bright sunshine each day.

Uncle Billy Wilson returned home Sunday evening from Portland, feeling much improved in health. For the past two months Mr. Wilson has been in a hospital at Portland where he underwent an operation and received medical treatment, and we are glad to state that the results have been very beneficial. He was accompanied by his son, Jimmie, who was with him during the time he was in Portland.

While splitting wood at his ranch home last Wednesday evening Chas. McElligott was hit in the eye by a flying stick of wood and so badly injured that he was brought to Ione the same night for medical attention. Dr. Walker treated the injury and allayed the patient's suffering to some extent. While the doctor does not think any permanent injury was sustained it will be some time before the eye is in good working condition again.—Ione Independent.

CECIL ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. A. Henriksen of Willow Creek ranch were calling on their Cecil friends on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Logan of Mountview ranch were calling on their Cecil friends on Sunday.

W. E. Ahalt, who works for Minor & Krebs, made a short visit to the county seat during the week.

George M. Melton arrived in Cecil from Pilot Rock on Monday and is visiting his brother Ed at Rockcliffe for a few days.

Chas. Sharte and son made a short stay in Cecil on Tuesday on their way from Arlington to their home at the county seat.

Mrs. Olive Logan returned to the home of her brother, Leon, on Saturday, after visiting with her mother in Portland for a few days.

Messrs. C. A. Minor and Bob Thompson of Heppner, accompanied by J. Simas of Monument, were business men in Cecil on Tuesday.

Frank Haisfert, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Mary Halterty, and Miss Grace Palmer, all of Shady Dell, spent Sunday visiting friends near Ione.

Several fine lambs have arrived at the Poplar Grove during the last week. Minor & Krebs are just beginning their busy season among the lambs at their place near Cecil.

Mrs. Hazel Logan and children, who have been visiting friends in Four Mile, left on Sunday for Ione, accompanied by Leon Logan, who is also a student of Ione high school.

Warren Stender arrived on the local Monday and will assist at Seldomsen ranch during the illness of his brother, Dr. Walker of Ione expects to have Roy at work in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Perry of Ewing were doing business in Cecil on Wednesday. Our sympathies are extended to Mrs. Perry, whose mother passed away at Silverton during the week.

A new arrival made its appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Logan at Cecil. A fine bouncing boy weighing ten pounds arrived on Jan. 13th. Dr. Walker of Ione was in attendance.

Joseph Miller, who farmed some of the hill land around Cecil for many years and left this vicinity a few years ago to take up his home with his son, R. C. Miller at Grandview, Wash., passed away on December 27th, 1921, at the age of 89 years. Sympathies are extended to his bereaved relatives.

The many friends of Russell Shaw, nephew of Mrs. Jack Hwend, who spent several years around Cecil, extended their heartiest congratulations to him on his recent marriage at St. Barnabas church, Toronto, Canada, to Miss Zenda D. Wilson of Toronto. May their pathway be strewn with peace and plenty.

Dotheboys Hill, the home of J. E. Crabtree was kept lively on Tuesday during the election of one director for the John Day Irrigation district. We believe C. A. Minor was the successful party but the why and wherefores of the Mayor, his deputy and Constable John were so mixed up with rabbit drives, tailless rabbits, doughnuts and coffee, etc. that a rational report of the meeting was impossible.

Five Weary Willies or Tired Tims (we have not found out which) were seen about ten miles above Cecil at midnight on a certain night last week pushing an Essex car along the highway and singing at the highest pitch "Water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink," and then for a change "Roll the Old Charlott Along." Their vocal chords gave out just before reaching their garage at Cecil, so they were allowed to retire in peace, as Cecil was quietly slumbering at the time.

Pitiful tales of rabbit tails were told by Cecil rabbits during the big rabbit hunt between the "Shooting Fools," with Dwight Misher as captain and the "Go-Get-'Em Hounds," with Dr. Walker of Ione as captain. The most pathetic one was where Mother Bunnie told her numerous offspring to beware of their tails and make for home every time they scented a Misher, for at all costs he had issued an order that every rabbit he cast his eye on must lose its tail, if not its life. Bunnie also related that the "Shooting Fools" were sure tail trimmers, if not shooters to kill and continued to speak in terms of kindness of the "Go-Get-'Em Hounds" whose motto is a true aim and sure death and urged her followers to stick to the old adage "of two evils choose the least," and we know she referred to the "Go-Get-'Em Hounds."

Do You Fire Your Doctor When You Get Deathly Sick?
Of course not! You hire a few more and do your best to obtain the most expert talent available to cure your ailment.
Why, then, when your business gets sick, do you fire the best doctor you can possibly use to overcome the malady—DR. ADVERTISING?
The famous Philadelphia and New York merchant, John Wanamaker, has said a great many times and in a number of ways, "When business is poor, that is the time to increase advertising, and to this policy we owe a large measure of our success." What applies to the merchandising business in the large centers applies with equal force to business in the smaller communities.
Business in Heppner is not the best, but it is improving. It can be made a great deal better if business would assume a more optimistic attitude, and push itself forward vigorously and confidently. Advertising will go a long way toward curing the ills that business is suffering from, and a liberal application will make a wonderful difference.
TRY IT!
THE GAZETTE-TIMES is prepared to help you in every way. Our phone number is 882.
